Part B: Eligibility

WAC 388-27-0135 What are the eligibility criteria for the adoption support program? For a child to be eligible for participation in the adoption support program, the department must first determine that adoption is the most appropriate plan for the child. If the department determines that adoption is in the child's best interest, the child must:

(1) Be less than eighteen years old when the department and the adoptive parents sign the adoption support agreement;

(2) Be legally free for adoption;

(3) Have a "special needs" factor or condition according to the definition in this rule (see WAC 388-27-0140); and

(4) Meet at least one of the following criteria:

(a) Is in state-funded foster care or child caring institution or was determined by the department to be eligible for and likely to be so placed (For a child to be considered "eligible for and likely to be placed in foster care" the department must have opened a case and determined that removal from the home was in the child's best interest.); or

(b) Is eligible for federally funded adoption assistance as defined in Title IV-E of the Social Security Act, the Code of Federal Regulations, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services establishing guidelines for states to use in determining a child's eligibility for Title IV-E adoption assistance.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.109, 74.13.031, 2002 c 371 § 202(8), 42 U.S.C. 671-675. 04-06-024, § 388-27-0135, filed 2/23/04, effective 3/25/04. Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-045, § 388-27-0135, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-27-0140 What constitutes a "special needs"? To be considered a child with special needs the following three statements must be true:

(1) One or more of the following factors or conditions must exist:

(a) The child is of a minority ethnic background;

(2005 Ed.)

(b) The child is six years of age or older at the time of application for adoption support;

(c) The child is a member of a sibling group of three or more or of a sibling group in which one or more siblings meets the definition of special needs;

(d) The child is diagnosed with a physical, mental, developmental, cognitive or emotional disability; or

(e) The child is at risk for a diagnosis of a physical, mental, developmental, cognitive or emotional disability due to prenatal exposure to toxins, a history of serious abuse or neglect, or genetic history.

(2) The state has determined that the child cannot or should not be returned to the home of the biological parent; and

(3) The department or child placing agency that placed the child for adoption must document that except where it would be against the best interests of the child the department or child placing agency had made a reasonable but unsuccessful effort to place the child for adoption without adoption support.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-045, § 388-27-0140, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-27-0145 What constitutes a reasonable effort to place a child for adoption without adoption support? Reasonable effort to place a child without adoption support includes:

(1) A child registered for three months with the Washington adoption resource exchange (WARE) without finding an adoptive family; or

(3) A child for whom the placing agency's selected prospective adoptive family is unable to adopt the child without assistance from the adoption support program.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-045, § 388-27-0145, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-27-0150 Under what circumstances would it be against the best interest of the child to search for a family that could adopt the child without adoption support? Searching for a family that could adopt the child without adoption support is against the best interest of the child when:

(1) A foster parent desires to adopt a child who:

(a) Has been in the foster parent's home for six months or more before that child becomes legally free for adoption; and

(b) The child has close emotional ties to the current foster parent which, if severed, may cause emotional damage to the child; and

(c) The foster parent is identified as the adoptive parent of choice by the department or agency staff having responsibility for the child (RCW 26.33.190 and 74.13.109(4)); or

(2) The adoptive parent is a relative of specified degree as defined in RCW 74.15.020 (4)(a) and has an approved adoptive home study per RCW 26.33.109 and 74.13.109(4).

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-045, § 388-27-0150, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-27-0155 Are there other factors affecting a child's eligibility for adoption support? (1) A child is not eligible for adoption support program services and payments if the adopting parent is the birth parent or stepparent of the child.

(2) The department must not use the adoptive parents' income as a basis for determining the child's eligibility for the adoption support program, however, the department must consider income and other financial circumstances of the adopting family as one factor in determining the amount of any adoption support cash payments to be made. (See WAC 388-27-0230.)

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.109, 74.13.031, 2002 c 371 § 202(8), 42 U.S.C. 671-675. 04-06-024, § 388-27-0155, filed 2/23/04, effective 3/25/04. Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-045, § 388-27-0155, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

(a) Register the child with the adoption support program; and

It must also include copies of medical and/or therapist reports that document the child's physical, mental, developmental, cognitive or emotional disability or risk of any such disability.

(2) If the applicant is requesting a cash payment, the applicant and the department must mutually determine both the type and amount according to the requirements of WAC 388-27-0230.

WAC 388-27-0180 If the adoptive family resides in or moves to another state, how is the child's participation in the adoption support services affected? If the adoptive family resides in or moves to another state the child's participation in the adoption support program is affected as follows:

(1) Social services (Title XX) become the responsibility of the new state of residence.

(2) Medical benefits (Title XIX Medicaid) remain the responsibility of Washington state if the child is not eligible for federal Title IV-E adoption assistance. However, Washington state is no longer responsible if the child becomes eligible for the resident state's Title XIX program through the Interstate Compact on Adoption and medical assistance or other eligibility factors.

(3) Title XIX Medicaid benefits become the responsibility of the resident state if the child receives Title IV-E adoption assistance.

(4) Medicaid benefits included in Washington state's Medicaid plan, but not included in the resident state's plan, must remain the responsibility of Washington state and subject to Washington state plan limits.

(5) Washington state remains responsible for any cash payments made to the adoptive parent(s) on behalf of the child or any non-Medicaid counseling that has been preauthorized by the adoption support program per WAC 388-27-0245.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031, 01-08-045, § 388-27-0180, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-27-0185 When does the adoption support agreement become effective? (1) Unless otherwise stated in the adoption support agreement, an adoption support agreement takes effect on the first day of the month following the month in which the court finalizes the adoption.

(2) If the child to be adopted needs support benefits prior to finalization, the assigned regional adoption support program manager may arrange an early effective date. To be eligible for an early effective date, the applicant must:

(a) Have an adoption support agreement signed by all parties;

(b) Sign the child's medical and family background report (DSHS 13-041) and a statement of the applicant's intention to adopt; and

(c) Have the department's designee sign "an exception to policy" statement.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031, 01-08-045, § 388-27-0185, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-27-0190 If the department implements adoption support services prior to the adoption, may the adoptive parent(s) continue to receive department-funded foster care payments while also receiving adoption support payments? (1) The adoptive parent(s) may not continue to receive department-funded foster care payments for a child while also receiving adoption support payments for the same child.

(2) If the adoptive parent(s) receives department-funded foster care for the child to be adopted, the department's social worker assigned to the child must terminate that coverage on the last day of the month preceding the month in which the adoption support becomes effective.

(3) Foster care payments are paid after the month of service. Adoption Support payments are paid prior to the month.

(4) The adoptive parent(s) may not receive foster care payments and adoption support cash payments for the same child for the same month.

(5) If the adoptive parent is adopting a relative child and has been receiving a nonneedy relative grant the adoptive parent must notify the community services office financial services specialist that the adoption has been finalized. The adoptive parent may not receive both the grant and adoption support payments for the same month for the same child.

WAC 388-27-0195 May the adoptive parent(s) change the benefits contained in the adoption support program? The adoptive parent may submit a written request asking that the department renegotiate the benefits offered in the adoption support agreement whenever either the family's economic circumstances or the condition of the child changes.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.109, 74.13.031, 2002 c 371 § 202(8), 42 U.S.C. 671-675. 04-06-024, § 388-27-0195, filed 2/23/04, effective 3/25/04. Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-045, § 388-27-0195, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-27-0200 When may the department modify the terms of the adoption support agreement? The department's adoption support program may modify the terms of an adoption support agreement:

- (1) At the request of the adoptive parent(s);
- (2) When specific circumstances warrant renegotiation and adjustment of monthly cash payment as agreed to by the adoptive parents and the department;
- (3) When the department loses contact with the adoptive parent(s);
- (4) When the child is placed outside of the adoptive parents' home at department expense;
- (5) If the adoptive parent is no longer providing for the child's daily care and living expenses; or
- (6) If the adoptive parent fails to notify the department's adoption support program within thirty days of a change of circumstance which affects the adopted child's continuing eligibility for adoption support program cash payments or services.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.109, 74.13.031, 2002 c 371 § 202(8), 42 U.S.C. 671-675. 04-06-024, § 388-27-0200, filed 2/23/04, effective 3/25/04. Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-045, § 388-27-0200, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-27-0205 Does the adoptive parent need to let the department know if the family's circumstances change? The adoptive parent must inform the department's adoption support program of circumstances that might make the parent and the adoptive child either ineligible for adoption assistance payments or benefits or eligible for adoption assistance payments or benefits in different amounts. Such changes include but are not limited to:

- (1) A significant change in the child's condition;
- (2) A change in the marital status of the adoptive parent(s);
- (3) A change in the legal or physical custody of the child; or

WAC 388-27-0210 Under what circumstances would the adoption support agreement be terminated? The adoption support agreement is terminated according to the terms of the agreement or if any one of the following events occurs:

(1) The child reaches eighteen years of age; (if a child is at least eighteen but less than twenty-one years old and is a full-time high school student or working full time toward the completion of a GED (high school equivalency) certificate and continues to receive financial support from the adoptive parent(s), the department may extend the terms of the adoption support agreement until the child completes high school or achieves a GED. Under no circumstances may the department extend the agreement beyond the child's twenty first birthday.) Adoption support benefits will automatically stop on the child's eighteenth birthday unless the parent(s) requests continuation per this rule and have provided documentation of the child's continuation in school. To prevent disruption in services the parent should contact the adoption support program at least ninety days prior to the child's eighteenth birthday if continued services are to be requested.

(2) The adoptive parents no longer have legal responsibility for the child;

(3) The adoptive parents are no longer providing financial support for the child;

(4) The child dies; or

(5) The adoptive parents die. (A child who met federal Title IV-E eligibility criteria for adoption assistance will be eligible for adoption assistance in a subsequent adoption.)

Part E: Services

WAC 388-27-0215 What benefits may the adoptive parent or child receive from the adoption support program? The adoption support program may provide one or more of the following benefits:

(1) Reimbursement for nonrecurring adoption finalization costs;

(2) Cash payments;

(3) Payment for counseling services as preauthorized (see WAC 388-27-0255 for conditions and terms); or

(4) Medical services through the department's Medicaid program.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.109, 74.13.031, 2002 c 371 § 202(8), 42 U.S.C. 671-675. 04-06-024, § 388-27-0215, filed 2/23/04, effective 3/25/04. Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-045, § 388-27-0215, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-27-0220 What factors affect the amount of adoption support benefits a child receives? The department bases the amount of support it provides on the child's needs and the family's circumstances, but limits the cash payment to an amount that does not exceed the foster care maintenance rate the child would receive if the child was in a foster family home. Specific circumstances as agreed to by the adoptive parent and the department in the agreement, may warrant future renegotiation and adjustment of the payment determined in an assessment of the child.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.109, 74.13.031, 2002 c 371 § 202(8), 42 U.S.C. 671-675, 04-06-024, § 388-27-0220, filed 2/23/04, effective 3/25/04. Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031, 01-08-045, § 388-27-0220, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-27-0230 How does the department evaluate a request for adoption support monthly cash payments? (1) The amount of the adoption support monthly cash payment is determined through the discussion and negotiation process between the adoptive parents and representatives of the department based upon the needs of the child and the circumstances of the family. The payment that is agreed upon should combine with the parents' resources to cover the ordinary and special needs of the child projected over an extended period of time. Anticipation and discussion of these needs are part of the negotiation of the amount of the adoption assistance payment.

(2) Family circumstances to be considered include:

- (a) Size, including the adopted child;
- (b) Normal living expenses, including education and childcare expenses;
- (c) Exceptional circumstances of any family member;
- (d) Income;
- (e) Resources and savings plans;
- (f) Medical care and hospitalization needs;
- (g) Ability to purchase or otherwise obtain medical care; and
- (h) Additional miscellaneous expenses related to the adopted child.

(3) The department and the adoptive parents will jointly determine the level of adoption support cash payments needed to meet the basic needs of the child without creating a hardship on the family.

(4) Under no circumstances may the amount of the adoption support monthly cash payment the department pays for the child exceed the amount of foster care maintenance payment that would be paid if the child were in a foster family home.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.109, 74.13.031, 2002 c 371 § 202(8), 42 U.S.C. 671-675, 04-06-024, § 388-27-0230, filed 2/23/04, effective 3/25/04. Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031, 01-08-045, § 388-27-0230, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-27-0250 What specific department requirements apply to medical services? (1) While an adoption support agreement remains in effect, the department's medical program rules apply to the adopted child.

(2) The department must make all medical payments according to established department procedures and directly to the child's physician(s) or service provider(s).

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031, 01-08-045, § 388-27-0250, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-27-0255 What specific department requirements apply to outpatient counseling and/or mental health services not covered by Medicaid? When the department's adoption support program directly pays for a child's counseling and/or mental health services, the following conditions apply:

(1) The adoptive parent must obtain written authorization from the department's adoption support program before the service is rendered;

(2) The adoptive parents' primary health care coverage must be billed prior to billing the department's adoption support program;

(3) The department will pay the adoption support program's authorized rate minus any payment made by the primary (and other) insurer;

(4) The department may grant verbal authorization for no more than three counseling sessions prior to providing the required written authorization;

(5) The child's therapist or other treatment provider must submit a written treatment plan prior to authorization for continued treatment;

(6) The department may authorize counseling as follows:

(a) Up to six hours of outpatient counseling per month for up to twelve months; or

(b) Up to a total of twenty hours per quarter when critical need warrants;

(7) The department may extend the authorization for counseling (beyond the initial time period authorized) upon receipt of an updated treatment plan and documentation supporting the need for additional treatment from the treatment provider and a parent's request for continuing counseling (DSHS 10-214);

(8) The department may authorize this service for only one provider at a time unless a second provider is required for a different service.

(9) The department encourages adoptive parents to seek an annual assessment of the functioning of the adoptive child within the family to determine if there are mental health services needed to help maintain and/or strengthen the adoptive placement.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031, 01-08-045, § 388-27-0255, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-27-0260 If the adoptive parent requests residential placement services for the parent's adopted child, what department requirements apply? (1) The adoption support program must not pay for residential treatment placements. See RCW 74.13.080 and WAC 388-25-0025.

(2) If the adoptive parent requests residential treatment services for a child:

(a) For treatment of a mental illness, the department must refer the family to the local regional support network (RSN);

(b) If a diagnosis of physical, mental, developmental, cognitive or emotional disability is present, department staff must refer the child to the division of developmental disabilities (DDD) to determine eligibility of services for which the child might be eligible; or

(c) For reasons other than treatment of mental illness or developmental disabilities, department staff must refer the adoptive parent to the child welfare services intake at the local office of the division of children and family services (DCFS).

(3) The adoption support program manager may assist the adoptive parent in arranging residential service for the child but must not be responsible for the child's placement or for the payment of the residential service.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031, 01-08-045, § 388-27-0260, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

(1) If a child is on active status with Washington state's adoption support program and the department places the child in foster care, group care, or residential treatment, the department may report to the division of child support that good cause exists for not pursuing collection of support payments.

(2) The department must review the adoption support agreement and must discontinue any cash payments to the adoptive parent during the child's out-of-home placement unless the adoptive parent(s) documents continuing expenses directly related to the child's needs.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-045, § 388-27-0265, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

- (a) At least once every five years; or
- (b) When the adoptive parents request a change in the terms of the agreement.

(2) The department may review an adoption support agreement:

- (a) Whenever variations in medical opinions, prognosis, or costs warrant a review; or
- (b) At the department's request.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-045, § 388-27-0275, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-27-0280 What is involved in the review process? (1) The review process provides an opportunity for the adoptive parent to describe any changes in family circumstances or the child's condition and request a change in the terms of the adoption support agreement.

(2) The adoptive parent must provide supporting documentation upon department request.

(3) The department may request a copy of the adoptive parents' most recently filed IRS form 1040. If not required to file a federal tax return the adoptive parent(s) must submit a financial statement upon department request.

(4) The adoptive parent must request that the child's medical provider complete an EPSDT (early periodic screening, diagnosis and treatment) exam and submit a report of the results to the adoption support program.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-045, § 388-27-0280, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-27-0285 What is the department's responsibility when the adoptive parent(s) requests a review of the adoption support agreement? The adoption support program must initiate a review of the adoption support agreement no later than thirty days after receiving the adoptive parents' request for review of the agreement.

(2005 Ed.)

WAC 388-27-0290 What if the department does not respond to a request for a review of an adoption support agreement within thirty days? If the department does not respond to an adoptive parent's request for a review of an adoption support agreement within thirty days, the adoptive parent has the right to an administrative hearing (see RCW 74.13.127).

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-045, § 388-27-0290, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-045, § 388-27-0295, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-27-0300 After a review, what if the department and the adoptive parent cannot agree on the terms of the adoption support agreement? If the department proposes service changes without the adoptive parent's consent, the department must give written notification of those changes. In that notice, the department must clearly state the department's reasons for the proposed changes and inform the adoptive parent of the adoptive parent's right to an administrative hearing.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-045, § 388-27-0300, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

Part G: Post-Finalization Requests for Assistance

WAC 388-27-0305 May an adoptive parent apply for adoption support services after the adoption has been finalized? Federal and state laws and rules require that a prospective adoptive parent must apply for adoption assistance prior to adopting a special needs child and that the prospective adoptive parent must have a valid adoption support agreement, signed by all parties, before the adoption is finalized.

However, both state and federal governments have recognized that in some situations there may have been extenuating circumstances that prevented the child from being placed on the adoption support program prior to adoption. For these situations separate remedies have been created depending on which eligibility criteria are met by the child.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-045, § 388-27-0305, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-27-0310 If a child met federal Title IV-E eligibility for adoption assistance before the adoption, but was not placed on the adoptive support program, what may the adoptive parent do after adoption finalization to obtain adoption support services for the adopted child? For a child who met the Title IV-E eligibility criteria for adoption assistance prior to adoption, federal rules allow for a possible finding of extenuating circumstances through an administrative hearing process. In these situations the adoptive parent must request a review by an administrative law judge or a review judge to obtain an order authorizing the department to enter into a post-adoption agreement to provide adoption support services to a special needs child.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-045, § 388-27-0310, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-27-0315 What constitutes "extenuating circumstances"? An administrative law judge or a review judge may make a finding of extenuating circumstances if one or more of the following situations exist:

(1) Relevant facts regarding the child, the biological family or child's background were known by the agency placing the child for adoption and not presented to the adoptive parents prior to the legalization of the adoption;

(2) The department denied adoption assistance based upon a means test of the adoptive family;

(3) Erroneous determination or advice by the department or private child placing agency that a child is ineligible for adoption assistance; or

(4) Failure by the placing agency to advise adoptive parents of the availability of adoption assistance.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-045, § 388-27-0315, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-27-0320 What is the effective date of an adoption support agreement that results from a finding of extenuating circumstances? The effective date of an adoption support agreement the department and the adoptive parent have entered into as a result of a finding of extenuating circumstances may not be before the date the department received the written request from the adoptive parent for participation in the adoption support program. Under no circumstances may the department back date an adoption support agreement more than two years from the date of an order of an administrative law judge or review judge authorizing the department to enter an adoption support agreement after finalization of the adoption.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-045, § 388-27-0320, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-27-0325 If a child did not meet federal Title IV-E eligibility for adoption assistance before the adoption, what may the adoptive parent do after adoption finalization to obtain adoption support services for the adopted child? For children ineligible for federal Title IV-E Adoption Assistance, the department may provide limited support through the state-funded adoption support reconsideration program.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-045, § 388-27-0325, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-27-0330 What is the adoption support reconsideration program? (1) The adoption support reconsideration program allows the department to register an eligible adopted child for limited state-funded support (see RCW 74.13.150).

[Title 388 WAC—p. 286]

(2) The reconsideration program provides for payment of medical and counseling services to address the physical, mental, developmental, cognitive, or emotional disability of the child that resulted in the child's eligibility for the program.

(3) There is a twenty thousand dollar per child lifetime cap on this program.

(4) The program requires the adoptive parent and the department to sign an adoption support reconsideration agreement specifying the terms, conditions, and length of time the child will receive limited support.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-045, § 388-27-0330, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-27-0335 How does a child qualify for the adoption support reconsideration program? To be eligible for the adoption support reconsideration program, a child must:

(1) Have resided, immediately prior to adoption finalization, in a department funded pre-adoptive placement or in department funded foster care;

(2) Have a physical or mental handicap or emotional disturbance that existed and was documented before adoption or was at high risk for future physical or mental handicap or emotional disturbance due to conditions to which the child was exposed before adoption;

(3) Reside in Washington state with an adoptive parent who lacks the financial resources to care for the child's special needs; and

(4) Be covered by a primary basic health insurance program.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-045, § 388-27-0335, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-27-0340 How does an adoptive parent apply for the adoption support reconsideration program? To apply, the adoptive parent must complete an application for adoption support reconsideration and attach:

(1) A written cost estimate of the child's proposed corrective-rehabilitative services;

(2) A current medical evaluation of the child including the cause(s) of the condition requiring corrective-rehabilitative services;

(3) A written statement explaining the child's current medical and counseling needs;

(4) A written statement giving the department permission to request and review pre-adoption information held by the adoption agency facilitating the child's adoption; and

(5) A copy of the adoptive parents' most recently filed IRS 1040 federal income tax form.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-045, § 388-27-0340, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-27-0345 What types of services does the department provide through the adoption support reconsideration program? The reconsideration program provides some support for counseling and medical services needed to treat the child's qualifying condition.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-045, § 388-27-0345, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-27-0350 What department requirements apply to adoption support reconsideration services? (1)

The department must authorize, in writing, any services paid by the adoption support reconsideration program before the services are provided.

(2) The department must base the authorized level of service on the child's needs and must limit the level of service to established program rates.

(3) The department must limit medical services to those services that would be available to the child if the child were eligible for Medicaid coverage.

(4) The department must make no cash payments to the family.

(5) The department must make payment directly to the provider of the authorized service.

(6) The adoptive parents' basic health insurance must provide primary coverage and must be used before billing the reconsideration program. The adoption support reconsideration program must be the secondary insurer.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-045, § 388-27-0350, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-27-0355 Under what conditions or circumstances would a child become ineligible for the adoption support reconsideration program? (1)

Eligibility for adoption support reconsideration services ends according to the terms of the adoption support reconsideration agreement or when the child:

- (a) Reaches eighteen years of age;
- (b) Is eligible for the federal Title IV-E adoption assistance program and has been placed on that program;
- (c) Has received twenty thousand dollars in department paid medical, dental, and/or counseling services; or
- (d) Is no longer the financial responsibility of the adoptive parent(s).

(2) If the parent dies, the reconsideration agreement becomes invalid. Neither the agreement nor the child's eligibility for the program are transferable to a subsequent adoption.

(3) The department may suspend services when the child:

- (a) Resides outside the adoptive parents' home for more than thirty continuous days; or

Adoption and adoption support files are confidential, and information contained in those files may not be disclosed without the consent of the person who is the subject of the file. By requesting an administrative hearing to challenge a department decision relating to adoption support the adoptive parent is agreeing that the department may release factual information about the case during the course of the proceedings. Actions taken by the department and decisions by administrative law judges or review judges in adoption support cases which do not directly involve the case being heard may not be cited or relied upon in any administrative proceeding (RCW 26.33.340 and 74.04.060).

WAC 388-27-0390 How does an adoptive parent get reimbursed for nonrecurring adoption expenses? (1) Before the adoption is finalized, the adoptive parent must sign an agreement with the department specifying the nature and amount of nonrecurring adoption expenses. This agreement may be part of an adoption support agreement or it may be a separate agreement specific to the reimbursement for nonrecurring adoption finalization costs. The department will make no reimbursement payments unless such an agreement exists.

HOME SUPPORT SERVICES BY CHILDREN'S ADMINISTRATION

WAC 388-32-0005 What are home support services?

The department's children's administration (CA) offers home support services (HSS), within available funds, to provide supportive, culturally appropriate, skill-building services in partnership with CA's client families. Only CA staff may provide the services in the family home or other appropriate setting and must provide the services as part of a comprehensive case plan. The department does not contract for this service.

(1) CA typically offers HSS during the normal work week but may provide HSS on weekends and beyond normal working hours.

(2) Child and family resource specialists (CFRS) have primary responsibility to provide HSS, which may include the following services:

(a) Teach and demonstrate basic physical and emotional care of children, including child development and developmentally appropriate child discipline;

(b) Teach homemaking and other life skills, including housekeeping, nutrition and food preparation, personal hygiene, financial budgeting, time management and home organization, with consideration given to the family's cultural environment;

(c) Help families obtain basic needs by networking families with appropriate supportive community resources; e.g., housing, clothing and food banks, health care services, and educational and employment services;

(d) Provide emotional support to families and build self-esteem in family members; aid family members in developing appropriate interpersonal and social skills;

(e) Provide client transportation/supervision of visits on a nonroutine, short-term basis;

(f) Observe family functioning, assisting the social worker to identify family strengths as well as areas needing intervention or improvement, providing reports and assessments to the assigned social worker on the family's progress in skill-building, family functioning, and other areas defined in the case plan;

(g) Participate in child protection teams, multidisciplinary teams, interagency case staffings, and family intervention meetings;

(h) Provide court testimony when requested by the attorney representing DSHS or when subpoenaed.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-32-0005, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-32-0010 What are the eligibility criteria for HSS? Children's administration uses the following criteria to determine eligibility for HSS, within available funding:

(1) The family must be a current recipient of CA services.

(2) The case plan for the family must document the need for teaching, skill-building, community networking, or visitation.

(3) HSS does not provide long-term maintenance for a family, is not a housekeeping service, and is not interchangeable with CHORE services, which are provided by the department's aging and adult services administration.

HOME BASED SERVICES BY COMMUNITY PROVIDERS

WAC 388-32-0015 What are home based services and under what circumstances may the department provide the services to the child's parent or relative caregiver? (1) Home based services (HBS) are designed to prevent or improve conditions that may result in out-of-home placement. Children's administration (CA) provides these services in the context of a comprehensive case plan. CA purchases services from community providers within available funds for this purpose. Services may include:

(a) Basic goods and services; e.g., food, clothing, shelter, furniture, health care, utilities, transportation

(b) Paraprofessional services; e.g., parent aides;

(c) Parent training;

(e) In-home counseling or assistance to prevent out-of-home placement.

(2) For a family or individual to receive HBS, the following conditions must be met:

(a) The client has a case open for child protective services (CPS), child welfare services (CWS), or family reconciliation services (FRS);

(b) The department may provide services to the family of origin, relatives, or foster families when the intent of HBS is to maintain or reunify a permanent or long-term stable home for the child;

(c) The family is willing and able to cooperate with HBS services; and

(d) In the assigned social worker's judgment, the child may be safely maintained in the home or be safely returned to the home within the next three months with provision of HBS.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-32-0015, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

(2005 Ed.)

FAMILY RECONCILIATION SERVICES

WAC 388-32-0020 What is the purpose of the family reconciliation services program? (1) The purpose of family reconciliation services (FRS) is to achieve reconciliation between the parent and child, to reunify the family, and to maintain and strengthen the family unit to avoid the necessity of out-of-home placement of children.

(2) The department provides these services, within available funds, to:

(a) Alleviate personal or family situations that present a serious and imminent threat to the health or stability of the child or family and that do not meet the definition of child abuse or neglect; and

(b) Maintain families intact whenever possible.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-32-0020, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-32-0025 Who may receive FRS services?

(1) CA provides FRS to adolescents, thirteen through seventeen years of age, and their families, in instances where the adolescent has runaway and/or is in conflict with his/her family. These populations are defined as follows:

"Families in conflict" means families in which personal or family situations present a serious and imminent threat to the health or stability of the child, which may include an at-risk youth, or family.

"Runaways" means youths who are absent from home for a period of time without parental permission. Services are to actual runaways and not to threatened runaways, unless the threatened runaways meet the definition of families in conflict.

(2) FRS is not provided for any of the following situations, unless the family is seeking an at-risk youth or a child-in-need-of-services (CHINS) family assessment:

(a) The identified youth has not reached his/her thirteenth birthday, or the youth is eighteen years of age or older;

(b) Chronic or long-term multiproblem situations requiring long-term interventions;

(c) Custody and marital disputes unless the dispute creates a conflict between the child and parent with physical custody;

(d) Families currently receiving counseling services related to the parent-child conflict/relationship from other agencies;

(e) Child abuse and neglect cases, unless those cases meet the definition of family in conflict; or

(f) Youth receiving foster care or group care services or follow up to those services.

[Statutory Authority: Chapter 13.32A RCW, RCW 74.08.090, 74.13.031, 2002 c 371. 03-19-051, § 388-32-0025, filed 9/11/03, effective 9/11/03. Statutory Authority: RCW 74.13.031. 01-08-047, § 388-32-0025, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-32-0030 What FRS services does the department provide? The assigned social worker provides services to develop skills and supports within families to resolve family conflicts, achieve a reconciliation between parent and child, and to avoid out-of-home placement. The services may include, but are not limited to, referral to services for suicide prevention, psychiatric or other medical care, or psychological, financial, legal, educational, or other social services, as appropriate to the needs of the child and family. Typically FRS is limited to a ninety-day period. Children's administration (CA) provides intake/assessment services (IAS).

(1) The children's administration's (CA) central intake provides intake services. Youth and/or their families who self-present at a local DCFS office requesting FRS services shall be provided assistance in contacting the appropriate children's administration's intake services to make a formal request for FRS services.

(2) The FRS social worker must contact the family within twenty-four hours of their assignment to the case, to schedule an appointment to begin the phase I family interview process. These FRS phase I sessions are intended to defuse the immediate potential for violence, assess problems, and explore options leading to problem resolution.

(3) CA or its contractors may provide FRS phase II crisis counseling services for up to forty-five days.

(4) Families eligible for FRS phase II crisis counseling are those who, in the opinion of the family and the CA social worker, require more intensive services than those provided through phase I services.

(5) Families must make a commitment to participate in the FRS phase II crisis counseling service and must not concurrently be receiving similar counseling services through other agencies or practitioners. At a minimum, there must be a parent and a child willing to participate.

(6) FRS phase II crisis counseling services may not exceed twelve hours within forty-five days. The assigned counselor helps the family develop skills and supports to resolve conflicts. The counselor may refer to resources including medical, legal, ongoing counseling and CPS for problem resolution.

(a) FRS phase II crisis counseling may not be extended for either additional days or additional hours, except by an exception-to-policy waiver signed by the area administrator.

(b) FRS phase II crisis counseling services are available a maximum of twice in a lifetime for any one family. The family must include a parent/guardian who has legal custody of the youth.

DEFINITIONS

WAC 388-60-0015 What definitions apply to this chapter? The following definitions are important to understand these rules:

"Corrective action" means the denial or suspension or revocation of certification, or the issuance of a written warning.

"Department" or "DSHS" means the department of social and health services.

"Participant" or "perpetrator" means the client enrolled in the domestic violence perpetrator treatment program. This client may be court-ordered to attend treatment or someone who chooses to voluntarily attend treatment.

"Program" or "treatment program" means a domestic violence perpetrator treatment program.

PURPOSE

WAC 388-60-0025 What is the purpose of this chapter? (1) This chapter establishes minimum standards for programs that treat perpetrators of domestic violence.

(2) These standards apply to any program that:

(a) Advertises that it provides domestic violence perpetrator treatment; or

(b) Defines its services as meeting court orders that require enrollment in and/or completion of domestic violence perpetrator treatment.

(3) These programs provide treatment only to perpetrators of domestic violence, including clients who are self-referred or those who are court-ordered to attend treatment.

(4) An agency may administer other service programs in addition to domestic violence perpetrator treatment services; however, the domestic violence perpetrator treatment program must be considered a separate and distinct program from all other services the agency provides.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 26.50.150. 01-08-046, § 388-60-0025, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-60-0035 Must domestic violence perpetrator treatment programs be certified? All programs providing domestic violence perpetrator treatment services must:

(1) Be certified by the department; and

(2) Comply with the standards outlined in this chapter.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 26.50.150. 01-08-046, § 388-60-0035, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-60-0045 What must be the focus of a domestic violence perpetrator treatment program? (1) A domestic violence perpetrator treatment program must focus treatment primarily on ending the participant's physical, sexual, and psychological abuse.

(2) The program must hold the participant accountable for:

(a) The abuse that occurred; and

(b) Changing the participant's violent and abusive behaviors.

(3) The program must base all treatment on strategies and philosophies that do not blame the victim or imply that the victim shares any responsibility for the abuse which occurred.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 26.50.150. 01-08-046, § 388-60-0045, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-60-0055 What must be a treatment program's primary goal? The primary goal of a domestic violence perpetrator treatment program must be to increase the victim's safety by:

(1) Facilitating change in the participant's abusive behavior; and

(2) Holding the participant accountable for changing the participant's patterns of behaviors, thinking, and beliefs.

REQUIRED PROGRAM POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

WAC 388-60-0065 What steps must a treatment program take to address victim safety? (1) Each treatment program must have written policies and procedures that adequately assess the safety of the victims of the perpetrators enrolled in the treatment program.

(2) The treatment program must take the following steps to protect victims:

(a) Notify the victim of each program participant within fourteen days of the participant being accepted or denied entrance to the program that the participant has enrolled in or has been rejected for treatment services;

(b) Inform victims of specific outreach, advocacy, emergency and safety planning services offered by a domestic violence victim program in the victim's community;

(c) Encourage victims to make plans to protect themselves and their children;

(d) Give victims a brief description of the domestic violence perpetrator treatment program, including the fact that the victim is not expected to do anything to help the perpetrator complete any treatment program requirements; and

(e) Inform victims of the limitations of perpetrator treatment.

(3) The program must document in writing the program's efforts to notify the victim of the above requirements.

(4) The program cannot invite or require the victims of participants to attend perpetrator treatment program counseling sessions or education groups which the program requires participants to attend as a condition of their contracts.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 26.50.150. 01-08-046, § 388-60-0065, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

WAC 388-60-0075 What must a treatment program require of its participants? (1) All participants must attend consecutive, weekly group treatment sessions. A program may develop policies which allow excused absences to be made up with the program director's approval.

Exception: Another type of intervention may be approved for certain documented clinical reasons, such as psychosis or other conditions that make the individual not amenable to treatment in a group setting.

(2) The program must assign each participant to a home group and the participant must be required to attend the same scheduled group each week. The program's director must authorize any exceptions to this requirement and document the reason for the exception.

(3) Each participant must sign all releases of information required by the treatment program, including those specified in WAC 388-60-0145.

(4) Each participant must sign a contract for services with the treatment program.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 26.50.150. 01-08-046, § 388-60-0075, filed 3/30/01, effective 4/30/01.]

(2) The group size is limited to a maximum of twelve participants, and a minimum of two participants.

(3) Group sessions must be at least ninety minutes in length.

(4) Group sessions must be closed to all persons other than participants, group facilitators, and others specifically invited by the group leaders. Others specifically invited by group leaders may include:

(1) A program may allow a client to participate in other types of therapy during the same period the client is participating in the required weekly group treatment sessions.

(2) Any other type of therapy must support the goal of victim safety by facilitating change in the participant's abusive behavior without blaming the victim for the perpetrator's abuse.

(3) The program must determine that the participant is stable in the participant's other treatments before allowing the participant to participate in treatment for domestic violence.

(4) Other therapies including the following list may not be substituted for the required domestic violence perpetrator treatment sessions:

Chapter 388-61 WAC FAMILY VIOLENCE

WAC

How does the Family Violence Amendment affect me if I am getting TANF/SFA?

WAC 388-61-001 How does the Family Violence Amendment affect me if I am getting TANF/SFA? The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996 (PRWORA), also known as the Welfare Reform Act, allowed every state to create a program addressing family violence for temporary assistance for needy families (TANF) recipients.

[Title 388 WAC—p. 304]

(1) For TANF/state funded assistance (SFA), family violence is when a recipient, or family member or household member has been subjected by another family member or household member as defined in RCW 26.50.010(2) to any of the following:

(a) Physical acts that resulted in, or threatened to result in, physical injury;

(b) Sexual abuse;

(c) Sexual activity involving a dependent child;

(d) Being forced as the caretaker relative of a dependent child to engage in nonconsensual sexual acts or activities;

(e) Threats of or attempts at, physical sexual abuse;

(f) Mental abuse;

(g) Neglect or deprivation of medical care; or

(h) Stalking.

(2) DSHS must:

(a) Screen and identify adults, minor teen parents, or emancipated teens getting TANF/SFA for a history of family violence;

(b) Notify in writing and verbally adults, minor teen parents, or emancipated teens getting TANF/SFA about the Family Violence Amendment;

(c) Maintain confidentiality as stated in RCW 74.04.060;

(d) Refer individuals needing counseling to supportive services;

(e) Waive WorkFirst requirements in cases where the requirements would make it more difficult to escape family violence, unfairly penalize victims of family violence or place victims at further risk of family violence. This may include:

(i) Time limits for TANF/SFA recipients, for as long as necessary (after fifty-two months of receiving TANF/SFA);

(ii) Cooperation with the division of child support.

(f) Develop specialized work activities for family violence clients, as defined in subsection (1) of this section if participation in work activities would place the recipients at further risk of family violence.

PURPOSE

WAC 388-61A-0005 What is the legal basis for the domestic violence shelter program? Chapter 70.123 RCW authorizes us to establish minimum standards for agencies that receive funding from the department of social and health services (DSHS) to provide domestic violence shelter and services.

[Statutory Authority: Chapter 70.123 RCW. 01-07-053, § 388-61A-0005, filed 3/16/01, effective 4/16/01.]

(2005 Ed.)

WAC 388-61A-0010 What is the purpose of having minimum standards for domestic violence shelters and services? The purpose of these rules is to have uniform state-wide standards for domestic violence shelters and services funded by us. Minimum standards are necessary to provide rules for agencies that contract with us to provide shelter and services for domestic violence victims. These standards address issues such as adequate food, clothing, housing, safety, security, advocacy, and counseling for victims.

[Statutory Authority: Chapter 70.123 RCW. 01-07-053, § 388-61A-0010, filed 3/16/01, effective 4/16/01.]

WAC 388-61A-0015 Is DSHS required to provide funding to any domestic violence service that requests funding? We are not obligated to disburse funds to all domestic violence services that may comply with the minimum standards set forth in this chapter. The goal of this program is to provide funding and support for the statewide development, stability, and expansion of shelter and services for victims of domestic violence. In support of that goal, if an agency applies to receive funding we will consider such things as:

- (1) Geographic location;
- (2) Population ratios;
- (3) Population need for services;
- (4) An agency's ability to provide services that comply with these minimum standards;
- (5) The availability of other domestic violence services in a community; and
- (6) The amount of funding we have available to support domestic violence services.

[Statutory Authority: Chapter 70.123 RCW. 01-07-053, § 388-61A-0015, filed 3/16/01, effective 4/16/01.]

WAC 388-61A-0020 What are the facility and service requirements for domestic violence services? In order for us to contract with an agency for domestic violence services, the agency must provide shelter and supportive services to victims of domestic violence. The agency must comply with the:

- (1) General facility requirements for shelters; and
- (2) Specific additional requirements for safe homes; or
- (3) Specific additional requirements for shelter homes; and
- (4) Requirements for supportive services and agency administration.

[Statutory Authority: Chapter 70.123 RCW. 01-07-053, § 388-61A-0020, filed 3/16/01, effective 4/16/01.]

WAC 388-61A-0025 What definitions apply to domestic violence shelters and services? Any person who has one or more children in common with another person, regardless of whether they have been married or have lived together at any time, is considered a cohabitant.

"Department" means the department of social and health services (DSHS).

"Domestic violence" includes, but is not limited to, the criminal offenses defined in RCW 10.99.020 when committed by one cohabitant against another.

"Domestic violence service" means an agency that provides shelter, advocacy, and counseling for domestic violence clients in a safe, supportive environment.

"Lodging unit" means one or more rooms used for a victim of domestic violence including rooms used for sleeping or sitting.

"Program" means the DSHS domestic violence program.

"Safe home" means a shelter that has two or less lodging units and has a written working agreement with a domestic violence service.

"Secretary" means the DSHS secretary or the secretary's designee.

"Staff" means persons who are paid or who volunteer services and are a part of a domestic violence service.

WAC 388-70-093 Foster care for Indian children—Services. Documented efforts shall be made to avoid separating the Indian child from his parents, relatives, tribe or cultural heritage. Consequently:

- (1) In the case of Indian children being placed in foster care by the department or for whom the department has supervisory responsibility, the local Indian child welfare advisory committee, predesignated by a tribal council, or appropriate urban Indian organization shall be contacted. Members of that committee will serve as resource persons for the purposes of cooperative planning and aid in placement.
- (2) The resources of the tribal government, department and the Indian community shall be used to locate the child's parents and relatives to assist in locating possible placement resources, and to assist in the development of a plan to overcome the problem that brought the child to the attention of the authorities and/or the department.

(3) In planning foster care placements for Indian children, demonstrable consideration shall be given to tribal membership, tribal culture and Indian religions. The case record shall document the reasons and circumstances of case-work decisions and consideration in those regards.

(4) The following resources for foster home placement of Indian children will be explored and followed in the following order: Relatives' homes, homes of other Indian families of same tribe, other Indian foster parents and non-Indian foster homes specifically recruited and trained in cooperation with the local Indian child welfare advisory committee to meet the special needs of Indian foster children and in the geographic proximity that will insure continuation of the parent-child relationship. The training of non-Indian foster parents shall be designed and delivered in cooperation with the above committee and/or persons designated by the committee.

(5) For each Indian child who will be in care for more than 30 days, including those for whom adoption is planned, the ESSO shall make documented effort to complete two copies of the "family ancestry chart" (except in those cases where parents specifically indicate in writing they do not want the child enrolled). One copy will be retained in the child's file; the other will be forwarded to the bureau of Indian affairs office or the department of Indian affairs agency in Canada serving that child's tribe or band. The BIA of the department of Indian affairs agency will review the chart for possible enrollment eligibility in conjunction with the enrollment committee of the appropriate tribe or urban Indian community.

(6) The ESSO shall develop its social resources and staff training programs designed to meet the special needs of Indian children through coordination with tribal, Indian health service, bureau of Indian affairs social service staff, appropriate urban Indian and Alaskan native consultants, national, state and local Indian welfare organizations and ESSO child welfare advisory committees.

(7) The ESSO shall make diligent and demonstrable efforts to recruit facilities and/or homes particularly capable of meeting the special needs of Indian children with the assistance of the local Indian child welfare advisory committees.

[Order 1167, § 388-70-093, filed 10/27/76.]

WAC 388-15-131(4) provides for notification about child abuse/neglect incidents.

WAC 388-70-450 Adoptive planning for Indian children by department staff. (1) Definitions: For the purposes of these rules the term "Indian" includes the following groups:

- (a) Enrolled Indian

[Title 388 WAC—p. 315]

(i) Any person who is enrolled or eligible for enrollment in a recognized tribe.

(ii) Any person determined, or eligible to be found, to be an Indian by the secretary of the interior.

(iii) An Eskimo, Aleut or other Alaskan native.

(b) Canadian Indian: A person who is a member of a treaty tribe, Metis community or nonstatus Indian community from Canada.

(c) Unenrolled Indian: A person considered to be an Indian by a federally or nonfederally recognized tribe or urban Indian/Alaskan native community organization.

(2) An adoptive family shall be considered Indian if one or both parents are Indian by the above definitions.

(3) In adoptive planning for Indian children, the unique tribal, cultural and religious sovereignty of Indian nations, tribes and communities shall be recognized. When consistent with the wishes of the biological parents and/or the child, the adoption of Indian children by Indian families is the primary goal.

(4) Standards implementing the policy are:

(i) An Indian family of the same tribe as the child.

(iii) An Indian family from elsewhere in the United States or Canada through the adoption resource exchange of North America. Attention shall be given to matching the child's tribal culture to that of the adoptive family.

(iv) Any other family which can provide a suitable home to an Indian child, as well as instill pride and understanding in the child's tribal and cultural heritage.

(b) Foster parent adoptions: As a part of the total evaluation for approving a foster parent adoption of an Indian child, ESSO service staff shall document the foster family's past performance and future commitment in exposing the child to its Indian tribal and cultural heritage. The child's wish to be involved in his Indian culture shall be considered.

(c) When an Indian child, in the custody of an out-of-state agency, is referred for potential adoptive parents residing in Washington, documentation shall be obtained that assures the department's standards for planning for Indian children have been complied with.

(5) Local staff shall consult with an Indian child welfare committee in planning for placement of Indian children.

The alleged perpetrator can appeal a final finding to Superior Court and the Court of Appeals under the Administrative Procedure Act, chapter 34.05 RCW.

"Initial finding" means a determination made by the department upon investigation of an allegation of abandonment, abuse, financial exploitation, neglect or self-neglect.

(1) If the department determines it is more likely than not the incident occurred, the department shall document the finding as "substantiated."

(2) If the department determines it is more likely than not the incident did not occur, the department shall document the finding as "unsubstantiated."

(3) If the department cannot make a determination about whether the incident occurred or did not occur on a more probable than not basis, the department shall document the finding as "inconclusive."

WAC 388-71-0712 Adult day health—Skilled nursing.

(1) Skilled nursing services are medically necessary services provided directly or indirectly by a registered nurse under physician supervision, or by a licensed practical nurse under physician or registered nurse supervision, that a licensed nurse acting within the scope of practice can provide or supervise. Physician orders must be obtained when required by applicable state practice laws for licensed nurses.

(2) Skilled nursing services must exceed the level of routine health monitoring, general health education, and general therapeutic activities as defined in WAC 388-71-0704, and must be provided with the reasonable expectation that the services will improve, restore, or maintain function as defined in WAC 388-71-0710 (1)(c). Skilled nursing services are:

- (a) Specific to a client diagnosis;
- (b) Individualized to the client with planned measurable outcomes; and
- (c) Evaluated every ninety days for effect on improvement of health status or prevention of decline.

(3) Skilled nursing services, including the initial client nursing assessment and development of the nursing plan of care, must be provided or supervised by a registered nurse in accordance with nursing practice standards under chapter 246-840 WAC.

(4) A skilled nursing service is not a qualifying adult day health service merely because the service is ordered by a physician or is provided by a nurse. If, by way of example, the service can be performed by the client or at the client's direction by a person other than a licensed nurse, or the client does not meet eligibility criteria, it is not a qualifying adult day health service.

(5) Skilled nursing services must be medically necessary as defined under WAC 388-500-0005. Medically necessary skilled nursing services may, but do not necessarily, include:

(a) Care and assessment of an unstable or unpredictable medical condition, with time limited measurable treatment goals, requiring frequent intervention by a registered nurse or by a licensed practical nurse under the supervision of a registered nurse according to WAC 246-840-705;

(b) Evaluation and management of the care plan when unstable medical conditions or complications require complex nonskilled care and skilled nurse oversight to ensure that the nonskilled care is achieving its purpose;

(c) Time-limited training by licensed nursing staff to teach the client and/or the client's caregiver self-care for newly diagnosed, acute, or episodic medical conditions that require the skills of a licensed nurse to teach, and that will optimize client function, as illustrated by the following examples:

- (i) Self administration of an injection;
- (ii) Prefilling insulin syringes;
- (iii) Irrigating a catheter;
- (iv) Caring for a colostomy or urostomy;
- (v) Wound dressing changes or aseptic technique; or
- (vi) Disease self-management.

(d) Skilled interventions provided directly by a licensed nurse such as:

- (i) Inserting or irrigating a catheter;
- (ii) Administering medications or oxygen;
- (iii) Administering and managing infusion therapy; or
- (iv) Treating decubitus ulcers, or other types of wound care.

(6) Medically necessary skilled nursing services, by way of example, do not include:

- (a) Reminding or coaching the client;
- (b) Monitoring of a medical condition that does not require frequent skilled nursing intervention or a change in physician treatment orders, or where there is no reasonable expectation that skilled services will maintain, improve, or slow the effect of a progressive disabling condition on the pain, health or functioning of a client;

(c) Medication assistance when the client is capable of self-administration or is having this need met through paid or unpaid caregivers;

(d) Evaluation and management of the care plan when the complexity of care to be provided by nonskilled persons does not require skilled nurse oversight beyond routine health monitoring;

(e) Continued training by nursing staff to teach self-care for newly diagnosed, acute, or episodic medical conditions when it is apparent that the training should have achieved its purpose or that the client is unwilling or unable to be trained;

(f) Core services that can be provided by an adult day care center, such as routine health monitoring, general health education, or general therapeutic activities; or

(g) Group therapy or training where three or more clients are being simultaneously treated or trained by the nurse.

(7) Skilled nursing services must be documented as provided under WAC 388-71-0746 and chapter 388-502 WAC.

WAC 388-71-0714 Adult day health—Rehabilitative therapy.

(1) Skilled rehabilitative therapy services are medically necessary services provided by or under the supervision of a licensed physical, occupational, or speech-language pathology or audiology therapist that the therapist acting within the scope of practice can provide or supervise directly or indirectly. Physician orders must be obtained when required by applicable state practice laws for licensed therapists.

(a) Persons that can provide rehabilitative care under the direction and supervision of a licensed therapist include occupational therapy aides, occupational therapy assistants, physical therapy aides, physical therapy assistants, and nurses within their respective scopes of practice. Adult day health program aides, specifically trained in rehabilitative techniques, may also provide care under the direction and supervision of a licensed therapist.

(b) Services, group or individual, must be related to an active written plan of care with time limited measurable treatment goals approved by the physician;

(c) Services, group or individual, must require the assessment, knowledge and skills of a licensed therapist; and

(d) Services, group or individual, must be provided with the reasonable expectation that the services will improve, restore, or maintain function, or slow decline. Rehabilitative services are:

- (i) Specific to a client diagnosis;
- (ii) Individualized to the client with planned, measurable outcomes; and
- (iii) Evaluated every ninety days for effect on improvement of health status or prevention of decline.

(2) Skilled rehabilitative therapy is not a qualifying adult day health service merely because the therapy is ordered by a physician or is provided by a therapist or under the supervision of a therapist. If, by way of example, the therapy can be performed independently by the client or at the client's direction by a person other than a licensed therapist, or the client does not meet eligibility criteria, it is not a qualifying adult day health service.

Skilled rehabilitative therapy services must be medically necessary as defined under WAC 388-500-0005.

(3) Medically necessary physical therapy services may, but do not necessarily include:

- (c) Establishing a maintenance or restorative program with measurable treatment goals, and providing written and oral instruction to the client, caregivers, or program staff as needed to assist the client in implementing the program;
- (d) Training the client or the client's caregivers in the use of supportive, adaptive equipment or assistive devices;
- (e) Evaluation and management of the care plan when medical conditions or complications require complex non-skilled care and skilled therapist oversight to ensure that the nonskilled care is achieving its purpose; or
- (f) Providing other medically necessary services that can only be provided by or under the direct or indirect supervision of a physical therapist acting within the therapist's scope of practice.

(4) Medically necessary occupational therapy services may, but do not necessarily include:

- (a) Administering a basic evaluation to determine baseline level of functioning, ability to transfer, range of motion, balance, strength, coordination, activities of daily living and cognitive-perceptual functioning;
- (b) Teaching and training the client, caregivers, or program staff in the use of therapeutic, creative, and self care activities to improve or maintain the client's capacity for self-care and independence, and to increase the range of motion, strength and coordination;
- (c) One to one and group treatment to develop, restore, or maintain functioning with individualized and measurable client treatment goals;
- (d) Training the client or the client's caregivers in the use of supportive, adaptive equipment or assistive devices;
- (e) Evaluation and management of the care plan when medical conditions or complications require complex non-skilled care and skilled therapist oversight to ensure that the nonskilled care is achieving its purpose; or

(f) Providing other medically necessary services that can only be provided by or under the direct or indirect supervision of an occupational therapist acting within the therapist's scope of practice.

(5) Medically necessary speech-language pathology or audiology services may, but do not necessarily include;

- (a) Assessing baseline level of speech, swallowing, auditory, or communication disorders;
- (b) Establishing a treatment program to improve speech, swallowing, auditory, or communication disorders;
- (c) Providing speech therapy procedures that include auditory comprehension tasks, visual and/or reading comprehension tasks, language intelligibility tasks, training involving the use of alternative communication devices, or swallowing treatment;

(d) Training the client or the client's caregivers in methods to assist the client in improving speech, communication, or swallowing disorders;

(e) Evaluation and management of the care plan when medical conditions or complications require complex non-skilled care and skilled therapist oversight to ensure that non-skilled care is achieving its purpose; or

(f) Providing other medically necessary services that can only be provided by or under the direct or indirect supervision of a speech-language pathology or audiology therapist acting with the therapist's scope of practice.

(6) Medically necessary skilled rehabilitative therapy services, by way of example, do not include:

(a) Reminding or coaching the client in tasks that are not essential to the skilled therapy or intervention in the client's service plan;

(b) Monitoring of a medical condition that does not require frequent skilled therapist intervention or a change in physician treatment orders, or where there is no reasonable expectation that skilled services will maintain, improve, or slow the effect of a progressive disabling condition on the pain, health or functioning of a client;

(c) Massage therapy;

(d) Evaluation and management of the care plan when the complexity of the care to be provided by nonskilled persons does not require the skills of a licensed therapist for oversight;

(e) Continued training by therapy staff to teach self-care for newly diagnosed, acute, or episodic medical conditions when it is apparent that the training should have achieved its purpose or that the client is unwilling or unable to be trained;

(f) Core services that can be provided by an adult day care center, such as routine health monitoring, general health education, or general therapeutic activities; or

(g) Group therapy or training where the ratio of licensed therapists and assisting program staff to clients is inadequate to ensure that:

- (i) The group activity contributes to the individual client's planned therapy goals; and WAC 388-71-0716 Adult day care—Assessment and service plan. (1) The department or an authorized case manager must assess a client's need for adult day care in accordance with WAC 388-71-0203 and 388-71-0716. Based on the assessment, the case manager determines whether the client should be referred for day care services or whether the client's needs can be met in other ways.

(2) If the case manager determines an unmet need for a core service that may be provided at a day care center, the case manager works with the client and/or the client's representative to develop a service plan that documents the needed services and the number of days per week that the services are to be provided. The case manager refers the client to a COPES-contracted day care center that the client and the case manager agree can potentially meet the client's needs.

(3) Clients receiving adult day care services must be reassessed at least annually in accordance with WAC 388-71-0203 and 388-71-0716.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.057, 74.04.200, 74.08.090, 74.09.520, and 74.39A.030. 03-06-024, § 388-71-0716, filed 2/24/03, effective 7/1/03.]

WAC 388-71-0718 Adult day care—Negotiated care plan. (1) Upon referral of a COPES eligible client by the case manager, the day care center must conduct an intake evaluation based on an interview with the client and/or the client's representative to assess the center's ability to meet the client's needs as identified in the department service plan. The case manager will provide the client's service plan to the adult day care provider within five working days after the client or client's representative has signed it.

(2) Within two working days of the referral, the day care center must respond to the referral and notify the case manager of its ability to process and evaluate the referral.

(3) Within ten working days of the initial date of client attendance at the day care center, the center must determine whether it can meet the client's needs, how those needs will be met, and whether to accept the client to the program. The center must not accept a client whose needs the center cannot meet.

(4) Within thirty days of acceptance into the program, the day care center must develop a negotiated care plan signed by the client or the client's representative and the day care center. The care plan must:

(a) Be consistent with the department-authorized service plan and include all day care services authorized in the service plan;

(b) Document the client's needs as identified in the service plan, the adult day care services that will be provided to meet those needs, and when, how, and by whom the services will be provided;

(c) Document the client's choices and preferences concerning the provision of care and services, and how those preferences will be accommodated;

(d) Document potential behavioral issues identified in the assessment, service plan, or through the intake evaluation, and how those issues will be managed;

(e) Document contingency plans for responding to a client's emergent care needs or other crises; and

(f) Be approved by the client's case manager.

(2005 Ed.)

(5) The adult day care center must keep the negotiated care plan in the client's file, must offer a copy of the plan to the client or client representative, and must provide a copy to the client's case manager. The case manager must review the negotiated care plan for inclusion of services that are appropriate and authorized for the client's care needs.

(6) The negotiated care plan must limit the frequency of services to the number of days authorized in the department-authorized service plan.

(7) The day care center must review each service in the negotiated care plan if the client's condition changes, and determine if the care plan continues to meet the client's needs. Changes in the client's condition or unanticipated absences of more than three consecutive days of scheduled service must be reported to the client's case manager within one week. Unanticipated absences by way of example may include absences due to client illness or injury, or a change in transportation access. The case manager may follow-up with the client and determine if any updates to the assessment, service plan, and service authorization are needed.

WAC 388-71-0720 Adult day health—Assessment and service plan. (1) The department or an authorized case manager must assess a client's potential need for adult day health in accordance with WAC 388-71-0203 and 388-71-0720.

(2) If the client has a department or area agency on aging case manager, the adult day health center or other referral source must notify the case manager of the client's potential adult day health service need. The case manager must assess the client's need for skilled nursing or skilled rehabilitative therapy within the department's normal time frames for client reassessments.

(3) If the client does not have a department or area agency on aging case manager, the adult day health center or other referral source must notify the department of the referral and the client's potential adult day health service need, or refer the client to the department for intake. The department's assigned case manager must assess the client's need for adult day health services within the department's normal time frames for initial client eligibility assessments.

(4) Based on the assessment, the department or area agency on aging case manager determines whether the client should be referred for a day health service evaluation or whether the client's needs can be met in other ways. The case manager may consult with the client's practitioner, department or area agency on aging nursing services staff, or other pertinent collateral contacts, concerning the client's need for skilled nursing or rehabilitative therapy.

(5) If the department or area agency on aging case manager determines and documents a potential unmet need for day health services, the case manager works with the client and/or the client's representative to develop a service plan that documents the potential unmet needs and the anticipated number of days per week that the services are needed. The case manager refers the client to a department contracted day health center for evaluation and the development of a preliminary negotiated plan of care.

[Title 388 WAC—p. 351]

(6) The department or area agency on aging case manager must reassess adult day health clients at least annually in accordance with WAC 388-71-0203 and 388-71-0720 or its successor. Clients must also be reassessed if they have a break in service of more than thirty days. The adult day center must inform the case manager of the break in service so payment authorization can be discontinued.

(7) Effective upon the adoption of these rules, recipients of adult day health services must be assessed by the department or an authorized case manager for continued or initial eligibility in accordance with this section. The assessment from the department will occur in conjunction with the:

- (a) Annual reassessment for department clients;
- (b) Adult day health quarterly review for current nondepartmental clients as resources allow; and
- (c) New referrals for adult day health services are to be forwarded to local department offices for intake and assessment for eligibility.

(8) The department or area agency on aging case manager must review a client's continued eligibility for adult day health services every ninety days, coinciding with the quarterly review completed by the adult day health program. At the case manager's discretion, additional information will be gathered through face to face, collateral or other contact methods to determine continued eligibility. Services will be continued, adjusted, or terminated based upon the case manager's determination during the eligibility review.

WAC 388-71-0722 Adult day health—Negotiated care plan. (1) Upon referral of a client by the department or an authorized case manager, the day health center must conduct an intake evaluation and multidisciplinary assessment based on an interview with the client or the client's representative to determine the center's ability to meet the client's core service needs and potential adult day health needs as identified in the preliminary department service plan. The case manager will provide the client's service plan to the day health center within five working days after the client or client's representative has signed it. The day health center must evaluate the client's skilled and core service needs, and may provide up to ten days of paid service to complete the evaluation and develop a preliminary or negotiated plan of care to be provided to the client and the case manager.

(2) Within two working days of the referral, the day health center must respond to the referral and notify the case manager of its ability to process and evaluate the referral.

(3) Within ten paid days of service, the day health center must determine whether it can meet the client's needs, how those needs will be met, and whether to accept the client to the program. The center must not accept a client whose needs the center cannot meet. The center will be reimbursed under WAC 388-71-0724 for any service days provided from the start of the evaluation if the case manager has authorized services. The evaluation includes acceptance of the client to the center, the development of the initial assessment, and the preliminary negotiated plan of care.

(4) Upon approval by the case manager of the adult day health preliminary or negotiated care plan, the day health center multidisciplinary team must obtain and provide to the case manager any required practitioner's orders for skilled nursing and rehabilitative therapy along with a copy of the negotiated plan of care, according to department documentation requirements. Orders must indicate how often the client is to be seen by the authorized practitioner. The case manager or nursing services staff may follow up with the practitioner or other pertinent collateral contacts concerning the client's need for skilled services. Services may not be authorized for payment without current practitioner orders and the client's consent to follow up with the practitioner.

(5) Within thirty days of the client's acceptance into the program, the day health multidisciplinary team must work with the client to develop a negotiated care plan signed by the client or the client's representative and the day health center. The care plan must:

(a) Be consistent with the department-authorized service plan and include all day health services authorized in the service plan;

(b) Include an authorized practitioner's order(s) for skilled nursing and/or skilled rehabilitative therapy according to applicable state practice laws for licensed nurses or therapists;

(c) Document that the client or the client's representative has consented to follow up with the primary authorizing practitioner;

(d) Document the client's needs as identified in the service plan, the authorized services that will be provided to meet those needs, and when, how, and by whom the services will be provided;

(e) Establish time-limited, client specific, measurable goals, not to exceed ninety days from the date of signature of the negotiated care plan, for accomplishing the objectives of adult day health skilled services and/or discharging or transitioning the client to other appropriate settings or services;

(f) Document the client's choices and preferences concerning the provision of care and services, and how those preferences will be accommodated;

(g) Document potential behavioral issues identified in the assessment, service plan, or through the intake evaluation, and how those issues will be managed;

(h) Document contingency plans for responding to a client's emergent care needs or other crises; and

(i) Be approved by the case manager.

(6) The adult day health center must keep the negotiated care plan in the client's file, the plan to the client or client representative, and must provide a copy to the client's case manager, including any required authorizing practitioner orders. The department case manager must review the negotiated care plan for inclusion of services that are appropriate and authorized for the client's care needs.

(7) The negotiated care plan must limit the frequency of department-funded services to the number of days in the department-authorized service plan.

You pay the remaining amount, but not more than the usual rate paid for services as negotiated by the AAA or the department. The formula for determining the department's share of the cost of the services is:

$$\frac{100\% \text{ State Median Income (SMI)} - \text{Household Income} \times 100}{100\% - 40\% \text{ SMI}}$$

RESPITE CARE SERVICES

WAC 388-71-1065 What is the purpose of the respite care program? The respite care program provides relief care for unpaid family or other caregivers of adults with a functional disability. Caregivers may need respite care to:

(1) Relieve some of the stresses of caregiving;

(2) Maintain family structure; or

(3) Keep the adult in his or her home.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.41.040. 00-04-056, § 388-71-1065, filed 1/28/00, effective 2/28/00.]

WAC 388-71-1070 What definitions apply to respite care services? The following definitions apply to respite care services:

"Caregivers" means a spouse, relative, or friend who has primary responsibility for the daily care of an adult with a functional disability without receiving payment for services provided.

"Continuous care or supervision" means daily assistance or oversight of an adult with a functional disability.

"Functionally disabled" means requiring substantial assistance in completing activities of daily living and community living skills.

"Participant" means an adult with a functional disability who needs substantial daily continuous care or supervision.

"Respite care services" means services which relieve unpaid caregivers by providing temporary care or supervision to adults with a functional disability.

"Service provider" means an individual, agency, or organization under contract to the area agency on aging (AAA) or its subcontractor.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.41.040. 00-04-056, § 388-71-1070, filed 1/28/00, effective 2/28/00.]

WAC 388-71-1075 Who is eligible to receive respite care services? (1) To be eligible to receive respite care services, the caregivers must:

(a) Have primary responsibility for the daily care of an adult with a functional disability;

(b) Not be compensated for the care; and

(c) Be assessed as being at risk of placing the participant in a long-term care facility if home and community support services, including respite care, are not available.

(2) An eligible participant is an adult who:

(a) Has a functional disability;

(b) Needs daily substantial continuous care or supervision; and

(c) Is assessed as requiring placement in a long-term care facility if home and community support services, including respite care, are not available.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.41.040. 00-04-056, § 388-71-1075, filed 1/28/00, effective 2/28/00.]

WAC 388-71-1080 Who may provide respite care services? Respite care providers include, but are not limited to the following:

(1) Nursing homes (rules regarding respite services provided in a nursing home, can be found in WAC 388-97-210);

(2) Adult day services, which includes adult day care and adult day health, as defined in WAC 388-15-651;

(3) Home health/home care agencies;

(4) Hospitals;

(5) Licensed residential care facilities such as boarding homes, adult family homes, and assisted living facilities; and

(6) Social service providers such as volunteer chore workers, senior companions, and individual providers.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.41.040. 00-04-056, § 388-71-1080, filed 1/28/00, effective 2/28/00.]

WAC 388-71-1085 How are respite care providers reimbursed for their services? The department reimburses:

(1) Respite care providers for the number of hours or days of services authorized and used. The rate that is established for the services is negotiated between the respite care program of the local area agency on aging and the respite care service provider.

(2) Medicaid-certified nursing homes and developmental disability facilities providing respite services the Medicaid rate approved for that facility. Contracted nursing homes must not charge beyond the Medicaid rate for any services covered from the date of eligibility unless the department authorizes it (see RCW 18.51.070). Participants must pay for services not included in the Medicaid rate.

(3) Private nursing homes at their published daily rate.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.41.040. 00-04-056, § 388-71-1085, filed 1/28/00, effective 2/28/00.]

WAC 388-71-1090 Are participants required to pay for the cost of their services? (1) There is no charge to the participant whose income is at or below forty percent of the state median income, based on a family of four.

(2) If the participant's gross income is above forty percent of the state median income, he or she is required to pay for part or all of the cost of the respite care services. The department will determine what amount the participant must contribute based on the state median income and family size.

(3) If the participant's gross income is one hundred percent or more of the state median income, the participant must pay the full cost of services.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.41.040. 00-04-056, § 388-71-1090, filed 1/28/00, effective 2/28/00.]

WAC 388-71-1095 Are respite care services always available? (1) The department must first consider requests for emergency respite care. An example of an emergency is when the caregiver becomes ill or injured to the extent that the caregiver's ability to care for the disabled adult is impaired.

(2) In nonemergency situations, respite care is allocated based upon available respite funds at the local level. Respite care must be provided on a first-come, first-served basis. If sufficient funds are not available when respite care is requested, services are made available using waiting lists and department-approved priority categories including caregiver vulnerability and health condition, availability of other support systems, and whether other family members need care.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.41.040. 00-04-056, § 388-71-1095, filed 1/28/00, effective 2/28/00.]

ASSESSMENT AND SERVICE PLANNING

WAC 388-72A-0020 What is an assessment? Assessment is defined in WAC 388-71-0202.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 74.09.520, 74.39A.090. 03-05-097, § 388-72A-0020, filed 2/19/03, effective 3/22/03.]

WAC 388-72A-0025 What is the process for conducting an assessment? The department staff or designees will:

(1) Assess your abilities and needs using a department-prescribed assessment tool, called the comprehensive assessment reporting evaluation (CARE); and

(2) Perform the assessment based on an in-person interview with you in your own home or other place of residence, which is defined in WAC 388-71-0202. A case manager may request the assessment be conducted in private.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 74.09.520, 74.39A.090. 03-05-097, § 388-72A-0025, filed 2/19/03, effective 3/22/03.]

WAC 388-72A-0030 What is the purpose of an assessment? Department staff or designees will perform an assessment using CARE to:

(1) Determine eligibility for department-paid home and community programs;

(2) Identify your strengths;

(3) Evaluate your living situation and environment;

(4) Evaluate your physical health, functional and cognitive abilities, social resources, income and financial resources, and emotional and social functioning for service planning purposes;

(5) Identify your values and preferences for effective service planning based on your lifestyle;

(6) Determine availability of alternative resources including family, neighbors, friends, community programs, volunteers, and other service delivery options that will provide needed assistance;

(7) Determine risk of and program eligibility for nursing facility placement; and

(8) Determine need for case management activities.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 74.09.520, 74.39A.090. 03-05-097, § 388-72A-0030, filed 2/19/03, effective 3/22/03.]

WAC 388-72A-0035 What are personal care services? Personal care services means physical or verbal assistance with activities of daily living (ADL) and instrumental activities of daily living (IADL). Assistance is evaluated with the use of assistive devices.

(1) Activities of daily living consist of the following care tasks that are directly related to your disabling condition:

(a) Bathing: How you take a full-body bath/shower, sponge bath, and transfer in/out of tub/shower;

(b) Bed mobility: How you move to and from a lying position, turn side to side, and position your body while in bed;

(c) Body care: How you perform with passive range of motion, applications of dressings and ointments or lotions to the body and pedicure to trim toenails and apply lotion to feet. In adult family homes or in contracted assisted living facilities, dressing changes using clean technique and topical ointments require nurse delegation in accordance with chapter 246-840 WAC. Body care excludes:

(i) Foot care for clients who are diabetic or have poor circulation; or

(ii) Changing bandages or dressings when sterile procedures are required.

(d) Dressing: How you put on, fasten, and take off all items of clothing, including donning/removing prosthesis;

(g) Locomotion outside of immediate living environment including outdoors: How you move to and return from more distant areas. If you are living in a boarding home or nursing facility (NF), this includes areas set aside for dining, activities, etc. If you are living in your own home or in an adult family home, locomotion outside immediate living environment including outdoors, includes how you move to and return from a patio or porch, backyard, to the mailbox, to see the next-door neighbor, etc;

(h) Walk in room, hallway and rest of immediate living environment: How you walk between locations in your room and immediate living environment;

(i) Medication management: Describes the amount of assistance, if any, required to receive medications, over the counter preparations or herbal supplements;

(j) Toilet use: How you use the toilet room, commode, bedpan, or urinal, transfer on/off toilet, cleanse, change pad, manage ostomy or catheter, and adjust clothes;

(k) Transfer: How you move between surfaces, i.e., to/from bed, chair, wheelchair, standing position. Transfer does not include how you move to/from the bath, toilet, or vehicle; and

(l) Personal hygiene: How you maintain personal hygiene, including combing hair, brushing teeth, shaving, applying makeup, washing/drying face, hands (includes nail care), and perineum (menses care). This does not include personal hygiene in baths and showers.

(2) Instrumental activities of daily living (IADL) consist of the following routine activities performed around the home or in the community.

(a) Meal preparation: How meals are prepared (e.g., planning meals, cooking, assembling ingredients, setting out food, utensils, and cleaning up after meals). NOTE: This task may not be authorized to just plan meals or clean up after meals. You must need assistance with actual meal preparation;

(b) Ordinary housework: How ordinary work around the house is performed (e.g., doing dishes, dusting, making bed, tidying up, laundry);

This includes shopping with or for you;

(d) Wood supply: How wood is supplied (e.g., splitting, stacking, or carrying wood) when you use wood as the sole source of fuel for heating and/or cooking;

(e) Travel to medical services: How you travel by vehicle to a physician's office or clinic in the local area to obtain medical diagnosis or treatment-includes driving vehicle yourself, traveling as a passenger in a car, bus, or taxi;

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 74.09.520, 74.39A.090, and 74.39A.095. 04-19-103, § 388-72A-0035, filed 9/20/04, effective 10/21/04. Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 74.09.520, 74.39A.090. 03-05-097, § 388-72A-0035, filed 2/19/03, effective 3/22/03.]

WAC 388-72A-0036 How are my needs for personal care services determined? The assessor gathers information from you, your caregivers, family members, and other sources to determine how much assistance you need with personal care services. For children age seventeen and younger, age expectations and the role of legally responsible natural/step/adoptive parents are considered and documented. This is measured by your:

(1) Self-performance, what you actually did in the last seven days before the assessment, not what you might be capable of doing. Coding is based on the level of performance that occurred three or more times in the seven-day period.

(2) Support provided, which means the highest level of support provided by others in the last seven days before the assessment, even if that level of support occurred only once.

(3) Status, which identifies whether a need is met, unmet, partially met, or declined.

(4) Assistance available.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 74.09.520, 74.39A.090, and 74.39A.095. 04-19-103, § 388-72A-0036, filed 9/20/04, effective 10/21/04.]

WAC 388-72A-0037 How are self-performance and support provided for the activities of daily living (ADLs) scored? (1) For each ADL, except as otherwise provided for bathing, body care, and medication management, the assessor determines your ability to self-perform the ADL. Your self-performance is scored as:

(a) Independent if you received no help or oversight, or if you needed help or oversight only once or twice;

(b) Supervision if you received oversight (monitoring or standby), encouragement, or cueing three or more times;

(c) Limited assistance if you were highly involved in the activity and given physical help in guided maneuvering of limbs or other nonweight bearing assistance on three or more occasions;

(d) Extensive assistance if you performed part of the activity, but on three or more occasions, you needed weight bearing support or you received full performance of the activity during part, but not all, of the activity;

(e) Total dependence if you received full caregiver performance of the activity and all subtasks during the entire seven-day period from others. Total dependence means complete nonparticipation by you in all aspects of the ADL; or

(f) Activity did not occur if you or others do not perform an ADL over the last seven days before your assessment. The activity may not have occurred because:

- (i) You were not able (e.g., walking, if paralyzed); or
- (ii) No provider was available to assist; or
- (iii) You declined assistance with the task.

(2) The assessor also determines the level of support provided. Your support provided is scored as:

(a) No set-up or physical help provided by others;

(b) Set-up help only provided, which is the type of help characterized by providing you with articles, devices, or preparation necessary for greater self-performance of the activity (such as giving or holding out an item that you take from others);

(c) One-person physical assist provided;

(d) Two- or more person physical assist provided; or

(e) Activity did not occur during entire seven-day period.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 74.09.520, 74.39A.090, and 74.39A.095. 04-19-103, § 388-72A-0037, filed 9/20/04, effective 10/21/04.]

WAC 388-72A-0038 How are the ADLs bathing, body care, and medication management scored? (1) The activity of bathing is assessed in the same way as other ADLs in WAC 388-72A-0037, except you are assessed as needing:

(a) Limited assistance with bathing if physical help is limited to transfer only; or

(b) Extensive assistance with bathing if you needed physical help with part of the activity (other than transfer).

(2) The activity of body care is assessed to determine whether you need assistance. You are scored as needing assistance if you require:

- (a) Application of ointment or lotions;
- (b) Trimming of toenails;
- (c) Dry bandage changes; or
- (d) Passive range of motion treatment.

(3) The activity of medication management is assessed to determine whether you need assistance managing your medications. This assistance is scored as:

(a) Independent if you remember to take medications as prescribed and manage your medications without assistance;

(b) Assistance required if you need assistance from a nonlicensed provider to facilitate your self-administration of a prescribed, over the counter, or herbal medication, you are assessed as needing assistance with medication management. Assistance required includes reminding or coaching you, handing you the medication container, opening the container, using an enabler to assist you in getting the medication into your mouth, and placing the medication in your hand. This does not include assistance with intravenous or injectable medications. You must be aware that you are taking medications;

(c) Self-directed medication assistance/administration if you are a person with a functional disability who is capable of and who chooses to self-direct your medication assistance/administration. In licensed boarding homes, this may include situations in which you cannot physically self-administer medications but can accurately direct others, per WAC 388-78A-0300; or

(d) Must be administered if you must have medications placed in your mouth or applied or instilled to your skin or mucus membrane. Administration must either be performed by a licensed professional or delegated by a registered nurse to a qualified caregiver (per chapter 246-840 WAC). Intravenous or injectable medications may never be delegated. Administration may also be performed by a family member or unpaid caregiver if facility licensing regulations allow.

WAC 388-72A-0039 How are self-performance and difficulty for the instrumental activities of daily living (IADLs) scored? (1) For each IADL, the assessor determines your ability to self-perform the IADL. Your self-performance is scored as:

(a) Independent if you received no help, set-up help, or supervision;

(b) Supervision if you received set-up help or arrangements only;

(c) Limited assistance if you sometimes performed the activity yourself and other times needed assistance;

(d) Extensive assistance if you were involved in performing the activity, but required cueing/supervision or partial assistance at all times;

(e) Total dependence if you needed the activity fully performed by others; or

(f) Activity did not occur if you or others did not perform the activity in the last seven days before the assessment.

(2) For each IADL, the assessor determines how difficult it is or would be for you to perform the activity. This is scored as:

(a) No difficulty in performing the activity;

(b) Some difficulty in performing the activity (e.g., you need some help, are very slow, or fatigue easily); or

(c) Great difficulty in performing the activity (e.g., little or no involvement in the activity is possible).

WAC 388-72A-0041 How are status and assistance available scored for ADLs and IADLs? (1) For each ADL and IADL, the assessor determines whether there is an informal support available. An informal support is a person or resource that is available to provide assistance without home and community program funding. The assessor determines whether the ADL or IADL is:

(a) Me, which means the ADL or IADL will be fully provided by an informal support;

(b) Unmet, which means an informal support will not be available to provide assistance with the identified ADL or IADL;

(c) Partially met, which means an informal support will be available to provide some assistance, but not all, with the identified ADL or IADL; or

(d) Client declines, which means you do not want assistance with the task.

(2) If partially met is selected, then the amount of the assistance available is determined using one of four categories:

(a) Less than one-fourth of the time;

(b) One-fourth to one-half of the time;

(c) Over one-half of the time to three-fourths of the time;

or

(d) Over three-fourths of the time.

Note: For children seventeen years and younger living with their legally responsible natural/step/adoptive parents, the status and assistance available will be met or partially met over three fourths of the time.

The following table is used to determine the percentages outlined in subsection (2)(a) through (d) of this section.

WAC 388-72A-0069 How does CARE use the information the assessor gathers? CARE processes the information that the assessor gathers through algorithms. An algorithm is a numerical formula utilized by the CARE assessment software that determines a classification group, payment level and referral needs based upon the information documented in the CARE assessment.

CLASSIFICATION FOR IN-HOME AND RESIDENTIAL CARE

WAC 388-72A-0070 What are the in-home hours and residential rate based on? The department employs a client classification methodology consisting of fourteen care groups. Twelve groups apply to clients served in residential and in-home settings. For the in-home setting, two additional exceptional care groups apply. The department uses CARE to assess client characteristics. CARE places clients in a classification group based on the assessment. For in-home settings, each classification group is assigned a base number of care hours.

WAC 388-72A-0080 What criteria does the CARE tool use to place a client in one of the classification groups? The CARE tool uses the following criteria to place a client in one of the classification groups:

- (1) Cognitive performance, as defined in WAC 388-72A-0081, by using the cognitive performance scale (CPS) and assigning a score from zero to six.
- (2) Clinical complexity, as defined in WAC 388-72A-0082.
- (3) Mood/behaviors symptoms, as defined in WAC 388-72A-0083.
- (4) ADLs by scoring the amount of assistance received to perform ADL in the past seven days, as defined in WAC 388-72A-0084.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 74.09.520, 74.39A.090, and 74.39A.095. 04-19-103, § 388-72A-0080, filed 9/20/04, effective 10/21/04. Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 74.09.520, 74.39A.090. 03-05-097, § 388-72A-0080, filed 2/19/03, effective 3/22/03.]

WAC 388-72A-0081 How is cognitive performance measured in the CARE tool? The CARE tool uses a standardized tool called the cognitive performance scale (CPS) to evaluate a client's cognitive impairment. The CPS results in a score that ranges from zero (intact) to six (very severe impairment), as shown in the table below. Answers to the following questions are used to determine a client's CPS score:

- (1) Is the client comatose?
 - (a) No,
 - (b) Yes.

(2) What is the client's ability to make everyday decisions about tasks or activities of daily living in the seven days prior to the assessment?

(a) Independent—Decisions about the client's daily routine are consistent and organized; reflecting the client's lifestyle, choices, culture, and values.

(b) Modified Independence/difficulty in new situations—The client has an organized daily routine, was able to make decisions in familiar situations, but experienced some difficulty in decision making when faced with new tasks or situations.

(c) Moderately impaired/poor decisions; unaware of consequences—Decisions are poor and the client requires reminders, cues and supervision in planning, organizing and correcting daily routines. Client attempts to make decisions, although poorly.

(d) Severely impaired/no or few decisions or preferences regarding ADLs—Decision making severely impaired, never/rarely makes decisions.

(3) How is the client able to make himself/herself understood (to those closest to him/her), to express or communicate requests, needs, opinions, urgent problems and social conversations, whether in speech, writing, sign language, symbols, or a combination of these including use of a communication board or keyboard?

(a) Understood—The client expresses ideas clearly;

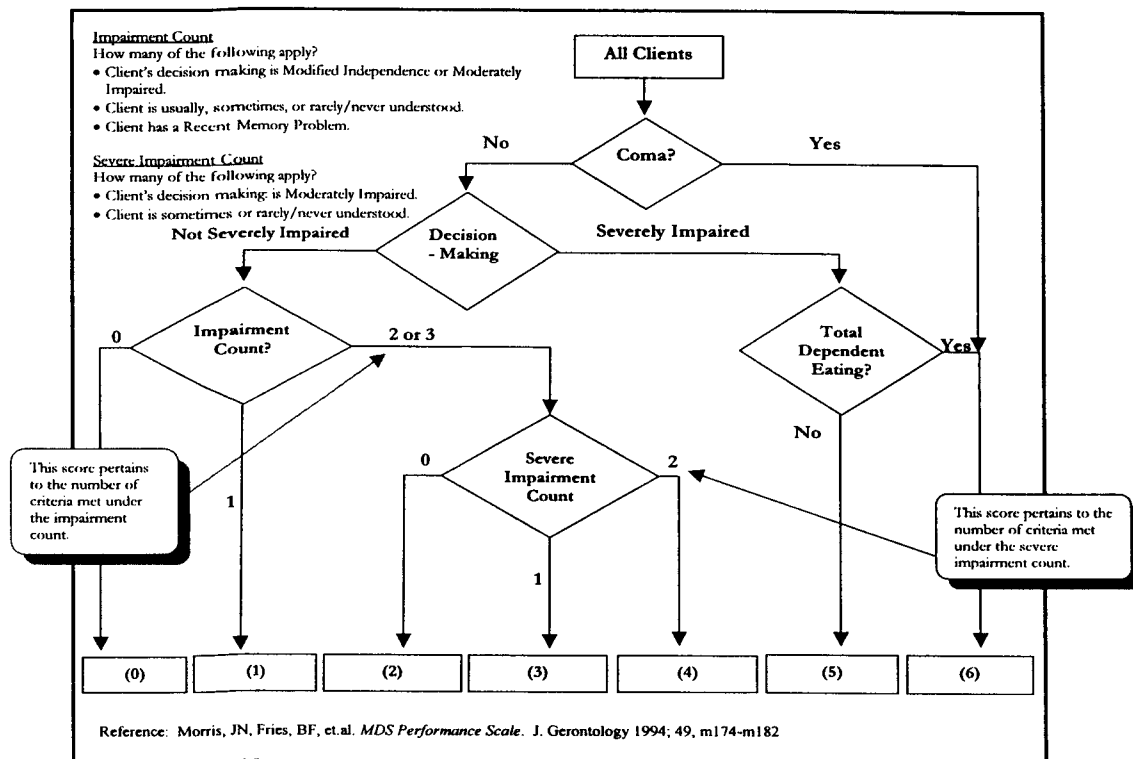

(b) Usually understood—The client has difficulty finding the right words or finishing thoughts, resulting in delayed responses; or requires some prompting to make self understood.

(c) Sometimes understood—The client has limited ability, but is able;

(d) Rarely/never understood.

(4) Does the client have short-term memory problem, which is defined as client's capacity to remember recent events; or does the client have delayed recall?

(5) Does the client have total dependence for self performance in eating, as defined in WAC 388-72A-0037?

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 74.09.520, 74.39A.090, and 74.39A.095. 04-19-103, § 388-72A-0081, filed 9/20/04, effective 10/21/04.]

WAC 388-72A-0083 How are mood and behaviors measured within the CARE tool? (1) When you do not meet the criteria for clinical complexity as defined in WAC 388-72A-0082 or the criteria for exceptional care, as defined in WAC 388-72A-0085, or have a cognitive performance scale score of five or six (in-home only), as defined in WAC 388-72A-0082, the mood and behavior criteria listed in subsection (3) below determines your classification group.

(2) Each documented behavior within CARE is described as:

(a) Current, which means it occurred within seven days of the assessment date, including the day of the assessment. Behaviors that are indicated as current must also include information about:

(i) Whether the behavior is easily altered or not easily altered; and

(ii) The frequency of the behavior.

(b) Past, which means it occurred between eight days and five years of the assessment date. For behaviors indicated as past, the assessor determines whether the behavior is addressed with current interventions or whether no interventions are in place.

(3) CARE places you in the mood and behavior classification group only if you have one or more of the following behavior/moods that meets the corresponding description in the status, frequency, and alterability column. No other moods or behaviors documented in CARE are pertinent to this group.

| Behavior/Mood | AND Status, Frequency & Alterability |

| Assaultive | Current |
| Combative during personal care | Current |
| Combative during personal care | In past and addressed with current interventions |

WAC 388-72A-0084 How are ADL scores measured within the CARE tool? (1) CARE determines an ADL score ranging from zero to twenty-eight. The ADL scores are determined by looking at the self-performance coding for each of the ADLs listed below. Although assessed in CARE, bathing and medication management are not scored to determine the classification groups.

- (a) Personal hygiene;
- (b) Bed mobility;
- (c) Transfers;
- (d) Eating;
- (e) Toilet use;

- (f) Dressing;
- (g) Locomotion in room;
- (h) Locomotion outside room; and
- (i) Walk in room.

(2) CARE assigns a points value as described in the chart below. Only one score is used for the locomotion in room, locomotion outside of room and walk in room. The highest score of the three is used in determining the overall ADL score.

| ADL Scoring Chart | |
|-------------------------------|--------------|
| If Self Performance is: | Score Equals |
| Independent | 0 |
| Supervision | 1 |
| Limited assistance | 2 |
| Extensive assistance | 3 |
| Total dependence | 4 |

| Did not occur/client not able | 4 |
| Did not occur/client declined | 0 |

DETERMINING HOURS FOR IN-HOME SERVICES

WAC 388-72A-0090 What are the maximum hours that I can receive for in-home services? The maximum hours that you can receive for in-home services are determined through the CARE tool. The maximum hours are based upon your classification group. The highest hours attached to an in-home classification group is four hundred twenty per month. These hours are based on criteria outlined in WAC 388-72A-0095. For Chore program clients, the maximum personal care hours per month the department will pay is one hundred sixteen.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 74.09.520, 74.39A.090, and 74.39A.095. 04-19-103, § 388-72A-0090, filed 9/20/04, effective 10/21/04. Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 74.09.520, 74.39A.090. 03-05-097, § 388-72A-0090, filed 2/19/03, effective 3/22/03.]

WAC 388-72A-0092 How are my in-home hours determined? (1) A base number of hours is assigned to each classification group as described in WAC 388-72A-0087.

(2) In accordance with WAC 388-72A-0095 and 388-71-0460, the base hours are adjusted to account for informal support, paid by individual(s) or group(s) other than the department and support shared living circumstances.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 74.09.520, 74.39A.090, and 74.39A.095. 04-19-103, § 388-72A-0092, filed 9/20/04, effective 10/21/04.]

WAC 388-72A-0095 What additional criteria are considered to determine the number of hours I will receive for in-home services? (1) In addition to criteria defined in WAC 388-72A-0081, 388-72A-0082, 388-72A-0083, 388-72A-0084, 388-72A-0087, or 388-71-0460, CARE will take into account:

[Title 388 WAC—p. 383]

(a) The amount of informal supports available to fully or partially meet your needs as described in WAC 388-72A-0041.

(i) As shown in the following table, CARE determines the adjustment by placing a numeric value on the amount of assistance available to meet your needs and reduces the base hours assigned to the classification group using the values listed below for each ADL and IADL.

| Meds | Self Performance | Status | Assistance Available | Value Percentage |
|--|--|---------------|----------------------|------------------|
| Self administration of medications | Rules for all codes apply except independent is not counted | Unmet | N/A | 1 |
| | | Met | N/A | 0 |
| | | Decline | N/A | 0 |
| | | Partially met | <1/4 time | .9 |
| | | | 1/4 to 1/2 time | .7 |
| | | | 1/2 to 3/4 time | .5 |
| >3/4 time | .3 | | | |
| Unscheduled ADLs | Self Performance | Status | Assistance Available | Value Percentage |
| Bed mobility, transfer, walk in room, eating, toilet use | Rules apply for all codes except: Did not occur/client not able and Did not occur/no provider = 1; Did not occur/client declined and independent are not counted. | Unmet | N/A | 1 |
| | | Met | N/A | 0 |
| | | Decline | N/A | 0 |
| | | Partially met | <1/4 time | .9 |
| | | | 1/4 to 1/2 time | .7 |
| | | | 1/2 to 3/4 time | .5 |
| >3/4 time | .3 | | | |
| Scheduled ADLs | Self Performance | Status | Assistance Available | Value Percentage |
| Dressing personal hygiene bathing | Rules apply for all codes except: Did not occur/client not able and Did not occur/no provider = 1; Did not occur/client declined and independent are not counted . | Unmet | N/A | 1 |
| | | Met | N/A | 0 |
| | | Decline | N/A | 0 |
| | | Partially met | <1/4 time | .75 |
| | | | 1/4 to 1/2 time | .55 |
| | | | 1/2 to 3/4 time | .35 |
| >3/4 time | .15 | | | |
| IADLs | Self Performance | Status | Assistance Available | Value Percentage |
| Meal preparation Ordinary housework Essential shopping | Rules for all codes apply except independent is not counted. | Unmet | N/A | 1 |
| | | Met | N/A | 0 |
| | | Decline | N/A | 0 |
| | | Partially met | <1/4 time | .3 |
| | | | 1/4 to 1/2 time | .2 |
| | | | 1/2 to 3/4 time | .1 |
| >3/4 time | .05 | | | |
| IADLs | Self Performance | Status | Assistance Available | Value Percentage |
| Travel to medical | Rules for all codes apply except independent is not counted. | Unmet | N/A | 1 |
| | | Met | N/A | 0 |
| | | Decline | N/A | 0 |
| | | Partially met | <1/4 time | .9 |
| | | | 1/4 to 1/2 time | .7 |
| | | | 1/2 to 3/4 time | .5 |
| >3/4 time | .3 | | | |

(ii) The value percentage assigned to each specified ADL/IADL is summed and carried two decimal places. The resulting number is then divided by the number of qualifying ADL and IADL needs. If self-performance is coded as independent or did not occur/client declined then they are not qualifying ADLs and IADLs. The result is value A. Value A is then subtracted from one. This is value B. Value B is divided by three. This is value C. Value A and value C are summed. This is value D. Value D is multiplied by the "base hours" assigned to the client's classification group in WAC 388-72A-0087.

(b) Your environment, as described in the diagrams below.

| Condition | Status | Assistance Available | Add On Hours |
|--|---------------|-------------------------|--------------|
| Offsite laundry facilities, which means the client does not have facilities in own home and the caregiver is not available to perform any other personal or household tasks while laundry is done. | N/A | N/A | 8 |
| Client is >45 minutes from essential services (which means he/she lives more than 45 minutes one-way from a full-service market). | Unmet | N/A | 5 |
| | Met | N/A | 0 |
| | Partially met | <1/4 time | 5 |
| | | between 1/4 to 1/2 time | 4 |

| | Partially met | <1/4 time | 8 |
| | | between 1/4 to 1/2 time | 6 |
| | | between 1/2 to 3/4 time | 4 |
| | | >3/4 time | 2 |

(c) Your living arrangement.

(i) If there is more than one client living in the same household, the status cannot be unmet for the following IADLs:

- (A) Meal preparation,
- (B) Housekeeping,
- (C) Shopping,
- (D) Wood supply.

(ii) If you and your paid provider live in the same household, the status must be met for the following IADLs:

- (A) Meal preparation,
- (B) Housekeeping,
- (C) Shopping,
- (D) Wood supply.

(iii) When there is more than one client living in the same household and your paid provider lives in your household, the status must be met for the following IADLs:

- (A) Meal preparation,
- (B) Housekeeping,
- (C) Shopping, and
- (D) Wood supply.

(2) The hours identified in WAC 388-72A-0095 (1)(b) are added to the resulting hours in WAC 388-72A-0095 (1)(a). The result is the maximum number of hours that can be used to develop your care plan. The assessor must take into account cost effectiveness, client health and safety, and program limits in determining how hours can be used to meet identified client needs.

(3) Within the limits of subsection (2) of this section, you and your case manager will work to determine what services you choose to receive if you are eligible. The hours may be used to authorize:

- (a) Personal care services (per WAC 388-72A-0055, 388-72A-0060, 388-72A-0065, or 388-845-1300);

WAC 388-76-59000 What authority does the department have to adopt rules related to specialty homes? (1) The legislature under RCW 70.128.005 and 70.128.040 authorizes the department to adopt rules to cover the needs of different populations living in adult family homes. This includes, but is not limited to, the developmentally disabled and the elderly.

(2) The department is authorized to adopt rules to cover special care training necessary for adult family home providers or resident managers. The legislature established that, as a minimum qualification, each of the adult family home providers and resident managers must complete special care training before providing special care services. (See RCW 70.128.120.)

[Statutory Authority: RCW 70.128.040, 70.128.060, chapter 70.129 RCW and 1998 c 272. 98-12-054, § 388-76-59000, filed 5/29/98, effective 7/1/98.]

WAC 388-76-59010 What types of specialty adult family home designations are there? Adult family homes may be designated as a specialty home in one or more of the following three categories:

- (1) Developmental disability,
- (2) Mental illness, and/or
- (3) Dementia.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 70.128.040, 70.128.060, chapter 70.129 RCW and 1998 c 272. 98-12-054, § 388-76-59010, filed 5/29/98, effective 7/1/98.]

WAC 388-76-59020 What definitions apply to specialty adult family home designations? For purposes of specialty adult family home designations, the following definitions apply:

Dementia is defined as a condition documented through the assessment process required by WAC 388-76-61020.

Developmental disability means:

(1) A person who meets the eligibility criteria defined in Washington Administrative Code by the division of developmental disabilities under chapter 275-27 WAC; or

(2) A person with a severe, chronic disability which is attributable to cerebral palsy or epilepsy, or any other condition, other than mental illness, found to be closely related to mental retardation which results in impairment of general intellectual functioning or adaptive behavior similar to that of a person with mental retardation, and requires treatment or services similar to those required for these persons (i.e., autism); and

(a) The condition was manifested before the person reached age twenty-two; and

(b) The condition is likely to continue indefinitely; and

(c) The condition results in substantial functional limitations in three or more of the following areas of major life activities:

- (i) Self-care;

- (ii) Understanding and use of language;
- (iii) Learning;
- (iv) Mobility;
- (v) Self-direction; and
- (vi) Capacity for independent living.

Mental illness is defined as an Axis I or II diagnosed mental illness as outlined in volume IV of the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders (a copy is available for review through the aging and adult services administration).

[Statutory Authority: RCW 70.128.040, 70.128.060, chapter 70.129 RCW and 1998 c 272. 98-12-054, § 388-76-59020, filed 5/29/98, effective 7/1/98.]

WAC 388-76-59050 What is required in order to obtain the specialty designation? The department will grant an adult family home a specialty designation for one or more of the three areas of specialty when:

- (1) The individual provider or entity representative, and the resident manager, if there is a resident manager, have successfully completed one or more of the specialty care trainings; and
- (2) The provider supplies the department with certification of successful completion of the required specialty care training or the challenge test; and
- (3) The provider ensures that the specialty needs of the resident are identified and met, and that all caregivers in the home receive training regarding the specialty needs of the individual residents in the home. This training must cover the routine and changing care needs of the resident. The provider or a person knowledgeable about the specialty area may give this training.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 70.128.040, 70.128.060, chapter 70.129 RCW and 1998 c 272. 98-12-054, § 388-76-59050, filed 5/29/98, effective 7/1/98.]

WAC 388-76-59060 Are adult family home providers required to obtain more than one specialty designation if an individual resident has more than one specialty need? If an individual resident has needs that meet more than one of the definitions for developmental disability, mental illness, and dementia, described in WAC 388-76-59020, the provider must determine which one of the specialty trainings will most appropriately address the overall needs of the resident. The provider must then obtain the specialty training and designation that corresponds with this determination. The provider must ensure additional training of caregivers is obtained if needed to meet all of the resident's needs. This additional training may be the specialty designation training or another training chosen by the provider.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 70.128.040, 70.128.060, chapter 70.129 RCW and 1998 c 272. 98-12-054, § 388-76-59060, filed 5/29/98, effective 7/1/98.]

WAC 388-76-59070 Are adult family home providers required to obtain more than one specialty designation if they serve two or more residents with different specialty needs? When adult family home providers serve two or more residents with different specialty needs they must obtain a separate specialty designation for each of the specialty needs. For example, if one resident has needs meeting the definition for dementia, and a second resident has needs meeting the definition for mental illness, the provider must obtain a specialty designation for both dementia and mental illness. In a home where one resident has needs meeting the definition for a developmental disability, a second resident has needs meeting the definition for mental illness, and a third resident has needs meeting the definition for dementia, the provider must obtain a specialty designation for developmental disabilities, mental illness, and dementia.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 70.128.040, 70.128.060, chapter 70.129 RCW and 1998 c 272. 98-12-054, § 388-76-59070, filed 5/29/98, effective 7/1/98.]

WAC 388-76-59080 When will providers be required to become specialty adult family homes in order to serve persons with mental illness or dementia? Beginning October 1, 1999:

- (1) An adult family home is required to become a specialty adult family home in order to admit and serve residents who have been determined to meet the definitions in this section for a mental illness or dementia; and
- (2) Individual providers, entity representatives, and resident managers will have one hundred twenty days to complete specialty care training after a resident already living in the home develops mental illness or dementia as defined in this section.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 70.128.040, 70.128.060, chapter 70.129 RCW and 1998 c 272. 98-12-054, § 388-76-59080, filed 5/29/98, effective 7/1/98.]

WAC 388-76-60000 What are resident rights? (1) Under RCW 70.129.005 long-term care facility residents should have the opportunity to exercise reasonable control over life decisions.

(2) Long-term care residents should have privacy and choices to engage in religious, political, civic, recreational, and other social activities to foster a sense of self-worth and enhance the quality of life. (See chapter 70.129 RCW.)

(2005 Ed.)

(3) Long-term care residents should receive appropriate services, be treated with courtesy, and continue to enjoy their basic civil and legal rights. (See chapter 70.129 RCW.)

The information that the provider supplies to potential residents and their families assists them to make informed choices about whether the individual adult family home will be able to provide appropriate high quality services, and what the costs will be for services.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 70.128.040, 70.128.060, chapter 70.129 RCW and 1998 c 272. 98-12-054, § 388-76-60020, filed 5/29/98, effective 7/1/98.]

WAC 388-76-60040 Must the information be updated and supplied again in advance of changes? The provider must inform each resident or the resident's representative in writing thirty days in advance of changes in the availability or the charges for services, items, or activities, or of changes in the adult family home's rules. Except in emergencies, thirty days' advance notice must be given prior to the change. When there are substantial and continuing changes in the resident's condition necessitating substantially greater or lesser services, items or activities, then the related charges may be changed with fourteen days' advance written notice.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 70.128.040, 70.128.060, chapter 70.129 RCW and 1998 c 272. 98-12-054, § 388-76-60040, filed 5/29/98, effective 7/1/98.]

WAC 388-76-61030 How does the preliminary service plan fit within the resident assessment? The preliminary service plan is part of the resident assessment, and is completed by the person conducting the assessment. The assessment and preliminary service plan create the foundation for the negotiated care plan, which is described in WAC 388-76-61500. The preliminary service plan describes needs for services and an initial plan for how to meet the needs that are identified at the time of the assessment. This plan should be developed by the provider and made more specific when the negotiated care plan is developed and reviewed. At a minimum, the preliminary service plan must contain:

- (1) A complete description of the client's specific problems and needs;

Under these circumstances the required assessment must be completed within five working days of the resident's admission.

(2) For individuals whose care is paid for fully or partially by the department, the provider must obtain the approval of the authorized department case manager prior to admission. If this approval is obtained verbally, the provider must document the time, the date, and the name of the case manager.

WAC 388-76-61520 How does the negotiated care plan fit in with the assessment and preliminary service plan? The assessment and preliminary service plan, which are done by the person conducting the assessment, create the foundation for the negotiated care plan. The preliminary service plan describes needs for services and an initial plan for how to meet the needs. This plan is limited to needs that are identified at the time of the assessment. It is expected that, over time, the provider will learn more about the resident's needs and how to make sure they are met. The provider is responsible to work with the preliminary service plan and update it and make it more specific. As it is updated and made more specific, and as the resident or the resident's representative becomes involved in its development, it becomes the negotiated care plan. The negotiated care plan provides specific details about how the resident's needs and preferences will be addressed within the individual adult family home.

The provider must implement the negotiated care plan after it has been agreed to and signed by the resident or the resident's representative, if the resident has a representative.

(5) If a provider becomes aware that a resident who self-administers is refusing a prescribed medication, the provider must notify the prescribing practitioner unless the provider, acting within their scope of practice, is able to make a judgment about the significance of the resident's refusal.

(6) The provider must ensure that the negotiated care plan addresses how residents will get their medications when they are absent from the adult family home or when a family member assisting with medications is not available.

(7) The provider must have a policy addressing the disposition of resident prescribed medications that are unused, leftover, or remaining after the resident leaves the adult family home.

This assistance does not include injectable or intravenous medications as defined in WAC 246-888-020.

(4) Medication administration is required when a resident cannot safely perform independent self-administration or self-administration with assistance. Medication administration must be performed by a practitioner as defined in chapter 69.41 RCW or by nurse delegation (WAC 246-840-910 through 246-840-970), unless performed by a family member or surrogate decision maker as defined in RCW 7.70.065.

(5) If a resident's circumstances require a combination of independent with self-administration, self-administration with assistance, or medication administration, the reason(s) for this combination must be explained in the resident's negotiated care plan.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 70.128.040, 69.41.085. 02-20-005, § 388-76-64015, filed 9/18/02, effective 10/19/02.]

(2) The practitioner, in consultation with the resident or their representative and the provider, considers such factors as the physical and mental limitations of the resident and the setting or environment where the resident lives.

(3) While no additional separate assessment or documentation of the resident's needs is required for initiating self-administration with assistance, the provider must amend the resident's negotiated care plan to reflect this service.

"Moratorium" means a temporary stoppage of the acceptance of new adult family home applications received during the dates specified in WAC 388-76-9974. "Need" means the necessity for long-term care services by persons enrolled in Medicaid whose care requirements have been assessed to be most appropriately served in a residential long-term care setting. To meet this definition, the department must find that a need exists for one of the following:

(1) Services for persons who reside in a geographical area which has a lack of available providers; a need will be found by the department based on consultation with case managers and on a review of the availability of existing residential facilities; or

(2) Services for persons whose requirements are distinctive, and require special expertise by care providers; a need will be found by the department based on consultation with case managers or specialized departmental staff, such as staff serving persons with developmental disabilities or with mental health disabilities; or

(3) Services for persons of particular ethnic groups whose cultural lifestyle can only be maintained by care providers with knowledge of their culture; a need will be found by the department based on consultation with case managers or specialized departmental staff, such as staff serving persons with developmental disabilities, or persons with mental health disabilities; or

(4) Services for persons who would be isolated from family and friends if they relocated across a long distance in order to receive residential services; a need will be found by the department based on a review of the proximity of existing residential facilities.

Chapter 388-79 WAC

|------------|--|
| 388-79-010 | Purpose. |
| 388-79-020 | Definitions. |
| 388-79-030 | Maximum fees and costs. |
| 388-79-040 | Procedure to revise award letter after June 15, 1998, but before September 1, 2003. |
| 388-79-050 | Procedure for allowing fees and costs from client participation after September 1, 2003. |

WAC 388-79-010 Purpose. These rules implement RCW 11.92.180 and 43.20B.460 to the extent that those statutes require the department to establish by rule the maximum amount of guardianship fees and additional compensation for administrative costs that may be allowed by the court for a guardian or limited guardian of an incapacitated person who is a Medicaid client of the department and is thus required by federal law to contribute to the cost of the client's long-term care.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 11.92.180, 43.20B.460, 03-16-022, § 388-79-010, filed 7/28/03, effective 8/28/03; 98-10-055, § 388-79-010, filed 4/30/98, effective 5/31/98.]

WAC 388-79-020 Definitions. "Administrative costs" or "costs" means necessary costs paid by the guardian including attorney fees.

"Client" means a person who is eligible for and is receiving Medicaid-funded long-term care.

(2005 Ed.)

"Guardianship fees" or "fees" means necessary fees charged by a guardian for services rendered on behalf of a client.

"Participation" means the amount the client pays from current monthly income toward the cost of the client's long-term care.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 11.92.180, 43.20B.460, 03-16-022, § 388-79-020, filed 7/28/03, effective 8/28/03; 98-10-055, § 388-79-020, filed 4/30/98, effective 5/31/98.]

WAC 388-79-030 Maximum fees and costs. The superior court may allow guardianship fees and administrative costs in an amount set out in an order. For orders entered after June 15, 1998, where the order establishes or continues a legal guardianship for a department client, and requires a future review or accounting; then unless otherwise modified by the process described in WAC 388-79-040:

(1) The amount of guardianship fees shall not exceed one hundred seventy-five dollars per month;

(2) The amount of administrative costs directly related to establishing a guardianship for a department client shall not exceed seven hundred dollars; and

(3) The amount of administrative costs shall not exceed a total of six hundred dollars during any three-year period.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 11.92.180, 43.20B.460, 03-16-022, § 388-79-030, filed 7/28/03, effective 8/28/03; 98-10-055, § 388-79-030, filed 4/30/98, effective 5/31/98.]

WAC 388-79-040 Procedure to revise award letter after June 15, 1998, but before September 1, 2003. After June 15, 1998, but before September 1, 2003, where a department client is subject to a guardianship then the department shall be entitled to notice of proceedings as described in RCW 11.92.150.

(1) The notice shall be given to the appropriate regional administrator of the program serving the department client. A list of the regional administrators will be available upon request.

(2) If the fees and costs requested and established by the order are equal to or lower than the maximum amount set by this rule then the award letter or document setting the department's client's participation shall be adjusted to reflect that amount upon receipt by the department of the court order setting a monthly amount.

(3) Should fees and costs above those requested in WAC 388-79-030 be requested:

(a) The appropriate regional administrator will be given notice of the hearing as described in RCW 11.92.150, and provided with copies of all supporting documents filed with the court.

(b) Should the court determine after consideration of the facts, law and evidence of the case, that fees and costs higher than normally allowed in WAC 388-79-030 are just and reasonable and should be allowed then the award letter or document setting the department client's participation shall be adjusted to reflect that amount upon receipt by the department of the court order setting a monthly amount.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 11.92.180, 43.20B.460, 03-16-022, § 388-79-040, filed 7/28/03, effective 8/28/03; 98-10-055, § 388-79-040, filed 4/30/98, effective 5/31/98.]

(2005 Ed.)

WAC 388-79-050 Procedure for allowing fees and costs from client participation after September 1, 2003.

(1) After September 1, 2003, where a client is subject to a guardianship the department shall be entitled to notice of proceedings as described in RCW 11.92.150.

(2) The notice must be served to the department's regional administrator of the program that is providing services to the client. A list of the regional administrators will be furnished upon request.

(3) If the fees and costs requested and established by the order are equal to or less than the maximum amounts allowed under WAC 388-79-030, then the department will adjust the client's current participation to reflect the amounts allowed upon receipt by the department of the court order setting the monthly amounts.

(4) Should fees and costs in excess of the amounts allowed in WAC 388-79-030 be requested:

(a) At least ten days before filing the request with the court, the guardian must present the request in writing to the appropriate regional administrator to allow the department an opportunity to consider whether the request should be granted on an exceptional basis.

(b) In considering a request for extraordinary fees or costs, the department must consider the following factors:

(i) The department's obligation under federal and state law to ensure that federal Medicaid funding is not jeopardized by noncompliance with federal regulations limiting deductions from the client's participation amount;

(ii) The usual and customary guardianship services for which the maximum fees and costs under WAC 388-79-030 must be deemed adequate for a Medicaid client, including but not limited to:

- (A) Acting as a representative payee;
- (B) Managing the client's financial affairs;
- (C) Preserving and/or disposing of property;
- (D) Making health care decisions;
- (E) Visiting and/or maintaining contact with the client;
- (F) Accessing public assistance programs on behalf of the client;
- (G) Communicating with the client's service providers; and
- (H) Preparing any reports or accountings required by the court.

(iii) Extraordinary services provided by the guardian, such as:

- (A) Unusually complicated property transactions;
- (B) Substantial interactions with adult protective services or criminal justice agencies;
- (C) Extensive medical services setup needs and/or emergency hospitalizations; and
- (D) Litigation other than litigating an award of guardianship fees or costs.

(c) Should the court determine after consideration of the facts and law that fees and costs in excess of the amounts allowed in WAC 388-79-030 are just and reasonable and should be allowed, then the department will adjust the client's current participation to reflect the amounts allowed upon receipt by the department of the court order setting the monthly amounts.

(5) In no event may a client's participation be prospectively or retrospectively reduced to pay fees and costs incurred before the effective date of the client's Medicaid eligibility; or during any subsequent time period when the client was not eligible for, or did not receive long-term care services; or after the client has died. There is no client participation towards DDD certified and contracted supported living services under chapter 388-820 WAC, so the department has no responsibility to reimburse the client for guardianship fees when those fees result in the client having insufficient income to pay their living expenses.

(6) If the court at a prior accounting has allowed the guardian to receive fees and costs from the client's monthly income in advance of services rendered by the guardian, and the client dies before the next accounting, the fees and costs allowed by the court at the final accounting may be less than, but may not exceed, the amounts advanced and paid to the guardian from the client's income.

(7) Guardians must furnish the regional administrator with complete packets to include all documents filed with the court and with formal notice clearly identifying the amount requested.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 11.92.180, 43.20B.460, 03-16-022, § 388-79-050, filed 7/28/03, effective 8/28/03.]

WAC 388-96-010 Definitions. Unless the context indicates otherwise, the following definitions apply in this chapter.

"Accounting" means activities providing information, usually quantitative and often expressed in monetary units, for:

- (1) Decision making;
- (2) Planning;
- (3) Evaluating performance;
- (4) Controlling resources and operations; and
- (5) External financial reporting to investors, creditors, regulatory authorities, and the public.

"Administration and management" means activities used to maintain, control, and evaluate the efforts and resources of an organization for the accomplishment of the objectives and policies of that organization.

"Allowable costs" means documented costs that are necessary, ordinary, and related to the care of Medicaid recipients, and are not expressly declared nonallowable by this chapter or chapter 74.46 RCW. Costs are ordinary if they are of the nature and magnitude that prudent and cost conscious management would pay.

"Allowable depreciation costs" means depreciation costs of tangible assets, whether owned or leased by the contractor, meeting the criteria specified in RCW 74.46.330.

"Assignment of contract" means:

- (1) A new nursing facility licensee has elected to care for Medicaid residents;
- (2) The department finds no good cause to object to continuing the Medicaid contract at the facility; and
- (3) The new licensee accepts assignment of the immediately preceding contractor's contract at the facility.

"Capitalized lease" means a lease required to be recorded as an asset and associated liability in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

"Cash method of accounting" means a method of accounting in which revenues are recorded when cash is received, and expenditures for expense and asset items are not recorded until cash is disbursed for those expenditures and assets.

"Change of ownership" means a substitution, elimination, or withdrawal of the individual operator or operating entity contracting with the department to deliver care services to medical care recipients in a nursing facility and ultimately responsible for the daily operational decisions of the nursing facility.

(1) Events which constitute a change of ownership include, but are not limited to, the following:

(a) Changing the form of legal organization of the contractor, e.g., a sole proprietor forms a partnership or corporation;

(b) Transferring ownership of the nursing facility business enterprise to another party, regardless of whether ownership of some or all of the real property and/or personal property assets of the facility are also transferred;

(c) Dissolving of a partnership;

(d) Dissolving the corporation, merging the corporation with another corporation, which is the survivor, or consolidating with one or more other corporations to form a new corporation;

(e) Transferring, whether by a single transaction or multiple transactions within any continuous twenty-four-month period, fifty percent or more of the stock to one or more:

(i) New or former stockholders; or

(ii) Present stockholders each having held less than five percent of the stock before the initial transaction;

(f) Substituting of the individual operator or the operating entity by any other event or combination of events that results in a substitution or substitution of control of the individual operator or the operating entity contracting with the department to deliver care services; or

(g) A nursing facility ceases to operate.

(2) Ownership does not change when the following, without more, occurs:

(a) A party contracts with the contractor to manage the nursing facility enterprise as the contractor's agent, i.e., subject to the contractor's general approval of daily operating and management decisions; or

(b) The real property or personal property assets of the nursing facility change ownership or are leased, or a lease of them is terminated, without a substitution of individual operator or operating entity and without a substitution of control of the operating entity contracting with the department to deliver care services.

"Charity allowance" means a reduction in charges made by the contractor because of the indigence or medical indigence of a patient.

"Component rate allocation(s)" means the initial component rate allocation(s) of the rebased rate for a rebase period effective July 1. If a month and a day, other than July 1, with a year precedes "component rate allocation(s)," it means the initial component rate allocation(s) of the rebased rate of the rebase period has been amended or updated effective the date that precedes it, e.g., October 1, 1999 direct care component rate allocation.

"Contract" means an agreement between the department and a contractor for the delivery of nursing facility services to medical care recipients.

"Cost report" means all schedules of a nursing facility's cost report submitted according to the department's instructions.

"Courtesy allowances" means reductions in charges in the form of an allowance to physicians, clergy, and others, for services received from the contractor. Employee fringe benefits are not considered courtesy allowances.

"Donated asset" means an asset the contractor acquired without making any payment for the asset either in cash, property, or services. An asset is not a donated asset if the contractor:

- (1) Made even a nominal payment in acquiring the asset;
- or
- (2) Used donated funds to purchase the asset.

"Equity capital" means total tangible and other assets which are necessary, ordinary, and related to patient care from the most recent provider cost report minus related total long-term debt from the most recent provider cost report plus working capital as defined in this section.

"Fiscal year" means the operating or business year of a contractor. All contractors report on the basis of a twelve-month fiscal year, but provision is made in this chapter for reports covering abbreviated fiscal periods. As determined by context or otherwise, "fiscal year" may also refer to a state fiscal year extending from July 1 through June 30 of the following year and comprising the first or second half of a state fiscal biennium.

"Gain on sale" means the actual total sales price of all tangible and intangible nursing facility assets including, but not limited to, land, building, equipment, supplies, goodwill, and beds authorized by certificate of need, minus the net book value of such assets immediately prior to the time of sale.

"Intangible asset" is an asset that lacks physical substance but possesses economic value.

"Interest" means the cost incurred for the use of borrowed funds, generally paid at fixed intervals by the user.

"Multiservice facility" means a facility at which two or more types of health or related care are delivered, e.g., a hospital and nursing facility, or a boarding home and nursing facility.

"Nonadministrative wages and benefits" means wages, benefits, and corresponding payroll taxes paid for nonadministrative personnel, not to include administrator, assistant administrator, or administrator-in-training.

"Nonallowable costs" means the same as "unallowable costs."

"Nonrestricted funds" means funds which are not restricted to a specific use by the donor, e.g., general operating funds.

"Nursing facility occupancy percentage" is determined by multiplying the number of calendar days for the cost report period by the number of licensed beds for the same cost report period. Then, the nursing facility's actual resident days for the same cost report period is divided by the product. When the nursing facility under chapter 70.38 RCW reinstates or reduces the number of licensed beds, then under WAC 388-96-708 or 388-96-709 the number of licensed beds after reinstatement or reduction will be used. In all determinations that require a nursing facility occupancy percentage, the department will use the greater of either a nursing facility's occupancy percentage or eighty-five percent.

"Per diem (per patient day or per resident day) costs" means total allowable costs for a fiscal period divided by total patient or resident days for the same period.

"Prospective daily payment rate" means the rate assigned by the department to a contractor for providing service to medical care recipients prior to the application of settlement principles.

"Recipient" means a Medicaid recipient.

"Related care" includes:

- (1) The director of nursing services;
- (2) Activities and social services programs;
- (3) Medical and medical records specialists; and
- (4) Consultation provided by:
 - (a) Medical directors; and
 - (b) Pharmacists.

"Relative" includes:

- (1) Spouse;
- (2) Natural parent, child, or sibling;
- (3) Adopted child or adoptive parent;
- (4) Stepparent, stepchild, stepbrother, stepsister;
- (5) Father-in-law, mother-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, brother-in-law, sister-in-law;
- (6) Grandparent or grandchild; and
- (7) Uncle, aunt, nephew, niece, or cousin.

- (1) Administrative and nursing salaries;
- (2) Utility costs;
- (3) Taxes;
- (4) Insurance;
- (5) Repairs and maintenance; and
- (6) Training costs.

Start up costs do not include expenditures for capital assets.

"Total rate allocation" means the initial rebased rate for a rebase period effective July 1. If a month and a day, other than July 1, with a year precedes "total rate allocation," it means the initial rebased rate of the rebase period has been amended or updated effective the date that precedes it, e.g., October 1, 1999 direct care component rate allocation.

"Unallowable costs" means costs which do not meet every test of an allowable cost.

"Uniform chart of accounts" means a list of account titles identified by code numbers established by the department for contractors to use in reporting costs.

"Vendor number" means a number assigned to each contractor delivering care services to medical care recipients.

(2) Effective sixty days after the terminating or assigning contractor receives a written demand for payment, interest will begin to accrue payable to the department on any unpaid balance at the rate of one percent per month.

WAC 388-96-117 Certification requirement. The contractor as defined in RCW 74.46.020(13) must certify under penalty of perjury that the cost report or an amendment to it is a true, correct, and complete representation of actual costs related to patient care prepared in accordance with applicable instructions provided by the department, chapter 388-96 WAC, and chapter 74.46 RCW. Further, where other costs not related to patient care are shown, they are classified as unallowable.

WAC 388-96-119 Reports—False information. (1) If a contractor knowingly or with reason to know files a report containing false information, such action constitutes good cause for termination of its contract with the department.

(2) In accordance with RCW 74.46.531, the department will make adjustments to payment rates because a false report was filed.

(3) Contractors filing false reports may be referred for prosecution under applicable statutes.

WAC 388-96-122 Amendments to reports. (1) For the purpose of determining allowable costs, the department shall consider an amendment to an annual report only if filed by the provider before the receipt by the provider of the notification scheduling the department's audit. The contractor may file an amendment subsequent to such notification and pursuant to the provisions of RCW 74.46.531 to adjust a payment rate allocation because of an error or omission. When the provider files an amendment, the department shall consider it only if significant errors or omissions are discovered. The department shall deem errors or omissions "significant" when the errors or omissions would mean a net difference of two cents or more per patient day or one thousand dollars or more in reported costs, whichever is higher, in any component rate allocation. To file an amendment, only those cost report pages where changes appear need to be filed, together with the certification required by WAC 388-96-117.

(2) If an amendment is filed, a contractor shall also submit with the amendment an account of the circumstances relating to and the reasons for the amendment, along with supporting documentation. The department shall refuse to consider an amendment resulting in a more favorable settlement or payment rate allocation to a contractor if the amendment is not the result of circumstances beyond the control of the contractor or the result of good-faith error under the system of cost allocation and accounting in effect during the reporting period in question.

(3) Acceptance or use by the department of an amendment to a cost report shall in no way be construed as a release of applicable civil or criminal liability.

WAC 388-96-202 Scope of audit or department audit. (1) The department will review the contractor's record-keeping and accounting practices and, where appropriate, make written recommendations for improvements.

(2) The department's audit will result in a schedule of summarizing adjustments to the contractor's cost report. The schedule will show whether such adjustments eliminate costs reported or include costs not reported. Each adjustment listed will include an explanation for the adjustment, the cost report account, and the dollar amount. In accordance with chapter

(2005 Ed.)

74.46 RCW, the department will comply with the purpose of department audits by verifying that:

(a) Supporting records are in agreement with reported data;

(b) Only those assets, liabilities, and revenue and expense items the department has specified as allowable have been included by the contractor in computing the costs of services provided under its contract;

(c) Allowable costs have been accurately determined and are necessary, ordinary, and related to resident care;

(d) Related organizations and beneficial ownerships or interests have been correctly disclosed;

(e) Home office or central office costs have been reported and allocated in accordance with the provisions of this chapter and chapter 74.46 RCW;

(f) Recipient and non-Medicaid resident trust funds have been properly maintained and disbursed;

(g) Facility receivables do not include benefits or payments to which the provider is not entitled; and

(h) The contractor is otherwise in compliance with the provisions of this chapter and chapter 74.46 RCW.

(3) In complying with the purpose of department audits in chapter 74.46 RCW, the department may select any or all schedules of a facility's cost report. The department will audit cost reports, resident trust fund accounts, and facility receivables of each nursing facility participating in the Medicaid payment system as determined necessary by the department.

(4) When determining the contractor's final settlement, the department will apply to reported costs adjustments written under subsection (2), whether used for the purpose of establishing component rate allocations as described in chapter 74.46 RCW or to ascertain contractor compliance with subsection (2).

WAC 388-96-217 Civil fines. (1) When the department finds that a current or former contractor, or any partner, officer, director, owner of five percent or more of the stock of a current or former corporate contractor, or managing agent has failed or refused to comply with any requirement of chapters 74.46 RCW or 388-96 WAC, the department may assess monetary penalties of a civil nature not to exceed one thousand dollars per violation. Every day of noncompliance with any requirement of chapters 74.46 RCW or 388-96 WAC is a separate violation.

(2) The department may fine a contractor or former contractor or any partner, officer, director, owner of five percent or more of the stock of a current or former corporate contractor, or managing agent for the following but is not limited to the following in its fine assessments:

(a) Failure to file a mathematically accurate and complete cost report, including a final cost report, on or prior to the applicable due date established by this chapter or authorized by extension granted in writing by the department; or

(b) Failure to permit an audit authorized by this chapter or to grant access to all records and documents deemed necessary by the department to complete such an audit.

[Title 388 WAC—p. 473]

(3) The department shall send notice of a fine assessed under subsection (2) of this section by certified mail return receipt requested to the current contractor, administrator, or former contractor informing the addressee of the following:

(a) The fine shall become effective the date of receipt of the notice by the addressee; and

(b) If within two weeks of the date of receipt of the notice by the addressee, an acceptable cost report is received by the department; an audit is allowed; or access to documentation is allowed, as applicable, the department may waive the fine.

(4)(a) The department may fine a current or former contractor, or any partner, officer, director, owner of a current or former corporate contractor, or managing agent for failure to comply with RCW 74.46.630.

(b) The department shall send notice of a fine assessed under (a) of this subsection by certified mail, to the current contractor, administrator, or former contractor informing the addressee that the fine shall become effective upon receipt of notice by the addressee.

WAC 388-96-218 Proposed, preliminary, and final settlements. (1) For each component rate, the department shall calculate a proposed, preliminary or final settlement at the lower of prospective payment rate or audited allowable costs, except as otherwise provided in this chapter [and chapter 74.46 RCW].

(2) As part of the cost report, the proposed settlement report is due in accordance with RCW 74.46.040. In the proposed preliminary settlement report, a contractor shall compare the contractor's payment rates during a cost report period, weighted by the number of resident days reported for the same cost report period to the contractor's allowable costs for the cost report period. [In accordance with RCW 74.46.-100, 74.46.155 and 74.46.165] the contractor shall take into account all authorized shifting, retained savings, and upper limits to rates on a cost center basis.

(a) The department will:

(i) Review the proposed preliminary settlement report for accuracy; and

(ii) Accept or reject the proposal of the contractor. If accepted, the proposed preliminary settlement report shall become the preliminary settlement report. If rejected, the department shall issue, by component payment rate allocation, a preliminary settlement report fully substantiating disallowed costs, refunds, or underpayments due and adjustments to the proposed preliminary settlement.

(b) When the department receives the proposed preliminary settlement report:

(i) By the cost report due date specified in RCW 74.46.040, it will issue the preliminary settlement report within one hundred twenty days of the cost report due date; or

(ii) After the cost report due date specified in RCW 74.46.040, it will issue the preliminary settlement report within one hundred twenty days of the date the cost report was received.

(c) In its discretion, the department may designate a date later than the dates specified in subsection (2)(b)(i) and (ii) of this section to issue preliminary settlements.

(d) A contractor shall have twenty-eight days after receipt of a preliminary settlement report to contest such report under WAC 388-96-901 and 388-96-904. Upon expiration of the twenty-eight day period, the department shall not review or adjust a preliminary settlement report. Any administrative review of a preliminary settlement shall be limited to calculation of the settlement, to the application of settlement principles and rules, or both, and shall not encompass rate or audit issues.

(3) The department shall issue a final settlement report to the contractor after the completion of the department audit process, including exhaustion or termination of any administrative review and appeal of audit findings or determinations requested by the contractor, but not including judicial review as may be available to and commenced by the contractor.

(a) The department shall prepare a final settlement by component payment rate allocation and shall fully substantiate disallowed costs, refunds, underpayments, or adjustments to the cost report and financial statements, reports, and schedules submitted by the contractor. The department shall take into account all authorized shifting, savings, and upper limits to rates on a component payment rate allocation basis. For the final settlement report, the department shall compare:

(i) The payment rates it paid the contractor for the facility in question during the report period, weighted by the number of allowable resident days reported for the period each rate was in effect to the contractor's;

(ii) Audited allowable costs for the reporting period; or

(iii) Reported costs for the nonaudited reporting period.

(b) A contractor shall have twenty-eight days after the receipt of a final settlement report to contest such report pursuant to WAC 388-96-901 and 388-96-904. Upon expiration of the twenty-eight day period, the department shall not review a final settlement report. Any administrative review of a final settlement shall be limited to calculation of the settlement, the application of settlement principles and rules, or both, and shall not encompass rate or audit issues.

(c) The department shall reopen a final settlement if it is necessary to make adjustments based upon findings resulting from a department audit performed pursuant to RCW 74.46.-100. The department may also reopen a final settlement to recover an industrial insurance dividend or premium discount under RCW 51.16.035 in proportion to a contractor's Medicaid recipient days.

(4)(a) In computing a preliminary or final settlement, a contractor must comply with the requirements of RCW 74.46.165 (2), (3), and (4) for retaining or refunding to the department payments made in excess of the adjusted costs of providing services corresponding to each component rate allocation.

(b) The facility shall refund all amounts due the department within sixty days after the date of decision or termination plus interest on any unpaid balance after sixty days will accrue at one percent per month. Repayment will be without prejudice to obtain review of the settlement determination pursuant to WAC 388-96-901 and 388-96-904. After an administrative hearing and/or judicial review, if the payment obligation is reduced, then the department will rescind the difference between the accrued interest on the payment obligation and the interest that would have accrued on the reduced payment obligation from the date interest began to accrue on the original payment obligation.

(5) In determining whether a facility has forfeited unused rate funds in its direct care, therapy care and support services component rates under authority of RCW 74.46.165, the following rules shall apply:

(a) Federal or state survey officials shall determine when a facility is not in substantial compliance or is providing substandard care, according to federal and state nursing facility survey regulations;

(b) Correspondence from state or federal survey officials notifying a facility of its compliance status shall be used to determine the beginning and ending dates of any period(s) of noncompliance; and

(c) Forfeiture shall occur if the facility was out of substantial compliance more than ninety days during the settlement period. The ninety-day period need not be continuous if the number of days of noncompliance exceed ninety days during the settlement period regardless of the length of the settlement period. Also, forfeiture shall occur if the nursing facility was determined to have provided substandard quality of care at any time during the settlement period.

(6)(a) For calendar year 1998, the department will calculate two settlements covering the following periods:

(i) January 1, 1998 through September 30, 1998; and

(ii) October 1, 1998 through December 31, 1998.

(b) The department will use Medicaid rates weighted by total patient days (i.e., Medicaid and non-Medicaid days) to divide 1998 costs between the two settlement periods identified in subsection (6)(a) of this section.

(c) The department will net the two settlements for 1998 to determine a nursing facility's 1998 settlement.

WAC 388-96-310 Interest on other excess payments.

(1) Any contractor obtaining benefits or payments under the medical assistance program to which such contractor is not entitled or in an amount to which such contractor is not entitled, shall be liable for such benefits or payments received and for interest on the amount of benefits or payments from the date of receipt until repayment is made to the department at the rate of one percent per month, unless the contractor establishes the overpayment was the result of errors made by the department.

(2) Interest charged by the department or interest expense incurred by the contractor, from whatever source, in making refund to the department shall not be reimbursable by the department as an allowable cost. The contractor may, by payment of a disputed settlement in whole or in part, stop

WAC 388-96-366 Facility records and handling of resident moneys. (1) A nursing facility may not require residents to deposit personal funds with the facility. A facility may hold a resident's personal funds only if the resident or resident's guardian provides written authorization.

(2) Once a nursing facility accepts the written authorization of the resident or resident's guardian, the facility shall hold, safeguard, and account for such personal funds under an established system in accordance with this chapter. The nursing facility shall establish and maintain as a service to the residents a bookkeeping system, incorporated in the business records and adequate for audit, for all resident moneys received by the facility.

(3) The nursing facility shall maintain the resident's or guardian's written authorization in the resident's file. The facility shall deposit any resident's personal funds in excess of fifty dollars in an interest-bearing resident personal fund account or accounts, separate from any of the facility's operating accounts, and credit all interest earned on an account to the account. With respect to any other personal funds, the facility shall keep such funds in a noninterest-bearing account or petty cash fund maintained for residents.

(4) The facility shall give the resident at least a quarterly reporting of all financial transactions involving personal funds held for the resident by the facility. The facility shall send the representative payee, the guardian, or other designated agents of the resident a copy of the quarterly accounting report.

(5) The nursing facility shall further maintain a written record of all personal property deposited with the facility for safekeeping by or for the resident. The facility shall issue or obtain written receipts upon taking possession or disposing of such property and retain copies and/or originals of such receipts. The facility shall maintain records adequate for audit.

(6) The facility shall purchase a surety bond, or otherwise provide assurances or security satisfactory to the department, to assure the security of all personal funds of residents deposited with the facility.

WAC 388-96-369 The nursing facility shall maintain a subsidiary ledger with an account for each resident for whom the facility holds money. (1) The facility shall assure a full and complete separate accounting of each resident's personal funds. Each account record and related supporting information and documentation shall:

- (a) Be maintained at the facility;
- (b) Be kept current;
- (c) Be balanced each month; and

[Title 388 WAC—p. 475]

(d) Show in writing and in detail, with supporting verification, all moneys received on behalf of the individual resident and the disposition of all moneys so received.

(2) Each account shall be reasonably accessible to the resident or the resident's guardian or legal representative and shall be available for audit and inspection by a department representative. Each account shall be maintained for a minimum of four years. A Medicaid provider shall notify each Title XIX Medicaid recipient or guardian and the home and community services office of the department that serves the area when the amount in the account of any Title XIX Medicaid recipient reaches two hundred dollars less than the applicable dollar resource limit for supplemental security income (SSI) eligibility set forth in Title XVI of the Social Security Act.

(3) When notice is given under subsection (2) of this section, the facility shall notify the recipient or guardian that if the amount in the account, in addition to the value of the recipient's other nonexempt resources, reaches the dollar resource limit determined under Title XVI, the recipient may lose eligibility for SSI medical assistance or benefits under Title XVI.

(4) After the recipient's admission to the facility, accumulation toward the Title XVI limit is permitted only from the clothing and personal incidentals allowance and other income that the department specifically designates as exempt income.

(5) No resident funds may be overdrawn (show a debit balance). If a resident wants to spend an amount greater than the facility is holding for the resident, the home may provide money from its own funds and collect the debt by installments from that portion of the resident's allowance remaining at the end of each month. No interest may be charged to residents for such loans.

(6) The facility may not impose a charge against the personal funds of a Medicare or Medicaid recipient for any item or service for which payment is made under the Title XVIII Medicare program or the Title XIX Medicaid program. In order to ensure that Medicaid recipients are not charged for services provided under the Title XIX program, any charge for medical services otherwise properly made to a recipient's personal funds shall be supported by a written denial from the department.

(a) Mobility aids including walkers, wheelchairs, or crutches requested for the exclusive use by a Medicaid recipient shall have a written denial from the department of social and health services before a recipient's personal funds may be charged.

(b) Requests for medically necessary services and supplies not funded under the provisions of chapter 388-96 WAC or chapter 388-86 WAC (reimbursement rate or coupon system) shall have a written denial from the department before a Medicaid recipient's personal funds may be charged.

(c) A written denial from the department is not required when the pharmacist verifies that a drug is not covered by the program, e.g., items on the FDA list of ineffective or possible effective drugs, nonformulary over-the-counter (OTC) medications. The pharmacist's notation to this effect is sufficient.

(2) Expenditures and costs for depreciable assets with historical cost of seven hundred fifty dollars or less per unit if either:

(a) The depreciable asset was acquired in a group purchase where the total cost exceeded seven hundred fifty dollars; or

(b) The depreciable asset was part of the initial equipment or stock of the nursing home; and

(3) Expenditures for any change, including repairs with a cost in excess of seven hundred fifty dollars that increases the useful life of the depreciable asset by two years or more.

(b) The depreciable asset was part of the initial equipment or stock of the nursing home.

(3) Expenditures for and costs of building and other real property items, components and improvements, whether for leased or owner-operated facilities, of seven hundred and fifty dollars or less.

(4) Expenditures for and costs of repairs necessary to maintain the useful life of equipment, including furniture and furnishings, and real property items, components or improvements which do not increase the useful life of the asset by two years or more. If a repair is to the interior or exterior of the structure, the term "asset" shall refer to the structure.

(5) Remaining undepreciated cost of equipment, including furniture or furnishings or real property items, components, or improvements which are retired and not replaced, provided such cost shall be offset by any proceeds or compensations received for such assets, and such cost shall be expensed only if the contractor has made a reasonable effort to recover at least the outstanding book value of such assets. WAC 388-96-559 Cost basis of land and depreciation base. (1) For all partial or whole rate periods after December 31, 1984 unless otherwise provided or limited by this chapter or by this section, chapter 388-96 WAC or chapter 74.46 RCW, the total depreciation base of depreciable assets and the cost basis of land shall be the lowest of:

(a) The contractor's appraisal, if any;

(b) The department's appraisal obtained through the department of general administration of the state of Washington, if any; or

(c) The historical purchase cost of the contractor, or lessor if the assets are leased by the contractor, in acquiring ownership of the asset in an arm's-length transaction, and preparing the asset for use, less goodwill, and less accumulated depreciation, if applicable, incurred during periods the assets have been used in or as a facility by any and all contractors. Such accumulated depreciation is to be measured in accordance with WAC 388-96-561, 388-96-565, chapter 388-96 WAC, and chapter 74.46 RCW. Where the straight-line or sum-of-the-years digits method of depreciation is used the contractor:

(i) May deduct salvage values from historical costs for each cloth based item, e.g., mattresses, linen, and draperies; and

(ii) Shall deduct salvage values from historical costs of at least:

(A) Five percent of the historical value for each noncloth item included in moveable equipment; and

(B) Twenty-five percent of the historical value for each vehicle.

(2) Unless otherwise provided or limited by this chapter or by chapter 74.46 RCW, the department shall, in determining the total depreciation base of a depreciable real or personal asset owned or leased by the contractor, deduct depreciation relating to all periods subsequent to the more recent of:

(a) The date such asset was first used in the medical care program; or

(b) The most recent date such asset was acquired in an arm's-length purchase transaction which the department is required to recognize for Medicaid cost reimbursement purposes.

No depreciation shall be deducted for periods such asset was not used in the medical care program or was not used to provide nursing care.

(3) The department may have the fair market value of the asset at the time of purchase established by appraisal through the department of general administration of the state of Washington if:

(a) The department challenges the historical cost of an asset; or

(b) The contractor cannot or will not provide the historical cost of a leased asset and the department is unable to determine such historical cost from its own records or from any other source.

The contractor may allocate or reallocate values among land, building, improvements, and equipment in accordance with the department's appraisal.

If an appraisal is conducted, the depreciation base of the asset and cost basis of land will not exceed the fair market value of the asset. An appraisal conducted by or through the department of general administration shall be final unless the appraisal is shown to be arbitrary and capricious.

(4) If the land and depreciable assets of a newly constructed nursing facility were never used in or as a nursing facility before being purchased from the builder, the cost basis and the depreciation base shall be the lesser of:

(a) Documented actual cost of the builder; or

(b) The approved amount of the certificate of need issued to the builder.

When the builder is unable or unwilling to document its costs, the cost basis and the depreciation base shall be the approved amount of the certificate of need.

(5) For leased assets, the department may examine documentation in its files or otherwise obtainable from any source to determine:

(a) The lessor's purchase acquisition date; or

(b) The lessor's historical cost at the time of the last arm's-length purchase transaction.

If the department is unable to determine the lessor's acquisition date by review of its records or other records, the department, in determining fair market value as of such date, may use the construction date of the facility, as found in the state fire marshal's records or other records, as the lessor's purchase acquisition date of leased assets.

(6) For all rate periods past or future, where depreciable assets or land are acquired from a related organization, the contractor's depreciation base and land cost basis shall not exceed the base and basis the related organization had or would have had under a contract with the department.

(7) If a contractor cannot or will not provide the lessor's purchase acquisition cost of assets leased by the contractor and the department is unable to determine historical purchase cost from another source, the appraised asset value of land, building, or equipment, determined by or through the department of general administration shall be adjusted, if necessary, by the department using the Marshall and Swift Valuation Guide to reflect the value at the lessor's acquisition date. If an appraisal has been prepared for leased assets and the assets subsequently sell in the first arm's-length transaction since January 1, 1980, under subsection (9) of this section, the Marshall and Swift Valuation Guide will be used to adjust, if necessary, the asset value determined by the appraisal to the sale date. If the assets are located in a city for which the Marshall and Swift Valuation Guide publishes a specific index, or if the assets are located in a county containing that city, the city-specific index shall be used to adjust the appraised value of the asset. If the assets are located in a city or county for which a specific index is not calculated, the Western District Index calculated by Marshall and Swift shall be used.

(8) For new or replacement building construction or for substantial building additions requiring the acquisition of land and which commenced to operate on or after July 1, 1997, the department shall determine allowable land costs of the additional land acquired for the new or replacement construction or for substantial building additions to be the lesser of:

(a) The contractor's or lessor's actual cost per square foot; or

(b) The square foot land value as established by an appraisal that meets the latest publication of the Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice (USPAP) and the Financial Institutions Reform, Recovery, and Enforcement Act of 1989 (FIRREA). The department shall obtain a USPAP appraisal that meets FIRREA first from:

(i) An arms'-length lender that has accepted the ordered appraisal; or

(ii) If the department is unable to obtain from the arms'-length lender a lender-approved appraisal meeting USPAP and FIRREA standards or if the contractor or lessor is unable or unwilling to provide or cause to be provided a lender-approved appraisal meeting USPAP and FIRREA standards, then:

(A) The department shall order such an appraisal; and

(B) The contractor shall immediately reimburse the department for the costs incurred in obtaining the USPAP and FIRREA appraisal.

(9) Except as provided for in subsection (8) of this section, for all rates effective on or after January 1, 1985, if depreciable assets or land are acquired by purchase which were used in the medical care program on or after January 1, 1980, the depreciation base or cost basis of such assets shall not exceed the net book value existing at the time of such acquisition or which would have existed had the assets continued in use under the previous Medicaid contract with the department; except that depreciation shall not be accumulated for periods during which such assets were not used in the medical care program or were not in use in or as a nursing care facility.

(10)(a) Subsection (9) of this section shall not apply to the most recent arm's-length purchase acquisition if it occurs ten years or more after the previous arm's-length transfer of ownership nor shall subsection (9) of this section apply to the first arm's-length purchase acquisition of assets occurring on or after January 1, 1980, for facilities participating in the Medicaid program before January 1, 1980. The depreciation base or cost basis for such acquisitions shall not exceed the lesser of the fair market value as of the date of purchase of the assets determined by an appraisal conducted by or through the department of general administration or the owner's acquisition cost of each asset, land, building, or equipment. An appraisal conducted by or through the department of general administration shall be final unless the appraisal is shown to be arbitrary and capricious. Should a contractor request a revaluation of an asset, the contractor must document ten years have passed since the most recent arm's-length transfer of ownership. As mandated by Section 2314 of the Deficit Reduction Act of 1984 (P.L. 98-369) and state statutory amendments, and under RCW 74.46.840, for all partial or whole rate periods after July 17, 1984, this subsection is inoperative for any transfer of ownership of any asset, including land and all depreciable or nondepreciable assets, occurring on or after July 18, 1984, leaving subsection (9) of this section to apply without exception to acquisitions occurring on or after July 18, 1984, except as provided in subsections (10)(b) and (11) of this section.

(b) For all rates after July 17, 1984, subsection (8)(a) shall apply, however, to transfers of ownership of assets:

(i) Occurring before January 1, 1985, if the costs of such assets have never been reimbursed under Medicaid cost reimbursement on an owner-operated basis or as a related party lease; or

(ii) Under written and enforceable purchase and sale agreements dated before July 18, 1984, which are documented and submitted to the department before January 1, 1988.

(c) For purposes of Medicaid cost reimbursement under this chapter, an otherwise enforceable agreement to purchase a nursing home dated before July 18, 1984, shall be considered enforceable even though the agreement contains:

(i) No legal description of the real property involved; or

(ii) An inaccurate legal description, notwithstanding the statute of frauds or any other provision of law.

(11)(a) In the case of land or depreciable assets leased by the same contractor since January 1, 1980, in an arm's-length lease, and purchased by the lessee/contractor, the lessee/contractor shall have the option to have the:

(i) Provisions of subsection (10) of this section apply to the purchase; or

(ii) Component rate allocations for property and financing allowance calculated under the provisions of chapter 74.46 RCW. Component rate allocations will be based upon provisions of the lease in existence on the date of the purchase, but only if the purchase date meets the criteria of RCW 74.46.360 (6)(c)(ii)(A) through (D).

(b) The lessee/contractor may select the option in subsection (11)(a)(ii) of this section only when the purchase date meets one of the following criteria. The purchase date is:

(i) After the lessor has declared bankruptcy or has defaulted in any loan or mortgage held against the leased property;

(ii) Within one year of the lease expiration or renewal date contained in the lease;

(iii) After a rate setting for the facility in which the reimbursement rate set, under this chapter and under chapter 74.46 RCW, no longer is equal to or greater than the actual cost of the lease; or

(iv) Within one year of any purchase option in existence on January 1, 1988.

(12) For purposes of establishing the property and financing allowance component rate allocations, the value of leased equipment, if unknown by the contractor, may be estimated by the department using previous department of general administration appraisals as a data base. The estimated value may be adjusted using the Marshall and Swift Valuation Guide to reflect the value of the asset at the lessor's purchase acquisition date.

(a) Fair market value at the date of donation or death, less goodwill, provided the estimated salvage value shall be deducted from fair market value where the straight-line or sum-of-the-years digits method of depreciation is used; or

(b) The historical cost of the owner last contracting with the department, if any.

(2) When the donation or distribution is between related organizations, the base shall be the lesser of:

(a) Fair market value, less goodwill and, where appropriate, salvage value; or

(b) The depreciation base or cost basis the related organization had or would have had for the asset under a contract with the department.

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsections (1) and (2) of this section, for all rates after July 17, 1984, neither the depreciation base of depreciable assets nor the cost basis of land shall increase for reimbursement purposes if the asset is donated or acquired through testate or intestate distribution on or after July 18, 1984, the enactment date of the Deficit Reduction Act of 1984.

WAC 388-96-565 Lives. (1) Except for new buildings replacement buildings, major remodels and major repair projects as defined in subsection (5) of this section, to compute allowable depreciation, the contractor must use lives reflecting the estimated actual useful life of the assets (e.g., land improvements, buildings, including major remodels and major repair projects, equipment, leasehold improvements, etc.). However the lives used must not be shorter than guidelines lives in the most current edition of Estimated Useful Lives of Depreciable Hospital Assets published by American Hospital Publishing, Inc.

(2) To compute allowable depreciation for major remodels and major repair projects as defined in subsection (5) of this section that began operating:

(a) Before July 1, 1997, the contractor must use the shortest lives in the most recently published lives for construction classes as defined and described in the Marshall Valuation Service published by the Marshall Swift Publication Company; or

(b) After July 1, 1997, the contractor must use the shortest lives of the guideline lives in the most current edition of Estimated Useful Lives of Depreciable Hospital Assets published by American Hospital Publishing, Inc.

(3) To compute allowable depreciation for new buildings and replacement buildings as defined in subsection (5) of this section that:

(a) Began operating before July 1, 1997, the contractor must use the construction classes as defined and described in Marshall Valuation Service published by the Marshall Swift Publication Company; provided that, thirty years is the shortest life that may be used;

(b) Began operating on or after July 1, 1997, the contractor must use the most current edition of Estimated Useful Lives of Depreciable Hospital Assets published by American Hospital Publishing, Inc.; provided that, thirty years is shortest life that may be used; and

(4) To compute allowable depreciation, the contractor must:

(a) Measure lives from the most recent of either the date on which the assets were first used in the medical care program or the last date of purchase of the asset through an arm's-length acquisition; and

(b) Extend lives to reflect periods, if any, during which assets were not used in a nursing facility or as a nursing facility.

(5) New buildings, replacement buildings, major remodels, and major repair projects are those projects that meet or exceed the expenditure minimum established by the department of health pursuant to chapter 70.38 RCW.

(6) Contractors shall depreciate building improvements other than major remodels and major repairs defined in subsection (5) of this section over the remaining useful life of the building, as modified by the improvement, but not less than fifteen years.

(7) Improvements to leased property which are the responsibility of the contractor under the terms of the lease shall be depreciated over the useful life of the improvement in accordance with American Hospital Association guidelines.

(8) A contractor may change the estimate of an asset's useful life to a longer life for purposes of depreciation.

(9) For new or replacement building construction or for major renovations receiving certificate of need approval or exemption under chapter 70.38 RCW on or after July 1, 1999, the department will depreciate fixed equipment the same number of years as the life of the building to which it is affixed.

(2) The department shall include, but not limit, unallowable costs to the following:

(a) Costs in excess of limits or violating principles set forth in this chapter;

(b) Costs resulting from transactions or the application of accounting methods circumventing principles set forth in this chapter;

(iv) The debt was actually uncollectible when claimed as worthless; and

(v) Sound business judgment established there was no likelihood of recovery at any time in the future.

Reasonable collection efforts shall consist of at least three documented attempts by the contractor to obtain payment demonstrating that the effort devoted to collecting the bad debts of Title XIX recipients is the same devoted by the contractor to collect the bad debts of non-Title XIX recipients;

(d) Any portion of trade association dues attributable to legal and consultant fees and costs in connection with lawsuits or other legal action against the department shall be unallowable;

(e) Legal and consultant fees in connection with a fair hearing against the department relating to those issues where:

(i) A final administrative decision is rendered in favor of the department or where otherwise the determination of the department stands at the termination of administrative review; or

(ii) In connection with a fair hearing, a final administrative decision has not been rendered; or

(iii) In connection with a fair hearing, related costs are not reported as unallowable and identified by fair hearing docket number in the period they are incurred if no final administrative decision has been rendered at the end of the report period; or

(iv) In connection with a fair hearing, related costs are not reported as allowable, identified by docket number, and prorated by the number of issues decided favorably to a contractor in the period a final administrative decision is rendered;

(f) All interest costs not specifically allowed in this chapter or chapter 74.46 RCW; and

(g) Increased costs resulting from a series of transactions between the same parties and involving the same assets, e.g., sale and lease back, successive sales or leases of a single facility or piece of equipment.

cal care recipients. Each rate, subject to the principles of this chapter and chapter 74.46 RCW, represents a nursing facility's maximum compensation for one resident day of care provided a medical care recipient determined by the department to both require and be eligible to receive nursing facility care.

WAC 388-96-708 Reinstatement of beds previously removed from service under chapter 70.38 RCW—Effect on prospective payment rate. (1) After removing beds from service (banked) under the provisions of chapter 70.38 RCW, the contractor may bring back into service beds that were previously banked.

(2) When the contractor returns to service beds banked under the provisions of chapter 70.38 RCW, the department will recalculate the contractor's prospective Medicaid payment rate allocations using the greater of actual days from the cost report period on which the rate is based or days calculated by multiplying the new number of licensed beds times the appropriate minimum occupancy pursuant to chapter 74.46 RCW times the number of calendar days in the cost report period on which the rate being recalculated is based.

(3) The effective date of the recalculated prospective rate for beds returned to service shall be the first of the month:

(a) In which the banked beds returned to service when the beds are returned to service on the first of the month; or

(b) Following the month in which the banked beds returned to service when the beds are returned to service after the first of the month.

(4) The recalculated prospective payment rate shall comply with all the provisions of rate setting contained in chapter 74.46 RCW or in this chapter, including all lids and maximums unless otherwise specified in this section.

(5) The recalculated prospective Medicaid payment rate shall be subject to adjustment if required by RCW 74.46.421.

(6) After the department recalculates the contractor's prospective Medicaid component rate allocations using the increased number of licensed beds, the department will use the increased number of licensed beds in all post unbanking rate settings, until under chapter 74.46 RCW and/or this chapter, the post unbanking number of licensed beds changes.

WAC 388-96-709 Prospective rate revisions—Reduction in licensed beds. (1) The department will recalculate a contractor's prospective Medicaid payment rate when the contractor reduces the number of its licensed beds and:

(a) Provides a copy of the new bed license and documentation of the number of beds sold, exchanged or otherwise placed out of service, along with the name of the contractor that received the beds, if any; and

(b) Requests a rate revision.

(2) For facilities other than essential community providers which bank beds under chapter 70.38 RCW, after May 25, 2001, Medicaid rates shall be revised upward, in accordance with department rules, in direct care, therapy care, support services, and variable return components only, by using the facility's decreased licensed bed capacity to recalculate minimum occupancy for rate setting. No rate upward revision shall be made to operations, property, or financing allowance.

(3) The requested revised prospective Medicaid payment rate will be effective the first of the month:

(a) The new license is effective when the new license is effective the first day of the month; or

(b) Following the month the new license is effective when the new license is effective after the first day of the month it is issued.

(4) The department will recalculate a nursing facility's prospective Medicaid payment rate allocations using the greater of actual days from the cost report period on which the rate is based or days calculated by multiplying the new number of licensed beds times the appropriate minimum occupancy pursuant to chapter 74.46 RCW times the number of calendar days in the cost report period on which the rate being recalculated is based.

(5) The revised prospective Medicaid payment rate will comply with all the provisions of rate setting contained in chapter 74.46 RCW and in this chapter, including all lids and maximums, unless otherwise specified in this section.

(6) After the department recalculates the contractor's prospective Medicaid component rate allocations using the decreased number of licensed beds, the department will use the decreased number of licensed beds in all post banking rate settings, until under chapter 74.46 RCW and/or this chapter, the post banking number of licensed beds changes.

WAC 388-96-710 Prospective payment rate for new contractors. (1) The department will establish an initial prospective Medicaid payment rate for a new contractor as defined under WAC 388-96-026 within sixty days following the new contractor's application and approval for a license to operate the facility under chapter 18.51 RCW. The rate will take effect as of the effective date of the contract, except as provided in this section, and will comply with all the provisions of rate setting contained in chapter 74.46 RCW and in this chapter, including all lids and maximums set forth.

(2) Except for quarterly updates per RCW 74.46.501 (7)(c), the rate established for a new contractor as defined in WAC 388-96-026 (1)(a) or (b) will remain in effect for the nursing facility until the rate can be reset effective July 1 using the first cost report for that facility under the new contractor's operation containing at least six months' data from the prior calendar year, regardless of whether reported costs for facilities operated by other contractors for the prior calendar year in question will be used to cost rebase their July 1 rates. The new contractor's rate thereafter will be cost rebased only as provided in this chapter and chapter 74.46 RCW.

(3) To set the initial prospective Medicaid payment rate for a new contractor as defined in WAC 388-96-026 (1)(a) and (b), the department will:

(a) Determine whether the new contractor nursing facility belongs to the metropolitan statistical area (MSA) peer group or the non-MSA peer group using the latest information received from the office of management and budget or the appropriate federal agency;

(b) Select all nursing facilities from the department's records of all the current Medicaid nursing facilities in the new contractor's peer group with the same bed capacity plus or minus ten beds. If the selection does not result in at least seven facilities, then the department will increase the bed capacity by plus or minus five bed increments until a sample of at least seven nursing facilities is obtained;

(c) Based on the information for the nursing facilities selected under subsection (3)(b) of this section and available to the department on the day the new contractor began participating in the Medicaid payment rate system at the facility, rank from the highest to the lowest the component rate allocation in direct care, therapy care, support services, and operations cost centers and based on this ranking:

(i) Determine the middle of the ranking and then identify the rate immediately above the median for each cost center identified in subsection (3)(c) of this section. The rate immediately above the median will be known as the "selected rate" for each cost center;

(ii) Set the new contractor's nursing facility component rate allocation for therapy care, support services, and operations at the "selected rate";

(iii) Set the direct care rate using data from the direct care "selected" rate facility identified in (c) of this subsection as follows:

(A) The cost per case mix unit will be the rate base allowable case mixed direct care cost per patient day for the direct care "selected" rate facility, whether or not that facility is held harmless under WAC 388-96-728 and 388-96-729, divided by the facility average case mix index per WAC 388-96-741;

(B) The cost per case mix unit determined under (c)(iii)(A) of this subsection will be multiplied by the Medicaid average case mix index per WAC 388-96-740. The product will be the new contractor's direct care rate under case mix; and

(C) The department will not apply RCW 74.46.506 (5)(k) to any direct care rate established under subsection (5)(e) or (f) of this section. When the department establishes a new contractor's direct care rate under subsection (5)(e) or (f) of this section, the new contractor is not eligible to be paid by a "hold harmless" rate as determined under RCW 74.46.506 (5)(k);

(iv) Set the property rate in accordance with the provisions of this chapter and chapter 74.46 RCW; and

(v) Set the financing allowance and variable return component rate allocations in accordance with the provisions of this chapter and chapter 74.46 RCW. In computing the variable return component rate allocation, the department will use for direct care, therapy care, support services and operations rate allocations those set pursuant to subsection (3)(c)(i), (ii) and (iii) of this section.

(d) Any subsequent revisions to the rate component allocations of the sample members will not impact a "selected rate" component allocation of the initial prospective rate established for the new contractor under this subsection.

(4) For the WAC 388-96-026 (1)(a) or (b) new contractor, the department will establish rate component allocations for:

(a) Direct care, therapy care, support services and operations based on the "selected rates" as determined under subsection (3)(c) of this section that are in effect on the date the new contractor began participating in the program;

(b) Property in accordance with the provisions of this chapter and chapter 74.46 RCW using for the new contractor as defined under:

(i) WAC 388-96-026 (1)(a), information from the certificate of need; or

(ii) WAC 388-96-026 (1)(b), information provided by the new contractor within ten days of the date the department requests the information in writing. If the contractor as defined under WAC 388-96-026 (1)(b), has not provided the requested information within ten days of the date requested, then the property rate will be zero. The property rate will remain zero until the information is received;

(c) Variable return in accordance with the provisions of this chapter and chapter 74.46 RCW using the "selected rates" established under subsection (3)(c) of this section that are in effect on the date the new contractor began participating in the program; and

(d) Financing allowance using for the new contractor as defined under:

(i) WAC 388-96-026 (1)(a), information from the certificate of need; or

(ii) WAC 388-96-026 (1)(b), information provided by the new contractor within ten days of the date the department requests the information in writing. If the contractor as defined under WAC 388-96-026 (1)(b), has not provided the requested information within ten days of the date requested, then the net book value of allowable assets will be zero. The financing allowance rate component allocation will remain zero until the information is received.

(5) The initial prospective payment rate for a new contractor as defined under WAC 388-96-026 (1)(a) or (b) will be established under subsections (3) and (4) of this section. If the WAC 388-96-026 (1)(a) or (b) contractor's initial rate is set:

(a) Between July 1, 2000 and June 30, 2001, the department will set the new contractor's rates for:

(i) July 1, 2001 using the July 1, 2001 rates for direct care, therapy care, support services, and operations of the sample facilities used to set the initial rate under subsections (3) and (4) of this section.

(A) Property and financing allowance component rates will remain the same as set for the initial rate.

(B) Variable return component rate using the rates determined under subsection (5)(a)(i) of this section;

(ii) July 1, 2002 rate using 2001 cost report data; and

(iii) All July 1 rates following July 1, 2002 in accordance with this chapter and chapter 74.46 RCW;

(b) Between July 1, 2001, and June 30, 2002, the department will set the new contractor's rates for:

(i) July 1, 2002 using July 1, 2002 rates for direct care, therapy care, support services, and operation of the sample facilities used to set the initial rate under subsections (3) and (4) of this section.

(A) Property and financing allowance component rates will remain the same as set for the initial rate.

(B) Variable return component rate using the rates determined under subsection (5)(b)(i) of this section;

(ii) July 1, 2003 rate by rebasing using 2002 cost report data in accordance with this chapter and chapter 74.46 RCW; and

(iii) All July 1 rates following July 1, 2003 in accordance with this chapter and chapter 74.46 RCW; or

(c) Between July 1, 2002, and June 30, 2003, the department will set the contractor's rates for:

(i) July 1, 2003 using July 1, 2003 rates for direct care, therapy care, support services, and operation of the sample facilities used to set the initial rate under subsection (3) and (4) of this section.

(A) Property and financing allowance component rates will remain the same as set for the initial rate.

(B) Variable return component rate using the rates determined under subsection (5)(c)(i) of this section;

(ii) July 1, 2004 by rebasing using 2003 cost report data; and

(iii) All July 1 rates following July 1, 2004 in accordance with this chapter and chapter 74.46 RCW.

(6) For the WAC 388-96-026 (1)(c) new contractor, the initial prospective payment rate will be the last prospective payment rate the department paid to the Medicaid contractor operating the nursing facility immediately prior to the effective date of the new Medicaid contract or assignment. If the WAC 388-96-026 (1)(c) contractor's initial rate is set:

(a) Between October 1, 1998 and June 30, 1999, the department will not rebase the contractor's rate for:

(i) July 1, 1999; and

(ii) July 1, 2000;

(b) Between July 1, 1999 and June 30, 2000, the department will for:

(i) July 1, 2000 not rebase the new contractor's rate;

(ii) July 1, 2001 rebase the new contractor's rate using twelve months of cost report data derived from the old contractor's and the new contractor's 1999 cost reports; and

(iii) July 1, 2002 not rebase the new contractor's rate; and

(iv) July 1, 2003 not rebase the new contractor's rate;

(c) Between July 1, 2000 and June 30, 2001, the department will for:

(i) July 1, 2001 rebase the new contractor's rate using the old contractor's 1999 twelve month cost report;

(ii) July 1, 2002 not rebase the new contractor's rate;

(iii) July 1, 2003 not rebase the new contractor's rate; or

(d) Between July 1, 2001 and June 30, 2002, the department will for:

(i) July 1, 2002 not rebase the new contractor's rate;

(ii) July 1, 2003 not rebase the new contractor's rate; and

(iii) July 1, 2004 rebase the new contractor's rate using the new contractor's 2002 cost report containing at least six month's data.

(7) A prospective payment rate set for all new contractors will be subject to adjustments for economic trends and conditions as authorized and provided in this chapter and in chapter 74.46 RCW.

(8) For a WAC 388-96-026 (1)(a), (b) or (c) new contractor, the Medicaid case mix index and facility average case mix index will be determined in accordance with this chapter and chapter 74.46 RCW.

WAC 388-96-713 Rate determination. (1) Each nursing facility's Medicaid payment rate for services provided to medical care recipients will be determined, adjusted and updated prospectively as provided in this chapter and in chapter 74.46 RCW. The department will calculate any limit, lid, and/or median only when it rebases each nursing facility's July 1 Medicaid payment rate in accordance with chapter 74.46 RCW and this chapter.

(2) If the contractor participated in the program for less than six months of the prior calendar year, its rates will be determined by procedures set forth in WAC 388-96-710.

(3) Contractors submitting correct and complete cost reports by March 31st, shall be notified of their rates by July 1st, unless circumstances beyond the control of the department interfere.

(4) In setting rates, the department will use the greater of actual days from the cost report period on which the rate is based or days calculated at minimum occupancy pursuant to chapter 74.46 RCW.

(5) Adjusted cost report data from 1999 shall be used for July 1, 2001 through June 30, 2005 direct care, therapy care, support services, and operations component rate allocations.

WAC 388-96-718 Public process for determination of rates. (1) The purpose of this section is to describe the manner in which the department will comply with the federal Balanced Budget Act of 1997, Section 4711 (a)(1), codified at 42 U.S.C. 1396a (a)(13)(A).

(2) For all material changes to the methodology for determining nursing facility Medicaid payment rates occurring after October 1, 1997, and requiring a Title XIX state plan amendment to be submitted to and approved by the Health Care Financing Administration under applicable federal laws, the department shall follow the following public process:

(a) The proposed estimated initial payment rates, the proposed new methodologies for determining the payment rates, and the underlying justifications shall be published. Publication shall be:

(i) In the Washington State Register; or

(ii) In the Seattle Times and Spokane Spokesman Review newspapers.

(b) The department shall maintain and update as needed a mailing list of all individuals and organizations wishing to receive notice of changes to the nursing facility Medicaid payment rate methodology, and all materials submitted for publication shall be sent postage prepaid by regular mail to such individuals and organizations. Individuals and organizations wishing to receive notice shall notify the department in writing.

(c) Nursing facility contractors, their associations, nursing facility Medicaid beneficiaries, representatives of contractors or beneficiaries, and other concerned members of the public shall be given a reasonable opportunity to review and comment on the proposed estimated rates, methodologies and justifications. The period allowed for review and comment shall not be less than fourteen calendar days after the date of the Washington State Register containing the published material or the date the published material has appeared in both the Seattle Times and the Spokane Spokesman Review.

(d) If, after receiving and considering all comments, the department decides to move ahead with any change to its nursing facility Medicaid payment rate methodology, it shall adopt needed further changes in response to comments, if any, and shall publish the final estimated initial rates, final rate determination methodologies and justifications. Publication shall be:

(i) In the Washington State Register; or

(ii) In the Seattle Times and Spokane Spokesman Review newspapers.

(e) Unless an earlier effective date is required by state or federal law, implementation of final changes in methodologies and commencement of the new rates shall not occur until final publication has occurred in the Register or in both designated newspapers. The department shall not be authorized to delay implementation of, or to alter, ignore or violate requirements of, state or federal laws in response to public process comments.

(f) Publication of proposed estimated initial payment rates and final estimated initial payment rates shall be deemed complete once the department has published:

(i) The statewide average proposed estimated initial payment rate weighted by adjusted Medicaid resident days for all Medicaid facilities from the most recent cost report year, including the change from the existing statewide average payment rate weighted by adjusted Medicaid resident days for all Medicaid facilities from the most recent cost report year; and

(ii) The statewide average final estimated initial payment rate weighted by adjusted Medicaid resident days for all Medicaid facilities from the most recent cost report year, including the change from the existing statewide average payment rate weighted by adjusted Medicaid resident days for all Medicaid facilities from the most recent cost report year.

(3) Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the department from commencing or completing the public process authorized by this section even though the proposed changes to the methodology for determining nursing facility Medicaid payment rates are awaiting federal approval, or are the subject of pending legislative, gubernatorial or rule-making action and are yet to be finalized in statute and/or regulation.

(4)(a) Neither a contractor nor any other interested person or organization shall challenge, in any administrative appeals or exception procedure established in rule by the department under the provisions of chapter 74.46 RCW, the adequacy or validity of the public process followed by the department in proposing or implementing a change to the payment rate methodology, regardless of whether the challenge is brought to obtain a ruling on the merits or simply to make a record for subsequent judicial or other review. Such challenges shall be pursued only in courts of proper jurisdiction as may be provided by law.

(b) Any challenge to the public process followed by the department that is brought in the course of an administrative appeals or exception procedure shall be dismissed by the department or presiding officer, with prejudice to further administrative review and record-making, but without prejudice to judicial or other review as may be provided by law.

(5) The public process required and authorized by this section shall not apply to any change in the payment rate methodology that does not require a Title XIX state plan amendment under applicable federal laws, including but not limited to:

(a) Prospective or retrospective changes to nursing facility payment rates or to methodologies for establishing such rates ordered by a court or administrative tribunal, after exhaustion of all appeals by either party as may be authorized by law, or the expiration of time to appeal; or

(b) Changes to nursing facility payment rates for one or more facilities resulting from the application of authorized payment rate methodologies, principles or adjustments, including but not limited to: Partial or phased-in termination or implementation of rate methodologies; scheduled cost rebasing; quarterly or other updates to reflect changes in case mix or other private or public source data used to establish rates; adjustments for inflation or economic trends and conditions; rate funding for capital improvements or new requirements imposed by the department; changes to resident-specific or exceptional care rates; and changes to correct errors or omissions by the contractor or the department.

WAC 388-96-723 Comparison of the statewide weighted average payment rate for all nursing facilities with the weighted average payment rate identified in the Biennial Appropriations Act. (1) On a quarterly basis, the department will compare the statewide weighted average payment rate for all nursing facilities with the weighted average payment rate identified in the Biennial Appropriations Act.

(2) To determine the statewide weighted average payment rate, the department will use total billed Medicaid days incurred in the calendar year immediately preceding the current fiscal year for the purpose of weighting the July 1 nursing facilities' rates that have been adjusted, or updated pursuant to chapter 74.46 RCW and this chapter.

WAC 388-96-724 Advance notice—Nursing facility component rate reduction taken under RCW 74.46.421.

(1) The department will notify the nursing facility at least twenty-eight calendar days in advance of the effective date of a reduction taken under RCW 74.46.421.

(2) A rate reduction taken under RCW 74.46.421 will be effective the first day of the month following the twenty-eight calendar day advance notice.

WAC 388-96-725 RCW 74.46.421 rate reduction—A nursing facility's rates. (1) The department will not reverse any rate reductions taken in accordance with RCW 74.46-421.

(2) If after a reduction a nursing facility is eligible to receive an increase in a component rate for some unrelated change (e.g., a change in the Medicaid case mix index causes the direct care rate to increase), the department will apply the increase to the rate reduced by application of RCW 74.46-421.

(3) Reductions made under RCW 74.46.421 are cumulative. The department will reduce the component rates for all nursing facilities without reversing any previous reductions.

WAC 388-96-726 RCW 74.46.421 nursing facility component rates below the statewide weighted average payment rate identified in the Biennial Appropriations Act. (1) Even if an individual nursing facility's component rates are below the statewide weighted average payment rate identified in the Biennial Appropriations Act, the department will reduce the nursing facility's rates as required under RCW 74.46.421.

(2) The department will not exempt any nursing facility from a component rates reduction required by RCW 74.46-421 for any circumstance, e.g., billed Medicaid days, under-spending of the biennial appropriation for nursing facility rates, etc.

WAC 388-96-730 Methodology for reducing a nursing facility's Medicaid payment rate in order to reduce the statewide weighted average nursing facility Medicaid payment rate to equal or be less than the weighted average payment rate identified in the Biennial Appropriations Act. (1) The department will determine a percentage reduction factor (PRF) that, when applied to all nursing facilities' rates will result in a statewide weighted average payment rate that is equal to or less than the weighted average payment rate identified in the Biennial Appropriations Act.

(2) By applying various percentages to the rates for all nursing facilities, the department will identify a percentage that reduces the statewide weighted average payment rate equal to or less than the weighted average payment rate identified in the Biennial Appropriations Act.

(3) The percentage identified in subsection (2) of this section will be the PRF. To reduce the statewide average payment rate to less than or equal to the weighted average payment rate identified in the Biennial Appropriations Act, the department will apply the PRF equally to all rate component allocations of each nursing facility's rate.

WAC 388-96-731 Nursing facilities' rate reductions pursuant to RCW 74.46.421. WAC 388-96-738 What default case mix group and weight must the department use for case mix grouping when there is no minimum data set resident assessment for a nursing facility resident? (1) When a resident:

(a) Dies before the facility completes the resident's initial assessment, the department must assign the assessment to the special care case mix group - SSB. The department must use the case mix weight assigned to the special care case mix group - SSB;

(b) Is discharged to an acute care facility before the nursing facility completes the resident's initial assessment, the department must assign the assessment to the special care case mix group - SSB. The department must use the case mix weight assigned to the special care case mix group - SSB; or

(c) Is discharged for a reason other than those noted above before the facility completes the resident's initial assessment, the department must assign the assessment to the case mix group BC1 with a case mix weight of 1.000.

(2) If the resident assessment is untimely as defined in RCW 74.46.501 and as defined by federal regulations, then the department must assign the case to the default case mix group of BC1 which has a case mix weight of 1.000.

WAC 388-96-739 How will the department determine which resident assessments are Medicaid resident assessments? The department must identify a Medicaid resident assessment through the review of the minimum data set (MDS) payer source code. If the nursing facility codes the payer source as "Medicaid per diem," regardless of whether any other payer source codes are checked, then the department will count the case as a Medicaid resident assessment.

WAC 388-96-740 Medicaid case mix index—When a facility does not meet the ninety percent minimum data set (MDS) threshold as identified in RCW 74.46.501. (1) When the department certifies a nursing facility as Medicaid, which was not previously certified as Medicaid in or after the quarter that will serve as the basis for the facility's Medicaid case mix index, then the department will use the industry average Medicaid case mix index for the quarter specified in RCW 74.46.501 (7)(c) as the facility's Medicaid average case mix index.

[Title 388 WAC—p. 490]

(2) If the nursing facility does not meet the ninety percent MDS threshold for any other reason, then the department will use one as the Medicaid case mix index.

WAC 388-96-741 When the nursing facility does not have facility average case mix indexes for the four quarters specified in RCW 74.46.501 (7)(b) for determining the cost per case mix unit, what will the department use to determine the nursing facility's cost per case mix unit? If the nursing facility:

(1) Is newly Medicaid certified after the four quarters specified in RCW 74.46.501 (7)(b), then the department must use the industry average case mix index for those four quarters as the facility's average case mix index.

(2) Existed during at least one of the four quarters and met the ninety percent threshold for at least one of the four quarters specified in RCW 74.46.501 (7)(b), then the department must use the facility's average case mix index for the quarter(s) that the facility met the ninety percent threshold.

(3) Existed during at least one of the four quarters and did not meet the ninety percent threshold for any of the four quarters, then the department must use the industry average case mix index as the facility's average case mix index.

WAC 388-96-742 Licensed beds to compute the ninety percent minimum data set (MDS) threshold rather than a nursing facility's quarterly average census. The department will use the number of licensed beds to compute the ninety percent threshold of MDS data when:

(1) The reported census as a result of errors exceeds the number of current licensed beds; or

(2) There is a significant discrepancy between the reported census and the number of current licensed beds. A significant discrepancy exists when the census is fifty percent or less of the number of licensed beds.

WAC 388-96-744 How will the department set the therapy care rate and determine the median cost limit per unit of therapy? (1) For a nursing facility that does not report units of therapy for the applicable cost report year, the department will set its nursing facility therapy care rate at $0.00 until units of therapy are submitted.

(2) After the nursing facility reports its units of therapy, the department will pay the nursing facility a rate beginning the effective date of the rate year, e.g., July 1.

(3) In a rebase year the nursing facility's units of therapy must be reported in the cost report used to rebase the rate. If reported later than the cost report due date, the department shall exclude the nursing facility's therapy costs from the array of costs used to set the median cost limit per unit of therapy.

WAC 388-96-746 How much therapy consultant expense for each therapy type will the department allow to be added to the total allowable one-on-one therapy expense? (1) The department will multiply the actual patient days when greater than eighty-five percent or patient days at eighty-five percent occupancy by both:

(a) A nursing facility's adjusted therapy consulting costs per patient day; and

(b) The median adjusted therapy consulting cost plus ten percent.

The lesser of (a) or (b) of this subsection will be reasonable therapy consulting costs that the department shall add to the total allowable one-on-one therapy expense used to calculate the therapy care rate.

(2) To determine the median adjusted therapy consulting cost per type of therapy, the department shall:

(a) Divide Medicaid nursing facilities in the state into two peer groups:

(i) Those facilities located within a metropolitan statistical area; and

(ii) Those not located in a metropolitan statistical area. Metropolitan statistical areas and nonmetropolitan statistical areas shall be as determined by the United States Office of Management and Budget or other applicable federal office.

(b) Array the facilities in each peer group from highest to lowest based on their therapy consulting cost per patient day for each type of therapy.

(c) Determine the median total cost for therapy consulting per patient day costs by MSA and non-MSA peer group and add ten percent to that median cost.

WAC 388-96-747 Constructed, remodeled or expanded facilities. (1) When a facility is constructed, remodeled, or expanded after obtaining a certificate of need or exemption from the requirements for certificate of need for the replacement of existing nursing home beds pursuant to RCW 70.38.115 (13)(a), the department shall determine actual and allocated allowable land cost and building construction cost. Payment for such allowable costs, determined pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, shall not exceed the maximums set forth in this subsection and in subsections (2) and (7) of this section. The department shall determine construction class and types through examination of building plans submitted to the department and/or on-site inspections. The department shall use definitions and criteria contained in the Marshall and Swift Valuation Service published by the Marshall and Swift Publication Company. Buildings of excellent quality construction shall be considered to be of good quality, without adjustment, for the purpose of applying these maximums.

(2) Construction costs shall be final labor, material, and service costs to the owner or owners and shall include:

(a) Architect's fees;

(b) Engineers' fees (including plans, plan check and building permit, and survey to establish building lines and grades);

(c) Interest on building funds during period of construction and processing fee or service charge;

(d) Sales tax on labor and materials;

(e) Site preparation (including excavation for foundation and backfill);

(f) Utilities from structure to lot line;

(g) Contractors' overhead and profit (including job supervision, workmen's compensation, fire and liability insurance, unemployment insurance, etc.);

(h) Allocations of costs which increase the net book value of the project for purposes of Medicaid payment;

(i) Other items included by the Marshall and Swift Valuation Service when deriving the calculator method costs.

(3) The department shall allow such construction costs, at the lower of actual costs or the maximums derived from the sum of the basic construction cost limit plus the common use area limit which corresponds to the type, class and number of total nursing home beds for the new construction, remodel or expansion. The maximum limits shall be calculated using the most current cost criteria contained in the Marshall and Swift Valuation Service and shall be adjusted forward to the mid-point date between award of the construction contract and completion of construction.

(4) When some or all of a nursing facility's common-use areas are situated in a basement, the department shall exclude some or all of the per-bed allowance for common-use areas to derive the construction cost limit for the facility. The amount excluded will be equal to the ratio of basement common-use areas to all common-use areas in the facility times the common-use area limits determined in accordance with subsection (3) of this section. In lieu of the excluded amount, the department shall add an amount calculated using the calculator method guidelines for basements in nursing homes published in the Marshall and Swift Valuation Service.

(5) Subject to provisions regarding allowable land contained in this chapter, allowable costs for land shall be the lesser of:

(a) Actual cost per square foot, including allocations;

(b) The average per square foot land value of the ten nearest urban or rural nursing facilities at the time of purchase of the land in question. The average land value sample shall reflect either all urban or all rural facilities depending upon the classification of urban or rural for the facility in question. The values used to derive the average shall be the assessed land values which have been calculated for the purpose of county tax assessments; or

(c) Land value for new or replacement building construction or substantial building additions requiring the acquisition of land that commenced to operate on or after July 1, 1997, determined in accordance with RCW 74.46.360 (2) and (3).

(6) If allowable costs for construction or land are determined to be less than actual costs pursuant to subsections (1) and (7) of this section, the department may increase the amount if the owner or contractor is able to show unusual or unique circumstances having substantially impacted the costs of construction or land. Actual costs shall be allowed to the extent they resulted from such circumstances up to a maximum of ten percent above levels determined under subsections (3), (4), and (5) of this section for construction or land. An adjustment under this subsection shall be granted only if requested by the contractor. The contractor shall submit documentation of the unusual circumstances and an analysis of its financial impact with the request.

(7) If a capitalized addition or retirement of an asset will result in an increased licensed bed capacity during the calendar year following the capitalized addition or replacement, the department shall use the facility's anticipated resident occupancy level subsequent to the increase in licensed bed capacity as long as the occupancy for the increased number of beds is at or above eighty-five percent. Subject to the provisions of this chapter and chapter 74.46 RCW, in no case shall the department use less than eighty-five percent occupancy of the facility's increased licensed bed capacity. If a capitalized addition, replacement, or retirement results in a decreased licensed bed capacity, WAC 388-96-709 will apply.

WAC 388-96-748 Financing allowance component rate allocation. (1) Beginning July 1, 1999, for each Medicaid nursing facility, the department will establish a financing allowance component rate allocation. The financing allowance component rate allocation will be rebased annually, effective July 1st, in accordance with this chapter and chapter 74.46 RCW.

(2) The department will determine the financing allowance component rate allocation by:

(a) Multiplying the net invested funds of each nursing facility by the applicable factor identified in subsection (3) of this section; and

(b) Dividing the sum of the products by the greater of:

(i) A nursing facility's total resident days from the most recent cost report period; or

(ii) Resident days calculated on eighty-five percent facility occupancy.

(3)(a) The multiplication factor required by subsection (2) (a) of this section is determined by the acquisition date of the tangible fixed asset(s). For each nursing facility, the department will multiply the net invested funds for assets acquired:

(i) Before May 17, 1999 by a factor of .10; and/or

(ii) On or after May 17, 1999 by a factor of .085.

(b) The department will apply the factor of .10 to the net invested funds pertaining to new construction or major renovations:

(i) That received certificate of need approval before May 17, 1999;

(ii) That received an exemption from certificate of need requirements under chapter 70.38 RCW before May 17, 1999; or

(iii) for which the nursing facility submitted working drawings to the department of health for construction review before May 17, 1999.

(c) For a new contractor as defined under WAC 388-96-026 (1)(c), assets acquired from the former contractor will retain their initial acquisition dates when determining the new contractor's financing allowance under this section.

WAC 388-96-749 Variable return—Quartiles and percentages. (1) When the department rebases each nursing facility's July 1 Medicaid payment rate in accordance with chapter 74.46 RCW and this chapter, it applies RCW 74.46.433 to set the variable return (VR) quartiles and assigns the designated percentage to the quartile.

(2) Following a July 1 rebasing of all component rates, the department will not adjust the quartiles or the percentages assigned to them for any reason, including but not limited to reversal of cost report adjustments by administrative review conferences, fair hearings, and/or judicial reviews until the next July 1 rebasing of all component rates.

The department will pay public facilities rendering such services free of charge or at a nominal charge according to the methods and standards set out in this chapter. The contractor shall provide as part of the annual cost report a statement of the average charges for the cost report year for services covered by the payment rate and supporting computations and documentation. The contractor shall immediately inform the department if its payment rate does exceed customary charges for comparable services. If necessary, the department will adjust the payment rate in accordance with RCW 74.46.531.

(2) The department may grant an exception to these limits if a contractor presents documentation deemed adequate by the department establishing a larger area of land is directly related to patient care. Requests for exceptions and any exceptions granted must be in writing.

(3) Requests for exceptions may be granted in the following cases:

(a) The area occupied by the nursing home building exceeds the allowable land area specified in subsection (1) of this section;

(b) The land is used directly in the provision of patient care;

Unless otherwise specified at the time it is issued, the Medicaid payment rate allocation and/or component rate allocation(s) will be effective from the first day of the month in which it (they) is (are) issued. When the department amends a Medicaid payment rate allocation and/or component rate allocation(s) as the result of an appeal in accordance with WAC 388-96-904, the amended rate will have the same effective date as the appealed rate.

(2) If a total Medicaid component payment rate allocation and/or rate allocation(s) is (are) adjusted, updated or amended after the calendar year in which the adjustment or update was effective, then the department will account for any amounts owed through the settlement process.

(3)(a) The department shall deem the contractor to have received the department's notice five calendar days after the date of the notification letter, unless proof of the date of receipt of the department's notification letter exists, in which case the actual date of receipt shall be used. Proof of date of receipt of department's notification must be from an independent source that has no stake in the outcome.

WAC 388-96-771 Receivership. (1) If the nursing home is providing care to recipients of state medical assistance, the receiver shall:

(a) Become the Medicaid contractor for the duration of the receivership period;

(b) Assume all reporting responsibilities for new contractors;

(c) Assume all other responsibilities for new contractors set forth in this chapter; and

(d) Be responsible for the refund of Medicaid rate payments in excess of costs during the period of receivership.

(2) In establishing the prospective rate during receivership the department shall consider:

(a) Compensation, if any, ordered by the court for the receiver. Such compensation may already be available to the receiver through the rate as follows:

(i) Financing allowance and variable return component rate allocations, or

(ii) The administrator's salary in the case of facilities where the receiver is also the administrator.

If these existing sources of compensation are less than what was ordered by the court, additional costs may be allowed in the rate up to the compensation amount ordered by the court.

(b) Start up costs and costs of repairs, replacements, and additional staff needed for patient health, security, and welfare. To the extent such costs can be covered through the financing allowance and the variable return component rate allocations, no additional monies will be added to the rate;

(c) Any other allowable costs as set forth in this chapter.

(3)(a) Upon order of the court, the department shall provide emergency or transitional financial assistance to a receiver not to exceed thirty thousand dollars.

(b) The department shall recover any emergency or transitional expenditure made by the department on behalf of a nursing home not certified to participate in the Medicaid Title XIX program from revenue generated by the facility which is not obligated to the operation of the facility.

(c) In order to help recover an emergency or transitional expenditure, regardless of whether the facility is certified to participate in the Medicaid Title XIX program or not, the department may:

(i) File an action against the former licensee or owner at the time the expenditure is made to recover such expenditure; or

(ii) File a lien on the facility or on the proceeds of the sale of the facility.

(4) If recommendations on receiver's compensation are solicited from the department by the court, the department shall consider the following:

- (a) The range of compensation for nursing home managers;
- (b) Experience and training of the receiver;
- (c) The size, location, and current condition of the facility;
- (d) Any additional factors deemed appropriate by the department.

(5) When the receivership terminates, the department may revise the nursing home's Medicaid reimbursement. The Medicaid reimbursement rate for:

- (a) The former owner or licensee shall be what it was before receivership, unless the former owner or licensee requests prospective rate revisions from the department as set forth in this chapter; and
- (b) Licensed replacement operators shall be determined consistent with rules governing prospective reimbursement rates for new contractors as set forth in this chapter.

WAC 388-96-776 Add-ons to the property and financing allowance payment rate—Capital improvements. (1) For new or replacement building construction or major renovation projects begun after July 1, 2001, the contractor must have a certificate of capital authorization (CCA) issued pursuant to WAC 388-96-783 and chapter 74.46 RCW.

(2)(a) Beginning July 1, 2001, the department shall grant an add-on to a prospective payment rate for capitalized improvements done under RCW 74.46.431(12) for all new or replacement building construction or major renovation projects; provided, the department granted the contractor a certificate of capital authorization (CCA) pursuant to WAC 388-96-783 for the fiscal year in which the contractor will complete the project and the net rate effect is ten cents per patient day or greater.

(b) Rate add-on requests filed with the department or approved by the certificate of need unit of the department of health for projects commencing before July 1, 2001 and finishing after July 1, 2001, are not subject to CCA requirements set forth in this chapter and chapter 74.46 RCW.

(3) The department may grant a rate add-on to a payment rate for capital improvements not requiring a CON and a CCA per subsections (1) and (2) of this section. However, the capital improvement must have a net rate effect of ten cents per patient day or greater.

(4) Rate add-ons for all construction and renovation projects granted pursuant to subsection (1) or (2) of this section shall be limited to the total legislative authorization for capital construction and renovation projects for the fiscal year (FY) of the biennium in which the construction or renovation project will be completed. Rate add-ons are subject to the provisions of RCW 74.46.421.

(5) When physical plant improvements made under subsection (1) or (2) of this section are completed in phases, the department shall:

(a) Grant a rate add-on in accordance with subsection (6) of this section for any addition, replacement or improvement when each phase is completed and certified for occupancy for the purpose for which it was intended;

(b) Limit the rate add-on to the actual cost of the depreciable tangible assets meeting the criteria of RCW 74.46.330;

(c) Add-on construction fees as defined in WAC 388-96-747 and other capitalized allowable fees and costs for the completed phase of the project; and

(d) Make the effective date for the rate add-on for the completed phase the quarterly rate change immediately following the completion and certification for occupancy of the phase. When the date of the written request for a phase add-on rate falls after the first quarter immediately following the completion and certification for occupancy of the phase, the department will issue the rate add-on retroactive to the first of the quarter in which the department received a complete written request.

(6) When the construction class of any portion of a newly constructed building will improve as the result of any addition, replacement or improvement occurring in a later, but not yet completed and fully utilized phase of the project, the most appropriate construction class, as applicable to that completed and fully utilized phase, will be assigned for purposes of calculating the rate add-on. The department shall not revise the rate add-on retroactively after completion of the portion of the project that provides the improved construction class. Rather, the department shall calculate a new rate add-on when the improved construction class phase is completed and fully utilized and the rate add-on will be effective in accordance with subsection (7) of this section using the date the class was improved.

(7) The contractor requesting a rate add-on under subsection (1), (2) or (3) of this section shall submit a written request to the department separate from all other requests and inquiries of the department, e.g., WAC 388-96-904 (1) and (5). A complete written request shall include the following:

(a) A copy of documentation requiring completion of the addition or replacements to maintain licensure or certification for adjustments requested under subsection (1) of this section;

(b) A copy of the new bed license, whether the number of licensed beds increases or decreases, if applicable;

(c) All documentation, e.g., copies of paid invoices showing actual final cost of assets and/or service, e.g., labor purchased as part of the capitalized addition or replacements;

(d) Certification showing the completion date of the capitalized additions or replacements and the date the assets were placed in service per RCW 74.46.360;

(e) A properly completed depreciation schedule for the capitalized additions or replacement as provided in this chapter; and

(f) When the rate increase is requested pursuant to subsection (3) of this section, a written justification for granting the rate increase.

(8) For rate add-on requests for projects not completed in phases that are approved pursuant to subsection (7) of this section and the written request is received:

(a) Within sixty calendar days following the completion and certification of occupancy of the new or replacement construction, major renovation, or the acquisition and installation (if applicable) of a capital improvement made under subsection (3) of this section, the effective date of the rate add-on will be the first of the month following the month in which the project was completed and certified for occupancy or acquired and installed; or

(b) More than sixty days following the completion and certification for occupancy of the new or replacement construction, major renovation project, or the acquisition and installation (if applicable) of a capital improvement made under subsection (3) of this section, the effective date of the rate add-on will be the first of the month following the month in which the written request was received.

(9) If the initial written request is incomplete, the department will notify the contractor of the documentation and information required. The contractor shall submit the requested information within fifteen calendar days from the date the contractor receives the notice to provide the information. If the contractor fails to complete the add-on request by providing all the requested documentation and information within the fifteen calendar days from the date of receipt of notification, the department shall deny the request for failure to complete.

(10) If, after the denial for failure to complete, the contractor submits another written request for a rate add-on for the same project the date of receipt for the purpose of applying subsection (8) of this section will depend upon whether the subsequent request for the same project is complete, i.e., the department does not have to request additional documentation and information in order to make a determination. If a subsequent request for funding of the same project is:

(a) Complete, then the date of the first request may be used when applying subsection (8) of this section; or

(b) Incomplete, then the date of the subsequent request must be used when applying subsection (8) of this section even though the physical plant improvements may be completed and fully utilized prior to that date.

(11) The department shall respond, in writing, not later than sixty calendar days after receipt of a complete request.

(12) If the contractor does not use the funds for the purpose for which they were granted, the department immediately shall have the right to recoup the misspent or unused funds.

(13) When any physical plant improvements made under subsection (1) or (2) of this section result in a change in licensed beds, any rate add-on granted will be subject to the provisions regarding the number of licensed beds, patient days, occupancy, etc., included in this chapter and chapter 74.46 RCW.

(14) Effective July 1, 2002, except for essential community providers, the Medicaid share of nursing facility new construction or refurbishing projects shall be based upon a minimum facility occupancy of ninety percent for the operations, property, and financing allowance component rate allocations. For essential community providers, the Medicaid share of nursing facility new construction or refurbishing project will be based upon a minimum facility occupancy of eighty-five percent for operations, property, and financing allowance component rate allocations.

(15) When a capitalized addition or replacement results in an increased licensed bed capacity during the calendar year following the capitalized addition or replacement:

(a) The department shall determine a nursing facility's prospective Medicaid:

(i) Property payment rate allocation by dividing the property costs using the greater of actual days from the cost report period on which the rate being recalculated is based or days calculated by multiplying the new number of licensed beds times ninety percent times the number of calendar days in the cost report period on which the rate being recalculated is based. For essential community providers, the department shall use eighty-five percent to calculate days to compare with actual days; and

(ii) Financing allowance payment rate allocation by multiplying the net invested funds by the applicable factor in WAC 388-96-748(3) and dividing by the greater of the facility's actual days from the cost report period on which the rate being recalculated is based or on days calculated by multiplying the new number of licensed beds times ninety percent occupancy times the calendar days in the cost report period on which the rate being recalculated is based. For essential community providers, the department shall use eighty-five percent occupancy to calculate days to compare to actual days.

WAC 388-96-783 Certificate of capital authorization (CCA). (1)(a) A certificate of capital authorization (CCA) is a certification from the department for an allocation from the biennial capital financing authorization for a nursing facility's new or replacement building construction, or major renovation project, receiving a certificate of need (CON) or a CON exemption from the department of health under chapter 70.38 RCW and chapter 246-310 WAC after July 1, 2001.

(b) Issuance of a CCA as required by this regulation and by chapter 74.46 RCW as necessary before:

(i) Any depreciation resulting from the capitalized addition is included in a facility's property component rate allocation, including both determinations under RCW 74.46.435 and property rate add-ons done pursuant to WAC 388-96-776; and/or

(ii) Any net invested funds associated with the capitalized addition are included in the calculation of the facility's financing allowance rate allocation, including both determinations under RCW 74.46.437 and financing allowance rate add-ons done pursuant to WAC 388-96-776.

(2) To apply for a CCA, a contractor must submit a written application to the nursing home rates section of the office of rates management (ORM) within the department. The application must be entirely separate from, and not included with, any other request or communication. The application must include:

(a) A description of the proposed new or replacement construction or major renovation;

(b) A copy of the CON approval, or the determination of CON exception issued by the department of health for the construction or renovation;

(c) The amount of money for which the CCA is being requested; this will presumably be the same amount as included in the CON approval or exception, but may be different where good cause is shown;

(d) The name of the general contractor who will build the construction or renovation; and

(e) The anticipated starting and completion dates of the construction or renovation.

(3) Completed applications for CCAs will be reviewed in the order received. An application will be deemed completed as of the date when all required information has been received by ORM. Within ninety days of the receipt of an application, ORM will either reject it as incomplete, or act upon it. If more than one CCA application is received on the same date, priority will first be given to an application from an essential community provider and then to an application in relation to the facility which has gone the longest from its last major renovation or building project.

(4) ORM will accept applications and issue CCAs for each state fiscal year for which the legislature has enacted authorization in the biennial appropriations act as provided by RCW 74.46.807, subject to the limits of such authorization. CCAs for a fiscal year will be issued until the remaining capital authorization for that year is insufficient to cover any more applications made for that year. An application denied because that year's authorization has been depleted may be resubmitted for a later year, and will be given priority for the remaining amounts of capital authorization in the later year, after CCAs already issued for that year. The state fiscal year runs from July 1 of one calendar year to June 30 of the following calendar year, and is designated by the second calendar year. For example, state fiscal year 2004 (SFY04) runs from July 1, 2003 through June 30, 2004.

(5)(a) When a CCA has been issued, the contractor must act to complete the construction or renovation in a timely manner, consistent with the estimates included in the application. The construction or renovation must be completed and ready for occupancy no later than the last day of the state fiscal year for which the CCA is issued. "Ready for occupancy" means that all federal, state, and local permits for occupancy of the buildings by residents have been issued.

(b) The contractor must send the department ORM a copy of each progress report submitted to the certificate of need section of the department of health under WAC 246-310-590, or a regulation adopted as a successor thereto, at the same time the progress report is filed with the department of health.

(c) Based upon the application for the CCA and the progress reports filed with the department of health by the contractor, ORM will set deadlines for progress of the project toward completion. ORM may withdraw a CCA if its holder does not comply with those deadlines in a good faith manner. A contractor that fails to meet a progress deadline due to its own action or inaction shall be considered not to have acted in a good faith manner.

(d) If a CCA is withdrawn by ORM, or if the construction or renovation is not ready for occupancy by the last day of the fiscal year for which the CCA was issued, the value of the construction or renovation will not be included in the facility's property component or financing allowance rate allocations, as provided in subsection (1)(b) of this section. To include the value of the construction or renovation in the facility's property component or financing allowance rate allocations, the contractor must seek and obtain another CCA.

(6)(a) Although they are related, the CON and CCA processes are separate. When a CON requires amendment under department of health requirements, the contractor must notify ORM. The previously issued CCA will stay in effect. When the amended CON is issued in an amount greater than the original CON, the contractor must submit a new CCA application to ORM covering only the difference between the original and amended CONs. This supplemental CCA application may reference the original CCA application to the greatest extent possible, to expedite its filing and review.

(b) The department of health allows the dollar amount of a CON to be exceeded by the greater of twelve percent or fifty thousand dollars without requiring an amendment to the CON. This excess is not automatically reflected in the corresponding CCA. Any increase in the amount requires an application for a new CCA.

(c) ORM will review the new CCA application based on the estimated date of occupancy and the authorization remaining for the relevant state fiscal year. If there is insufficient authorization remaining in that fiscal year to fund the project, ORM will deny the application in whole or in part.

(d) If a contractor's application for a CCA is denied pursuant to subsection (c) above, the contractor may resubmit it for a later state fiscal year and the application will be given priority as described in subsection (4) of this section.

(7) If ORM withdraws a CCA previously issued, the amount of that authorization shall be restored to the total capital authorization available for the state fiscal year against which the CCA was issued.

(8) An application for a CCA may be considered on an emergency basis. If the application is approved and a sufficient amount of authorization remains for the relevant fiscal year, the CCA may be issued without regard to the priority of the application. Only an application made in relation to a major renovation project may be considered on an emergency basis, and then only if it must be completed as soon as possible to:

(a) Retain a facility's license or certification provided the net rate effect is ten cents per patient day or greater;

(b) Protect the health or safety of the facility's residents; or

(c) Avoid closure if the facility is an essential community provider.

WAC 388-96-803 When a nursing facility (NF) contractor becomes aware of a change in the Medicaid resident's income and/or resources, must he or she report it?

Yes, within seventy-two hours of becoming aware of a change in the Medicaid resident's income and/or resources, the NF contractor will report the change in writing to the home and community services office serving the area in which the NF is located. When reporting the change, the NF contractor will include copies of any available documentation of the change in the Medicaid resident's income and/or resources.

WAC 388-96-901 Disputes. (1) If a contractor wishes to contest the way in which the department applied a statute or department rule to the contractor's circumstances, the contractor shall pursue the administrative review process prescribed in WAC 388-96-904.

(a) Adverse actions taken under the authority of this chapter or chapter 74.46 RCW subject to administrative review under WAC 388-96-904 include but are not limited to:

- (i) Determining a nursing facility payment rate;
- (ii) Calculating a nursing facility settlement;
- (iii) Imposing a civil fine on the nursing facility;
- (iv) Suspending payment to a nursing facility; or
- (v) Refusing to contract with a nursing facility.

(b) Adverse actions taken under the authority of this chapter or chapter 74.46 RCW not subject to administrative review under WAC 388-96-904 include but are not limited to:

- (i) Actions taken under the authority of RCW 74.46.421 and sections of this chapter implementing RCW 74.46.421;
- (ii) Case mix accuracy review of minimum data set (MDS) nursing facility resident assessments, which shall be limited to separate administrative review under the provisions of WAC 388-96-905;
- (iii) Quarterly rate updates to reflect changes in a facility's resident case mix including contractor errors made in the MDSs used to update the facility's resident case mix;
- (iv) Exceptional direct care program codified at WAC 388-96-781; and
- (v) Actions taken under WAC 388-96-218 (2)(c).

(2) The administrative review process prescribed in WAC 388-96-904 shall not be used to contest or review unrelated or ancillary department actions, whether review is sought to obtain a ruling on the merits of a claim or to make a record for subsequent judicial review or other purpose. If an issue is raised that is not subject to review under WAC 388-96-904, the presiding officer shall dismiss such issue with prejudice to further review under the provisions of WAC 388-96-904, but without prejudice to other administrative or judicial review as may be provided by law. Unrelated or ancillary actions not eligible for administrative review under WAC 388-96-904 include but are not limited to:

(a) Challenges to the adequacy or validity of the public process followed by department in proposing or making a change to the nursing facility Medicaid payment rate methodology, as required by 42 U.S.C. 1396a (a)(13)(A) and WAC 388-96-718;

(e) Actions of the department affecting a Medicaid beneficiary or provider that were not commenced by the office of rates management, aging and disability services administration, for example, entitlement to or payment for durable medical equipment or other services.

(3) If a contractor wishes to challenge the legal validity of a statute or regulation relating to the nursing facility Medicaid payment system, or wishes to bring a challenge based in whole or in part on federal law, it must bring such action de novo in a court of proper jurisdiction as may be provided by law.

WAC 388-96-904 Administrative review—Adjudicative proceeding. (1) Contractors seeking to appeal or take exception to an action or determination of the department, under authority of this chapter or chapter 74.46 RCW, relating to the contractor's payment rate, audit or settlement, or otherwise affecting the level of payment to the contractor, or seeking to appeal or take exception to any other adverse action taken under authority of this chapter or chapter 74.46 RCW eligible for administrative review under this section, shall request an administrative review conference in writing within twenty-eight calendar days after receiving notice of the department's action or determination. The department shall deem the contractor to have received the department's notice five calendar days after the date of the notification letter, unless proof of the date of receipt of the department's notification letter exists, in which case the actual date of receipt shall be used to determine timeliness of the contractor's request for an administrative review conference. The contractor's request for administrative review shall:

(a) Be signed by the contractor or by a partner, officer, or authorized employee of the contractor;

(b) State the particular issues raised; and

(c) Include all necessary supporting documentation or other information.

(2) After receiving a request for administrative review conference that meets the criteria in subsection (1) of this section, the department shall schedule an administrative review conference. The conference may be conducted by telephone.

(3) At least fourteen calendar days prior to the scheduled date of the administrative review conference, the contractor must supply any additional or supporting documentation or information upon which the contractor intends to rely in presenting its case. In addition, the department may request at any time prior to issuing a determination any documentation or information needed to decide the issues raised, and the contractor must comply with such a request within fourteen calendar days after it is received. The department may extend this period up to fourteen additional calendar days for good cause shown if the contractor requests an extension in writing received by the department before expiration of the initial fourteen-day period. The department shall dismiss issues that cannot be decided or resolved due to a contractor's failure to provide requested documentation or information within the required period.

(4) The department shall, within sixty calendar days after conclusion of the conference, render a determination in writing addressing the issues raised. If the department is waiting for additional documentation or information promised by or requested from the contractor pursuant to subsection (3) of this section, the sixty-day period shall not commence until the department's receipt of such documentation or information or until expiration of the time allowed to provide it. The determination letter shall include a notice of dismissal of all issues which cannot be decided due to a contractor's failure to provide documentation or information promised or requested.

(5) A contractor seeking further review of a determination issued pursuant to subsection (4) of this section shall apply for an adjudicative proceeding, in writing, signed by one of the individuals authorized by subsection (1) of this section, within twenty-eight calendar days after receiving the department's administrative review conference determination letter. A review judge or other presiding officer employed by the department's board of appeals shall conduct the adjudicative proceeding.

The department shall deem the contractor to have received the department's determination five calendar days after the date of the administrative review determination letter, unless proof of the date of receipt of the letter exists, in which case the actual date of receipt shall be used to determine timeliness of the contractor's application for an adjudicative proceeding. The contractor shall attach to its application for an adjudicative proceeding the department's administrative review conference determination letter. A contractor's application for an adjudicative proceeding shall be addressed to the department's board of appeals.

(6) Except as authorized by subsection (7) of this section, the scope of an adjudicative proceeding shall be limited to the issues specifically raised by the contractor at the administrative review conference and addressed on the merits in the department's administrative review conference determination letter. The contractor shall be deemed to have waived all issues or claims that could have been raised by the contractor relating to the challenged determination or action, but which were not pursued at the conference and not addressed in the department's administrative review conference determination letter. In its request for an adjudicative proceeding or as soon as practicable, the contractor must specify its issues.

(7) If the contractor wishes to have further review of any issue not addressed on its merits, but instead dismissed in the department's administrative review conference determination letter, for failure to supply needed, promised, or requested additional information or documentation, or because the department has concluded the request was untimely or otherwise procedurally defective, the issue shall be considered by the presiding officer for the purpose of upholding the department's dismissal, reinstating the issue and remanding for further agency staff action, or reinstating the issue and rendering a decision on the merits.

(8) An adjudicative proceeding shall be conducted in accordance with this chapter, chapter 388-02 WAC and chapter 34.05 RCW. In the event of a conflict between hearing requirements in chapter 74.46 RCW and chapter 388-96 WAC specific to the nursing facility Medicaid payment system and general hearing requirements in chapter 34.05 RCW and chapter 388-02 WAC, the specific requirements of chapter 74.46 RCW and chapter 388-96 WAC shall prevail. The presiding officer assigned by the department's board of appeals to conduct an adjudicative proceeding and who conducts the proceeding shall render the final agency decision.

(9) At the time an adjudicative proceeding is being scheduled for a future time and date certain, or at any appropriate stage of the prehearing process, the presiding officer shall have authority, upon the motion of either party or the presiding officer's own motion, to compel either party to identify specific issues remaining to be litigated.

(10) If the presiding officer determines there is no material issue(s) of fact to be resolved in a case, the presiding officer shall have authority, upon the motion of either party or the presiding officer's own motion, to decide the issue(s) presented without convening or conducting an in-person evidentiary hearing. In such a case, the decision may be reached on documentation admitted to the record, party admissions, written or oral stipulation(s) of facts, and written or oral argument.

(11) The board of appeals shall issue an order dismissing an adjudicative proceeding requested under subsection (5) of this section, unless within two hundred seventy calendar days after the board of appeals receives the application for an adjudicative proceeding:

(a) All issues have been resolved by a written settlement agreement between the contractor and the department signed by both and filed with the board of appeals; or

(b) An adjudicative proceeding has been held for all issues not resolved and the evidentiary record, including all rebuttal evidence and post-hearing or other briefing, is closed.

This time limit may be extended one time thirty additional calendar days for good cause shown upon the motion of either party made prior to the expiration of the initial two hundred seventy day period. It shall be the responsibility of the contractor to request that hearings be scheduled and ensure that settlement agreements are signed and filed with the board of appeals in order to comply with the time limit set forth in this subsection.

(12) Any party dissatisfied with a decision or an order of dismissal of the board of appeals may file a petition for reconsideration within ten calendar days after the decision or order of dismissal is served on such party. The petition shall state the specific grounds upon which relief is sought. The time for seeking reconsideration may be extended by the presiding officer for good cause upon motion of either party. The presiding officer shall rule on a petition for reconsideration and may seek additional argument, briefing, testimony, or other evidence if deemed necessary. Filing a petition for reconsideration shall not be a requisite for seeking judicial review; however, if a petition is filed by either party, the agency decision shall not be deemed final until a ruling is made by the presiding officer.

(13) A contractor dissatisfied with a decision or an order of dismissal of the board of appeals may file a petition for judicial review pursuant to RCW 34.05.570(3) or other applicable authority.

WAC 388-96-905 Case mix accuracy review of MDS nursing facility resident assessments.

(1) The department shall perform periodic nursing facility on-site accuracy reviews of minimum data set (MDS) assessments of nursing facility residents, for the purpose of verifying the accuracy of facility case mix data used to establish and update Medicaid payment rates, and for other purposes the department may deem appropriate.

(2) Contractors, their representatives, and authorized nursing facility personnel may ask questions and raise concerns with the quality assurance nurse (QAN) or other designated department representative at the time a case mix accuracy review is conducted. Contractors, their representatives and authorized nursing facility personnel should attempt to resolve any differences and provide additional documentation, information or clarification prior to the case mix accuracy review exit conference.

(3) Upon completing a case mix accuracy review, the QAN shall hold an exit conference to inform the facility of the QAN's observations and preliminary findings. MDS inaccuracies, if any, will be identified and the findings that substantiate these inaccuracies shall be described.

(4) Within five working days after the case mix accuracy review exit conference is held, the nursing facility district manager (DM) for the facility's district shall send the case mix accuracy review decision letter to the nursing facility administrator at the facility address. The case mix accuracy review decision letter shall be sent certified mail, return receipt requested, shall describe in detail the QAN's findings, and shall identify the:

- (a) Resident assessments that were reviewed;
- (b) RUG-III or other applicable case mix grouping that was determined for the resident assessments reviewed;
- (c) Changes in assigned classification, if any, that were made for residents whose assessments were reviewed;
- (d) Right of the contractor to appeal any disagreement with the case mix accuracy review decision to the department's case mix accuracy review administrator or his or her delegate:

- (i) Where to send an appeal request; and
- (ii) The time limit for requesting an appeal.

(5) If the contractor intends to appeal the DM's case mix accuracy review decision letter, the appeal request must be in writing and mailed to the department's case mix accuracy administrator within ten calendar days after receipt of the case mix accuracy review decision letter. The appeal request letter shall:

(a) Be signed by the contractor or by a partner, officer, or authorized employee of the contractor;

(b) State the particular issue(s) raised, including any explanation or basis for disagreeing with the department's findings or actions.

(6) Prior to the informal administrative hearing, the case mix accuracy review administrator shall have no involvement in the case mix accuracy review decision.

(7) Upon receiving a timely appeal request, the administrator shall review any documentation and information submitted with the request, and contact the contractor by telephone to schedule an informal administrative hearing. The purpose of this informal hearing is to give the contractor one opportunity to present information which might warrant modification or deletion of resident-specific accuracy findings resulting from the case mix accuracy review. The scope of the informal administrative hearing shall be limited to clinical issues of resident need and assessment. Nonclinical issues beyond the scope of appeal include, but are not limited to:

(a) Any remedies or negative actions imposed by the department to rectify practices or inaccuracies;

(b) Alleged inconsistencies in the accuracy review process;

(c) Challenges to the authority or adequacy of the case mix accuracy review process; and

(d) Payment rate issues or other adverse actions subject to review under WAC 388-96-904.

(8) On or before the informal hearing date, the contractor must submit all necessary supporting documentation or other information to the case mix accuracy review administrator. The administrator may request additional information or documentation from the contractor at any time before issuing the final, informal hearing decision. The contractor shall provide all information or documentation within the time limits established by this section, or by the administrator. In the event that the contractor fails to submit the required documentation for a claim or issue within the specified time limits, the accuracy review administrator shall dismiss the claim or issue with prejudice.

(9) The informal case mix accuracy review administrative hearing shall be conducted in person, unless both the contractor and the department agree that it can be conducted by telephone.

(10) Within ten days after the informal administrative hearing or within ten days after receipt of any additional information or documentation requested, whichever is later, the case mix accuracy review administrator shall send the appeal decision in writing to the nursing facility administrator at the facility address. The appeal decision letter shall be sent regular mail and shall:

(a) Be the final agency decision of the department;

(b) Be based on the independent judgment of the case mix accuracy review administrator who conducted the informal administrative hearing and reviewed all information and documentation; and

(c) Recite the right of the contractor to seek judicial review under the state's Administrative Procedure Act (chapter 34.05 RCW).

(11) A contractor dissatisfied with the final agency decision issued by the case mix accuracy review administrator may file a petition for judicial review pursuant to RCW 34.05.570(3) or other applicable authority.

- (a) At the resident's request;
- (b) The transfer or discharge is necessary for the resident's welfare and the resident's needs cannot be met in the facility;
- (c) The transfer or discharge is appropriate because the resident's health has improved enough so the resident no longer needs the services provided by the facility;
- (d) The safety of individuals in the facility is endangered;
- (e) The health of individuals in the facility would otherwise be endangered; or
- (f) The resident has failed, after reasonable and appropriate notice, to pay for a stay at the facility.

(2) The following notice requirements apply if a nursing home/facility initiates the transfer or discharge of a resident. The notice must:

- (a) Include all information required by 42 C.F.R. § 483.12 when given in a nursing facility;
- (b) Be in writing, in language the resident understands;
- (c) Be given to the resident, the resident's surrogate decision maker, if any, the resident's family and to the department;
- (d) Be provided thirty days in advance of a transfer or discharge initiated by the nursing facility, except that the notice may be given as soon as practicable when the facility cannot meet the resident's urgent medical needs, or under the conditions described in (1)(c), (d), and (e) of this section; and
- (e) Be provided fifteen days in advance of a transfer or discharge initiated by the nursing home, unless the transfer is an emergency.

(3) The nursing home must:

- (a) Provide sufficient preparation and orientation to the resident to ensure safe and orderly transfer or discharge from the nursing home;
- (b) Attempt to avoid the transfer or discharge of a resident from the nursing home through the use of reasonable accommodations unless agreed to by the resident and the requirements of WAC 388-97-032 are met; and
- (c) Develop and implement a bed-hold policy. This policy must be consistent with any bed-hold policy that the department develops.

(4) The nursing home must provide the bed-hold policy, in written format, to the resident, and a family member, before the resident is transferred or goes on therapeutic leave. At a minimum the policy must state:

- (a) The number of days, if any, the nursing home will hold a resident's bed pending return from hospitalization or social/therapeutic leave;
- (b) That a Medicaid eligible resident, whose hospitalization or social/therapeutic leave exceeds the maximum number of bed-hold days will be readmitted to the first available semi-private bed, provided the resident needs nursing facility services. - (i) The resident's needs cannot be met in the facility;
- (ii) The health or safety of individuals in the facility is endangered; or

(ii) Transfer or discharge will be suspended when an appeal request is received by the office of administrative hearings on or before the date the resident actually transfers or discharges; and

(iii) The nursing home will assist the resident in requesting a hearing to appeal the transfer or discharge decision.

(a) In the event of a conflict between a provision in this chapter and a provision in chapter 388-02 WAC, the provision in this chapter will prevail;

(b) The resident must be the appellant and the skilled nursing facility or the nursing facility will be the respondent;

(c) The department must be notified of the appeal and may choose whether to participate in the proceedings. If the department chooses to participate, its role is to represent the state's interest in assuring that skilled nursing facility and nursing facility transfer and discharge actions comply substantively and procedurally with the law and with federal requirements necessary for federal funds;

(d) If a Medicare certified or Medicaid certified facility's decision to transfer or discharge a resident is not upheld, and the resident has been relocated, the resident has the right to readmission immediately upon the first available bed in a semi-private room if the resident requires and is eligible for the services provided by a nursing facility or skilled nursing facility.

(e) Any review of the administrative law judge's initial decision shall be conducted under WAC 388-02-0600(1).

WAC 388-97-055 Resident decision making. (1) At the time of admission, or not later than the completion of the initial comprehensive resident assessment, the nursing home must determine if the resident:

(a) Has appointed another individual to make his or her health care, financial, or other decisions;

(b) Has created any advance directive or other legal documents that will establish a surrogate decision maker in the future; and

(c) Is not making his or her own decisions, and identify who has the authority for surrogate decision making, and the scope of the surrogate decision maker's authority.

(2) The nursing home must review the requirements of (1) of this section when the resident's condition warrants the review or when there is a significant change in the resident's condition.

(3) In fulfilling its duty to determine who, if anyone, is authorized to make decisions for the resident, the nursing home must:

- (a) Obtain copies of the legal documents that establish the surrogate decision maker's authority to act; and
- (b) Document in the resident's clinical record:
 - (i) The name, address, and telephone number of the individual who has legal authority for substitute decision making;
 - (ii) The type of decision making authority such individual has; and
 - (iii) Where copies of the legal documents are located at the facility.

(4) In accordance with state law or at the request of the resident, the resident's surrogate decision maker is, in the case of:

- (a) A capacitated resident, the individual authorized by the resident to make decisions on the resident's behalf;
- (b) A resident adjudicated by a court of law to be incapacitated, the court appointed guardian; and
- (c) A resident who has been determined to be incapacitated, but is not adjudicated incapacitated established through:

- (i) A legal document, such as a durable power of attorney for health care; or
- (ii) Authority for substitute decision making granted by state law, including RCW 7.70.065.

(5) Determination of an individual's incapacity must be a process according to state law not a medical diagnosis only and be based on:

- (a) Demonstrated inability in decision making over time that creates a significant risk of personal harm;
- (b) A court order; or
- (c) The criteria contained in a legal document, such as durable power of attorney for health care.

(6) The nursing home must promote the resident's right to exercise decision making and self-determination to the fullest extent possible, taking into consideration his or her ability to understand and respond. Therefore, the nursing home must presume that the resident is the resident's own decision maker unless:

- (a) A court has established a full guardianship of the individual;
- (b) The capacitated resident has clearly and voluntarily appointed a surrogate decision maker;
- (c) A surrogate is established by a legal document such as a durable power of attorney for health care; or
- (d) The facility determines that the resident is an incapacitated individual according to RCW 11.88.010 and (5)(a) of this section.

(7) The nursing home must honor the exercise of the resident's rights by the surrogate decision maker as long as the surrogate acts in accordance with this section and with state and federal law which govern his or her appointment.

(8) If a surrogate decision maker exercises a resident's rights, the nursing home must take into consideration the resident's ability to understand and respond and must:

- (a) Inform the resident that a surrogate decision maker has been consulted;

(b) Provide the resident with the information and opportunity to participate in all decision making to the maximum extent possible; and

(c) Recognize that involvement of a surrogate decision maker does not lessen the nursing home's duty to:

- (i) Protect the resident's rights; and
 - (ii) Comply with state and federal laws.
- (9) The nursing home must:
- (a) Regularly review any determination of incapacity based on (4)(b) and (c) of this section;
 - (b) Except for residents with a guardian, cease to rely upon the surrogate decision maker to exercise the resident's rights, if the resident regains capacity, unless so designated by the resident or by court order; and

(c) In the case of a guardian notify the court of jurisdiction in writing if:

- (i) The resident regains capacity;
- (ii) The guardian is not respecting or promoting the resident's rights;
- (iii) The guardianship should be modified; or
- (iv) A different guardian needs to be appointed.

(a) The resident to the maximum extent possible, taking into consideration his or her ability to understand and respond; and

(b) The surrogate decision maker when the resident is determined to be incapacitated as established through the provision of a legal document such as durable power of attorney for health care, a court proceeding, or as authorized by state law, including RCW 7.70.065. The surrogate decision maker must:

- (i) First determine if the resident would consent or refuse the proposed or alternative treatment;
- (ii) Discuss determination of consent or refusal with the resident whenever possible; and
- (iii) When a determination of the resident's consent or refusal of treatment cannot be made, make the decision in the best interest of the resident.

(2) The informed consent process must include, in words and language that the resident, or if applicable the resident's surrogate decision maker, understands, a description of:

- (a) The nature and character of the proposed treatment;
- (b) The anticipated results of the proposed treatment;
- (c) The recognized possible alternative forms of treatment;

(d) The recognized serious possible risks, complications, and anticipated benefits involved in the treatment and in the recognized possible alternative forms of treatment including nontreatment; and

(e) The right of the resident to choose not to be informed.

(3) To ensure informed consent or refusal by a resident, or if applicable the resident's surrogate decision maker, regarding plan or care options, the nursing home must:

(a) Provide the informed consent process to the resident in a neutral manner and in a language, words, and manner the resident can understand;

(b) Inform the resident of the right to consent to or refuse care and service options at the time of resident assessment and plan of care development (see WAC 388-97-085 and 388-97-090) and with condition changes, as necessary to ensure that the resident's wishes are known;

(c) Inform the resident at the time of initial plan of care decisions and periodically of the right to change his or her mind about an earlier consent or refusal decision;

(d) Ensure that evidence of informed consent or refusal is consistent with WAC 388-97-085 and 388-97-090; and

(e) Where appropriate, include evidence of resident's choice not to be informed as required in subsections (2) and (3) of this section.

WAC 388-97-065 Advance directives. (1) "Advance directive" as used in this chapter means any document indicating a resident's choice with regard to a specific service, treatment, medication or medical procedure option that may be implemented in the future such as power of attorney, health care directive, limited or restricted treatment cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR), do not resuscitate (DNR), and organ tissue donation.

(2) The nursing home must carry out the provisions of this section in accordance with the applicable provisions of WAC 388-97-055 and 388-97-060, and with state law.

(3) The nursing home must:

(a) Document in the clinical record whether or not the resident has an advance directive;

(b) Not request or require the resident to have any advance directives and not condition the provision of care or otherwise discriminate against a resident on the basis of whether or not the resident has executed an advance directive;

(c) In a language and words the resident understands, inform the resident in writing and orally at the time of admission, and thereafter as necessary to ensure the resident's right to make informed choices, about:

(i) The right to make health care decisions, including the right to change his or her mind regarding previous decisions;

(ii) Nursing home policies and procedures concerning implementation of advance directives, including how the nursing home implements emergency responses; and

(d) Review and update as needed the resident advance directive information:

(i) At the resident's request;

(ii) When the resident's condition warrants review; and

(iii) When there is a significant change in the resident's condition.

(4) When the nursing home becomes aware that a resident's health care directive is in conflict with facility practices and policies which are consistent with state and federal law, the nursing home must:

(a) Inform the resident of the existence of any nursing home practice or policy which would preclude implementing the health care directive;

(b) Provide the resident with written policies and procedures that explain under what circumstances a resident's health care directive will or will not be implemented by the nursing home;

(c) Meet with the resident to discuss the conflict; and

(d) Determine, in light of the conflicting practice or policy, whether the resident chooses to remain at the nursing home;

(i) If the resident chooses to remain in the nursing home, develop with the resident a plan in accordance with chapter 70.122 RCW to implement the resident's wishes. The nursing home may need to actively participate in ensuring the execution of the plan, including moving the resident at the time of implementation to a care setting that will implement the resident's wishes. Attach the plan to the resident's directive in the resident's clinical record; or

(ii) If, after recognizing the conflict between the resident's wishes and nursing home practice or policy the resident chooses to seek other long-term care services, or another physician who will implement the directive, the nursing home must assist the resident in locating other appropriate services.

(5) If a terminally ill resident, in accordance with state law, wishes to die at home, the nursing home must:

(a) Use the informed consent process as described in WAC 388-97-060, and explain to the resident the risks associated with discharge; and

(a) For the presence of a serious mental illness or a developmental disability, before admission to the nursing facility;

(b) For nursing facility level of care; and

(c) If the individual does have either a serious mental illness or a developmental disability, to determine whether there is a need for specialized services, or services of a lesser intensity.

(2) The referring hospital, physician, or other referral source must:

(a) Perform the identification screen using a standardized department-specified Level I screening form for all individuals seeking admission to a nursing facility unless they:

(i) Are being readmitted to the nursing facility from the hospital; or

(ii) Are being transferred from one nursing facility to another, with or without an intervening hospital stay.

(b) Identify whether the individual may have a serious mental illness or a developmental disability as defined under 42 C.F.R. § 483.102, or successor laws; and

(c) Refer all individuals identified as likely to have a serious mental illness or a developmental disability to the department for a nursing facility level of care assessment and a Level II screening.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 18.51.070 and 74.42.620. 00-06-028, § 388-97-247, filed 2/24/00, effective 3/26/00.]

WAC 388-97-249 Advanced categorical determinations, not subject to preadmission screening—Level II.

Individuals identified as having symptoms of mental illness or a developmental disability and meeting any of the advanced categorical determinations do not need to be referred for a Level II screening. The determinations include that the individual:

If they meet the nursing facility level of care, the department refers them to the department's designee, either the mental health PASRR contractor or the division of developmental disabilities, for a Level II screening.

- (2) In the Level II screening, the department's designee will verify the diagnosis and determine whether the referred individuals need specialized services, or services of a lesser intensity:

- (a) "Specialized services" for an individual with mental retardation or related conditions is defined under 42 C.F.R. § 483.120 (a)(2), and § 483.440 (a)(1), or successor laws. These specialized services do not include services to maintain a generally independent individual able to function with little supervision or in the absence of a treatment program; and

- (b) "Specialized services" for an individual with a serious mental illness is defined under 42 C.F.R. § 483.120 (a)(1), or successor laws. These services are generally considered acute psychiatric inpatient care, emergency respite care, or stabilization and crisis services.

- (3) The need for specialized services, for a nursing facility applicant, will be determined as follows:

- (2) In the event that residents chose to remain in the nursing facility as outlined in subsection (1) above, the department, or designee, will clarify the effect on eligibility for Medicaid services under the state plan if the resident chooses to leave the facility, including its effect on readmission to the facility.

- (3) An individual applying for admission to a nursing facility or a nursing facility resident who has been adversely impacted by a PASRR determination may appeal the department's determination that the individual is:

- (b) Not in need of specialized services as defined under WAC 388-97-251; or

- (c) Need for specialized services as defined under WAC 388-97-251.

- (4) The nursing facility must assist the individual applying for admission or resident, as needed, in requesting a hearing to appeal the department's PASRR determination.

- (5) If the department's PASRR determination requires that a resident be transferred or discharged, the department will:

- (a) Provide the required notice of transfer or discharge to the resident, the resident's surrogate decision maker, and if appropriate, a family member or the resident's representative thirty days or more before the date of transfer or discharge;

- (b) Attach a hearing request form to the transfer or discharge notice;

(6) The department's home and community services may pay for the resident's nursing facility services after the time specified in subsection (5)(c)(iii) of this section, if the department determines that a location appropriate to the resident's medical and other needs is not available.

(7) The department will:

(a) Send a copy of the transfer/discharge notice to the resident's attending physician, the nursing facility and, where appropriate, a family member or the resident's representative;

(b) Suspend transfer or discharge:

(i) If the office of administrative hearings receives an appeal on or before the date set for transfer or discharge or before the resident is actually transferred or discharged; and

(ii) Until the office of appeals makes a determination; and

(c) Provide assistance to the resident for relocation necessitated by the department's PASRR determination.

(8) Resident appeals of PASRR determinations will be in accordance with 42 C.F.R. § 431 Subpart E, chapter 388-02 WAC, and the procedures defined in this section. 1/ P=Positive N=Negative ±=Continuous directional control not required.

2/ Whether positive or negative, pressure must be a minimum of seventy cubic feet per minute (CFM).

3/ The volume of air may be reduced up to fifty percent in these areas during periods of nonuse. The soiled holding area of the general laundry must maintain its full ventilation capacity at all time.

(3) Minimum ventilation requirements. Meet the pressure relationship and ventilation rates per ASHRAE 95 HVAC Applications Chapter 7.11 Table 5 Pressure Relationships and Ventilation of Certain Areas of Nursing Homes. The nursing home must ensure:

(b) Central ventilation or air conditioning systems means any system serving more than a single room used by residents or by any group of rooms serving the same utility function (i.e., the laundry);

(c) Filter efficiency is warranted by the manufacturer and is based on atmospheric dust spot efficiency per ASHRAE Standard 52-76;

(d) The filter bed is located upstream of the air-conditioning equipment, unless a prefilter is employed. In which case, the prefilter is upstream of the equipment and the main filter bed may be located downstream; and

(e) The nursing home must ensure:

(i) Filter frames are durable and provide an airtight fit with the enclosing duct work. All joints between filter segments and enclosing duct work are gasketed or sealed;

WAC 388-97-610 Plan of correction. (1) The licensee or nursing home must, within ten calendar days of notification of the cited deficiencies prepare, sign, date and provide to the department a detailed written plan of correction. Such plan of correction will provide notification to the department of the date by which the nursing home will complete the correction of cited deficiencies. The plan of correction must be completed regardless of whether the licensee requests an informal department review in accordance in WAC 388-97-620.

(2) A plan of correction is not required for deficiencies at a severity level 1/isolated scope as described in WAC 388-97-640, unless specifically requested by the department.

(3) In the case of actual or imminent threat to resident health or safety/immediate jeopardy (severity level 4 as described in WAC 388-97-640), the department may require the licensee or nursing home to submit a document alleging that the imminent threat has been removed within a time frame specified by the department. The document must specify the steps the nursing home has taken or will take to correct the imminent harm. An allegation that the imminent harm has been removed does not substitute for the plan of correction as required by subsection (1) of this section but it will become a part of the completed plan of correction.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 18.51.070, 74.42.620. 02-14-063, § 388-97-610, filed 6/27/02, effective 7/28/02.]

(c) Address what measures will be put into place or systemic changes made to ensure that the deficient practice will not recur;

(d) Indicate how the nursing home plans to monitor its performance to make sure that solutions are sustained, including how the plan of correction will be integrated into the nursing home's quality assurance system;

(e) Give the title of the person who is responsible for assuring lasting correction; and

(f) Give the date by which the correction will be made.

(2) The department will review the nursing home's plan of correction to determine whether it is acceptable.

(3) When deficiencies involve nursing home alterations, physical plant plan development, construction review, or other circumstances where extended time to complete correction may be required, the department's designated local aging and adult services administration (AASA) field office or other department designee may accept a plan of correction as evidence of substantial compliance under the following circumstances:

(a) The plan of correction must include the steps that the nursing home needs to take, the time schedule for completion of the steps, and concrete evidence that the plan will be carried out as scheduled; and

(b) The nursing home must submit progress reports and/or updated plans to the department in accordance with a schedule specified by department.

(c) The department's acceptance of a plan of correction is solely at the department's discretion and does not rule out the imposition of optional remedies.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 18.51.070, 74.42.620. 02-14-063, § 388-97-615, filed 6/27/02, effective 7/28/02.]

WAC 388-97-620 Informal department review. (1) For Medicare or Medicaid certified nursing homes, the informal department review process described in this section is the only opportunity for the nursing home to dispute the federal deficiency citation report, unless a federal sanction is imposed.

(2) The nursing home licensee has the right to an informal department review of disputed state or federal citations, or both.

[Title 388 WAC—p. 556]

(3) A licensee must make a written request for an informal department review within ten calendar days of receipt of the department's written deficiency citation(s) report. The request must be directed to the department's designated local aging and adult services administration (AASA) office and must identify the deficiencies that are being disputed.

(4) At the informal department review, the licensee or nursing home may provide documentation and verbal explanations related to the disputed federal or state deficiencies, or both.

(5) When modifications or deletions are made to the disputed federal or state deficiency citations, or both, the licensee or nursing home must modify or delete the relevant portions of the plan of correction within five days of receipt of the modified or deleted deficiency(ies). The licensee or nursing home may request from the department a clean copy of the revised deficiency citation report.

(6) If the licensee or nursing home is unwilling to provide the modified plan of correction, the department may impose a per day civil fine for failure to return the modified deficiency citation report to the department in accordance with this subsection.

(3) The appeal process will be governed by the Administrative Procedure Act (chapter 34.05 RCW), RCW 18.51.065 and 74.42.580, chapter 388-02 WAC and this chapter. If any provision in this chapter conflicts with chapter 388-02 WAC, the provision of this chapter will govern.

(4) The purpose of an administrative hearing will be to review actions taken by the department under chapters 18.51, 74.42 or 74.39A RCW, and under this chapter.

(5) The applicant, licensee or nursing home must file a request for an administrative hearing with the office of administrative hearings within twenty days of receipt of written notification of the department's action as defined in subsection (2) of this section. WAC 388-97-635 Criteria for imposing optional remedies. (1) The criteria set forth in this section implement the requirements under RCW 18.51.060(8). The criteria do not replace the standards for imposition of mandatory remedies under RCW 18.51.060 (3) and (5), or for the imposition of mandatory remedies in accordance with WAC 388-97-630 (1), (2) and (3).

(2) The department must consider the imposition of one or more optional remedy(ies) when the nursing home has:

- (a) A history of being unable to sustain compliance;
- (b) One or more deficiencies on one inspection at severity level 2 or higher as described in WAC 388-97-640;
- (c) Been unable to provide an acceptable plan of correction after receiving assistance from the department about necessary revisions;

(3) The department, in its sole discretion, may consider other relevant factors when determining what optional remedy or remedies to impose in particular circumstances.

- (a) Uncorrected upon revisit;
- (b) Recurring (repeated);
- (c) Pervasive; or
- (d) Present a threat to the health, safety, or welfare of the residents.

(5) The department will consider the severity and scope of cited deficiencies in accordance with WAC 388-97-640 when selecting optional remedy(ies). Such consideration will not limit the department's discretion to impose a remedy for a deficiency at a low level severity and scope.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 18.51.070, 74.42.620, 02-14-063, § 388-97-635, filed 6/27/02, effective 7/28/02.]

WAC 388-97-640 Severity and scope of deficiencies.

(1) "Severity of a deficiency" means the seriousness of the deficiency. Factors the department will consider when determining the severity of a deficiency may include, but are not limited to:

- (a) Whether harm to the resident has occurred, or could occur, including but not limited to a violation of resident's rights;
- (b) The impact of the actual or potential harm on the resident; and
- (c) The degree to which the nursing home failed to meet the resident's highest practicable physical, mental, and psychosocial well-being as defined in WAC 388-97-005.

[Title 388 WAC—p. 557]

(2) Severity levels*(a) Severity level 4—Imminent harm or immediate jeopardy

Level 4 means that a resident(s)' health or safety is imminently threatened or immediately jeopardized as a result of deficient nursing home practice. This level includes actual harm or potential harm, or both, to resident(s)' health or safety that has had or could have a severe negative outcome or critical impact on resident's well-being, including death or severe injury. Severity Level 4 requires immediate corrective action to protect the health and safety of resident(s).

(b) Severity level 3—Actual harm

Level 3 means that actual harm has occurred to resident(s) as the result of deficient nursing home practice.

(i) "Serious harm" is harm that results in a negative outcome that significantly compromises the resident(s)' ability to maintain and/or reach the highest practicable physical, mental and psychosocial well-being. Serious harm does not constitute imminent danger/immediate jeopardy (Severity Level 4).

(ii) "Moderate harm" is harm that results in a negative outcome that more than slightly but less than significantly compromises the resident(s)' ability to maintain and/or reach the highest practicable physical, mental and psychosocial well-being.

(iii) "Minimal harm" is harm that results in a negative outcome that to a small degree compromises the resident(s)' ability to maintain and/or reach the highest practicable physical, mental well-being.

(c) Severity level 2—Potential for harm

Level 2, "potential for harm" means that if the deficient nursing home practice is not corrected, resident(s) may suffer actual harm.

(d) Severity level 1—No harm or minimal impact

Level 1 means a deficient nursing home practice that does not compromise the resident(s)' ability to maintain or reach, or both, the highest practicable physical, mental and psychosocial well-being. Deficiencies at level 1 are those that have no direct or potential for no more than minimal impact on the resident. Examples include certain structure deficiencies, certain physical environment deficiencies and process deficiencies.

(3) "Scope of a deficiency" means the frequency, incidence, or extent of the occurrence of the deficiency.

(4) Scope categories

(a) "Isolated or limited scope" means a relatively few number of residents have been affected or have the potential to be affected, by the deficient nursing home practice.

(b) "Moderate or pattern scope" scope means more than an isolated and less than a widespread number of residents have been affected, or have the potential to be affected by the deficient nursing home practice.

(c) "Widespread" or "systemic scope" means most or all of the residents are affected or have the potential to be affected, by the deficient nursing home practice.

(5) Determination of scope will be made by the department in its sole discretion. Factors the department will consider may include:

- (a) Size of the nursing home;
- (b) Size of the sample;
- (c) Number and location of affected residents;
- (d) Whether the deficiency applies to all or a subset of the residents;
- (e) Other factors relevant to the particular circumstances.

The department's stop placement order becomes effective upon verbal or written notice.

(2) The nursing home has the right to an informal department review to refute the federal or state deficiencies, or both, cited as the basis for the stop placement and must request such review in accordance with WAC 388-97-620(3).

(3) The department will not delay or suspend a stop placement order because the nursing home requests an administrative hearing or informal department review.

(4) The stop placement order must remain in effect until:

(a) The department terminates the stop placement order;

or

(b) The stop placement order is terminated by a final agency order following appeal conducted in accordance with chapter 34.05 RCW.

(5) The department must terminate the stop placement when:

(a) The nursing home states in writing that the deficiencies necessitating the stop placement action have been corrected; and

(i) The deficiencies that necessitated the stop placement action have been corrected; and

(ii) The nursing home exhibits the capacity to maintain adequate care and services and correction of deficiencies.

(6) After lifting the stop placement, the department may continue to perform on site monitoring to verify that the nursing home has maintained correction of deficiencies.

Accrual of the per day civil fine will end on the date the department determines the nursing home corrected the deficiency.

(2) A per instance fine may be assessed for a deficiency, regardless of whether or not the deficiency had been corrected by the time the department first identified it.

(3) Civil fine(s) are due twenty days after the nursing home is notified of the civil fine(s) if the nursing home does not request a hearing.

If the amount of the civil fine is reduced following an appeal, interest on the reduced civil fine(s) accrues from thirty days after the nursing home was notified of the original civil fine(s).

(6) When a nursing home fails to pay a civil fine when due under this chapter, the department may:

(a) Withhold an amount equal to the fine plus interest, if any, from the nursing home's Medicaid payment;

PART II ASSISTED LIVING SERVICES

WAC 388-110-140 Assisted living services facility structural requirements. (1) In a boarding home with an assisted living services contract, the contractor must ensure each resident has a private apartment-like unit meeting the requirements of a type 'B' dwelling unit as defined by the International Code Council A117.1 as adopted by the Washington State Building Code Council. Except as provided in subsection (3) of this section, each unit must have at least the following:

(a) A minimum area of one hundred eighty square feet in an existing boarding home, and two hundred twenty square feet in a new boarding home. The minimum area may include counters, closets and built-ins, but must exclude the bathroom;

(b) A separate private bathroom, which includes a sink, toilet, and a shower or bathtub. In a new boarding home, the contractor must provide a minimum of one wheelchair accessible bathroom with a roll-in shower that is at least forty-eight inches by thirty inches for every two residents whose care is partially or fully funded by the department through the assisted living contract;

(c) A lockable entry door;

(d) A kitchen area equipped with a refrigerator, a microwave oven or stovetop, and a counter or table for food preparation. In a new boarding home, the kitchen area must also be equipped with a storage space for utensils and supplies, and a counter surface, a minimum of thirty inches wide by twenty-four inches in depth, a maximum height of thirty-four inches, and a knee space beneath at least twenty-seven inches in height; and

(e) A living area wired for telephone and, where available in the geographic location, wired for television service.

(2)(a) For purposes of this section, a new boarding home is:

(i) A new building to be used as a boarding home or part of a boarding home, for which plans are submitted to the department of health for construction review on or after June 8, 1996; or

(ii) An addition, modification, or alteration to an existing licensed boarding home, for which plans are submitted to the department of health for construction review on or after June 8, 1996.

(A) The department may, in consultation with the office of construction review services in the department of health, exempt from selected new boarding home contract construction requirements, a limited addition, modification, or alteration to an existing licensed boarding home that will improve the quality of life for residents, if compliance with all new boarding home contract construction requirements would otherwise make the limited addition, modification, or alteration cost prohibitive. A limited addition, modification, or alteration means any physical change to an existing licensed boarding home that does not affect the structural integrity of the building, does not affect fire and life safety, and does not increase the boarding home's maximum facility capacity as defined in WAC 388-78A-2020.

(B) A major addition, modification, or alteration to an existing licensed boarding home must meet new boarding home contract construction requirements for applicable portions of the building. A major addition, modification, or alteration means any physical change within a room or area in an existing licensed boarding home that results in reconstruction to structural or other building systems.

(b) All boarding homes that are not new boarding homes under subsection (2)(a) of this section, are existing boarding homes. An existing building, or portion thereof, that is converted to boarding home use must be considered an existing boarding home unless there is an addition, modification or alteration to the existing building.

(3) If a boarding home submitted plans to the department of health for construction review on or after June 8, 1996, and the boarding home had an assisted living contract as of September 1, 2004, then the boarding home is "grandfathered" under the contracting rules for structural requirements that were in effect at the time of contracting and is considered to meet the assisted living structural requirements of subsection (1) of this section. However, if the same boarding home submits plans to the department of health for construction review for an addition, modification or alteration of the boarding home after September 1, 2004, then the boarding home must meet the current new boarding home requirements of subsection (1) for the applicable portions of the building.

(4) Married couples may share an apartment-like unit under an assisted living contract if:

(a) Both residents understand they are each entitled to live in a separate private unit; and

(b) Both residents mutually request to share a single apartment-like unit.

(5) In a new boarding home, the contractor must provide a private accessible mailbox in which the resident may receive mail.

(6) The contractor must provide homelike smoke-free common areas with sufficient space for socialization designed to meet resident needs. Common areas must be available for resident use at any time provided such use does not disturb the health or safety of other residents. The contractor must make access to outdoor areas available to all residents.

(7) The contractor must provide a space for residents to meet with family and friends outside the resident's living unit.

(8) The department may grant an exemption to the requirements of this section as they apply to a specified resident when it is in the best interest of the specific resident.

PURPOSE

WAC 388-145-0010 What is the purpose of this chapter? The department issues or denies a license on the basis of compliance with licensing requirements. This chapter defines general and specific licensing requirements for emergency respite centers. Unless noted otherwise, these requirements apply to people who want to be licensed or relicensed to provide facility-based emergency respite care.

The department is committed to ensuring that children who receive emergency respite care experience health, safety, and well-being. We want these children's experiences to be beneficial to them not only in the short term, but also in the long term. Our licensing requirements reflect our commitment to children.
